SCENE IN THE SOUTH

GIs Stop Ole Miss Riot, Negro Starts Classes

Two Dead, Scores Hurt In Race Crisis

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI)—Negro James Meredith registered today at the Universtiy of Mississippi and began attending classes on a campus littered with the debris of a major riot that took two lives and injured at least 75 persons.

"It is not a happy occasion," he said.

About 400 U.S. deputy marshals and 1,000 federal troops guarded the campus as the 29-year-old Negro cracked the segregation barriers of the 114-year-old school.

The campus was brought under military control early today but the rioting spread to downtown Oxford and at least one soldier was hurt in a barrage of rocks, timbers and pop bottles before the crowd was dispersed with tear gas and reinforcements were brought in.

Meredith, whose determination to desegregate "Ole Miss" brought about a conflict that threatened to rock the federal union, walked solemnly to an American colonial history class at 9 a.m. (CST) to shouts of "nigger, nigger" and "was it worth two deaths?"

He was accompanied to the classes by three deputy marshals and U.S. Department of Justice representative Ed Guthman.

The Negro was met at the registrar's office by University registrar Robert B. Ellis who handed him a stack of forms. The historic occasion was concluded quietly.

Meredith, who caught a whiff of the tear gas that clouded the campus early today, rubbed his eyes occasionally.

President John F. Kennedy, who caught only four hours sleep during the troubled night, was in close touch with the situation. His radio-television appeal to the students last night failed to quell rioting that broke out when the campus and town learned that Meredith, turned away three times, had been brought onto the campus.

LITTER ON CAMPUS

The campus, littered today with burned out automobiles, spent tear gas grenades, broken glass and other assorted rubble, was under virtual martial law. An estimated 400 U.S. marshals and 1,000 federal troops kept a firm grip on the order.

The normally sleepy college town of Oxford was in the same conditions by noon today. Truckloads of troops roared toward courthouse square to put down a fresh outbreak of rioting that threatened to continue throughout the day.

ONE INJURED

At least one soldier was reported injured in the downtown rioting when a pop bottle hit him about the head and shoulders. The crowd of several hundred, apparently mostly young people, was made even furious by the fact that the troops trying to keep order included a number of Negroes.

At least 75 persons were arrested last night and early today, including a Decatur, Ga., man, Melvin Bruce, 24, identified as a frequent companion of members of the American Nazi Party. He was accused by military authorities of sniping at the marshals last night with a powerful rifle.

THE DEAD

The dead were identified as Paul Guihard, correspondent for the French news agency, who was found dead of a bullet wound in the back, and Ray Gunter, 23, an Oxford resident.

Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, who resigned his Army commission under fire for his rightist viewpoints, was seen during the rioting congratulating the students. He reappeared downtown this morning in a big, white Texas hat and began shaking hands but was ushered out of courthouse square at bayonet point.

Walker, who commaned federal troops that former Dwight D. Eisenhower sent to Little Rock during the school integration crisis in 1957, said he

Gen. Walker Is Arrested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy announced the arrest today of former Army Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker on charges of inciting a rebellion or insurrection.

Kennedy said Walker was arrested at a military roadblock near Oxford, Miss., and would be arraigned later today.

Earlier in the Senate Walker, who had participated in the rioting at the University of Mississippi, was described as possibly a "sick man" who "ought to be committed" and was linked with "violent segregationists or psychopaths."

Kennedy said these charges also have been filed against Walker:

Conspiracy to incite a rebellion or insurrection.

Assaulting a federal officer.

Justice Department officials said the conspiracy to incite rebellion charges carries a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison and a fine of $20,000.

Execution of such conspiracy, as distinguished, involves a maximum penalty of 10 years and $10,000, they said.

The penalty for conspiring to hinder a federal officer could be up to five years in prison and $6,000 and for assaulting a federal officer could be three years and $5,000.

The Justice Department said Walker's arrest came at about 2 p.m. on the outskirts of the strifetorn college town of Oxford, Miss., and an immediate arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Omar Craig was being arranged.

Sen. Wayne Morse, (D-Ore.), told the Senate that if Walker led students in rioting against federal authority he should be charged with "inciting an insurrection."

"As an ex-Army officer," Morse said, "Walker's conduct is all the more reprehensible."

Sen. Stephen M. Young, (D-Ohio) told the Senate this is a time for cool heads, and not for "the rantings of violent segregationists or psychopaths such as ex-Gen. Edwin A. Walker."

Young said if Walker made the statements attributed to him, "I am glad he is an ex-general and a private citizen instead of in command of any youth in this country."

"I hold him in utmost contempt for his appearance on the campus of this great university, 'Ole Miss,' and for attempting to lead a charge of some 1,000 unruly rioters against United States marshals," Young said.

GIANT-DODGER SERIES ON TV

The remaining games of the San Francisco Giant and Los Angeles Dodger playoff series will be televised on KTVU (channel 2).

Tomorrow's game from Dodger Stadium will be televised starting at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday's game, if necessary, will start at 12:30 p.m., also from Dodger Stadium.

Marin City Boy, 10, Woman, 80, Drown At Marin Shores

A child and an elderly woman drowned in Marin Saturday.

Ten-year-old John A. Marbury Jr. of Marin City lost his life when he reportedly slipped off an inner tube on which he was floating 20 feet off shore of the A.G. Schoonmaker Co. property in Sausalito.

Mrs. Freda Smith, 80, of Sacramento, died after she fell into the water while fishing from a small boat at the mouth of Dillon's Bay.

The Marbury boy, a fourth grader at Richardson Bay School in Sausalito, had gone into the water with a friend, James Porter, 14, also of Marin City. John could not swim; James could. John took an inflated tube into the water as a buoy.

At about 2:30 p.m., Tommy Thomas, 12, of Sausalito, playing nearby on the shore with his friend, Kenny Harris, 12, of Mill Valley, noticed that John's inner tube was bobbing on the water with no sign of the boy.

Police and firemen were called.

Police Chief Howard Goerndt, with assistance of police reserve Thomas L. Brown of Mill Valley and LeRoy French of San Rafael, recovered John's body after skin diving for about one hour.

The boy is survived by his mother, Mrs. John A. Marbury Sr., who lives at 107 Drake Avenue; his father, an x-ray technician in Los Angeles; two brothers, Victor, 11, and Ambrose, 8, and a sister, Helen, 7.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Bryant and Osborne Funeral Directors, San Francisco.

An autopsy was to be held today at Parent Funeral Home in Petaluma where Mrs. Smith was taken after she was pronounced dead at Lawson's Landing at Dillon Beach. Funeral services will be held in Sacramento.

Sheriff's deputies reported that Mrs. Smith was fishing at 1:30 p.m. with her son-in-law, Jack Stanley, also of Sacramento. Waves capsized their 14-foot boat and another small boat in which Mrs. Smith's son-in-law, George Bushden, was riding nearby.

Mrs. Smith was unable to swim. The men righted one of the boats, pulled Mrs. Smith from the water and placed her in it.

Merle Lawson, operator of Lawson's Landing, rescued the party. Mrs. Smith was given artificial resuscitation.

Mrs. Smith was pronounced dead on the landing by a doctor who had also been at Dillon's Beach fishing.

Mrs. Smith was alive when pulled from the water but was believed to have died for lack of resuscitation and medical aid.

Kentfield Duplexes Denied By Planners

Strongly protested requests to build duplexes and apartment houses along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield were denied today by the Marin County Planning Commission.

More than 25 residents of the single-family residential area objected to the multiple zoning. During the noisy hearing, Chairman William Upton had to ask the protestants several times to "refrain from such enthusiastic demonstrations."

Action on rezoning requests by Donald Day, 838 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, and other residents was continued from previous hearings for consideration of architectural control if rezoning were to be granted.

But Sydney Shaw, planning staff member, said sufficient control could not be exercised over future development, and new apartments would create more traffic congestion on the boulevard.

Attorney Leland H. Jordan, representing protesting homeowners, suggested: "A firm upholding of single family zoning might cause general improvements in those few places which are not well kept."

The commission unanimously denied two petitions for zoning and denied a third such request by a 5-to-2 vote. Commissioners George Scott and Edward K. Wachsman voting in favor.

Commission Rules Out Point Reyes Business Zone

Commercial zoning for property on the Point Reyes Peninsula was unanimously denied today by the Marin County Planning Commission.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs told commissioners: "Rezoning is a function of time and events . . . This is not yet the time for commercial development in that area, and events have occurred which make it unlikely people will be living close by, since the Point Reyes National Seashore has been approved and the president has asked for funds to buy the land.

"Any rezoning is now an academic question."

In August, Benjamin P. Bonelli, attorney for developers of Drake Beach Estates, asked for a showdown on the rezoning request if the national seashore did not become a sure thing before October.

Bonelli was not present at today's final hearing on the rezoning.

Little Rock Was A Skirmish

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Relman Morin won a second Pulitzer Prize for his coverage of the 1957 Little Rock, Ark., desegregation crisis. At that time, Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker was in charge of troops enforcing federal court orders. Morin compares the Walker of 1957 with the Walker of 1962 and the two different situations.)

By RELMAN MORIN

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Little Rock was a skirmish. Oxford is a war.

The riots just five years ago in the capital of Arkansas were ugly and dangerous. In Oxford, the ugliness and danger is magnified to a gigantic scale.

ONE IRONY

And one of the ironies of the situation here is that former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who commanded the federal troops that took over Little Rock, is on the opposite side of the fence here.

Walker whipped up the students and others on the campus of the University of Mississippi last night, when it became know that James H. Meredith, Negro, was on the campus.

After the Little Rock riots, Walker said that he found his duty there distasteful.

PRO SOLDIER

However, at the time, he was the crisp and professional soldier who gave no sign of his feelings. He set up his command post at the corner of Central High School—the object of the riots.

The contrast is most marked

Works Bill Is Passed By Senate

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The Senate today passed 63-8 and sent to conference with the House the $5,211,271,400 public works money bill.

The Senate began debating the bill Saturday, defeating 44-16 a Republican attempt to chop 200 million dollars off the 500 million dollars carried in the bill for job-making projects in distressed areas.

This 500-million dollar allotment was included under the 900-million dollar emergency public works authorization requested by President John F. Kennedy and sent to him by Congress Sept. 10.

The bill contains $1,060,000,000 for rivers and harbors and flood control projects, 338-million dollars for reclamation works, $3,153,000,000 for the Atomic Energy Commission, and several minor allowances.

As passed by the senate, the bill exceeded the House total by 597 million dollars but was 440 million dollars less than Kennedy's budget requests.

Boat Wreckage Found Off Coast

The Coast Guard said the wreckage of the 32-foot fishing boat North Wind was found today six miles northwest of Point Reyes.

The owner, Hilden C. Rogers, 30, was the only person aboard when the North Wind left its home port, Bodega Bay, at 6 a.m. yesterday for San Francisco.

Last evening wreckage, identified as from the North Wind, washed up on the beach from Point Reyes northward for three miles.

Veterinarian Dies; Auto Avoided Cat

A San Rafael veterinarian swerved his car early yesterday to avoid hitting a cat, cut his head when it struck a car window, and died three hours later after first refusing hospitalization.

An autopsy today failed to disclose a cause of death.

Dr. James Henry Willmore, 53, of 83 Bret Harte Road, owner of Willmore's Pet Hospital in Larkspur, was found by Police Officer Gerald Souza at 1:33 a.m. yesterday lying beside Bret Harte Road, about 50 yards from where his pickup truck hung over an embankment, its front wheels on the shoulder of the road.

Police were called by Jack W. Liljeberg of 301 Bret Harte Road, who was awakened by some youths who saw the truck dangling over the edge of the road. Several neighbors meantime arrived and covered Willmore with a blanket.

Willmore told the officer he had swerved his truck to avoid hitting a cat. The truck slipped off the road, and as he attempted to get it back on the street, the rear end dropped over the edge of the embankment. He cut his head against a window of the truck.

He refused to be taken to a hospital until urged by Souza and others. He walked to the patrol car, and walked into the emergency room at San Rafael General Hospital. He was admitted to the hospital, and died at 4:45 a.m.

Dr. David Johnson, who attended him, said the injury might have contributed to a heart attack, but no cause of death was apparent. Dr. Henry J. Plumhof, who performed the autopsy, said there was no visible cause of death. A pathological report was awaited.

"We are not listing this as a traffic death, pending the pathological report," said Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

Willmore had resided in Marine County for 36 years and had been a doctor of veterinary medicine for 20 years. He was born in Preston, Idaho.

He was a member of the Marin County Veterinarians Assn., Marin County Humane Society, Redwood Empire Veterinarian Assn., California Camellia Society, and Latter-Day Saints Church.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Latter-Day Saints chapel in Greenbrae. Inurnment will be in Preston, Idaho. Friends may call at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael, until 9 p.m. tomorrow.

The family prefers that tributes be contributions to the Diabetic Youth Foundation, 1429 Fourth Avenue, San Francisco.

WOUNDED IN OXFORD RIOT—State highway patrolman Wibley Brunt is rolled into a hospital in Jackson, Miss., after he was flown there from Oxford where he was wounded by a tear-gas shell during rioting on the University of Mississippi campus. Two persons were killed in the rioting. Early today federal troops took over the campus and drove off rioters. (AP Wirephoto)

Duty To Call Troops, JFK Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy declared it was his inescapable duty to call out troops when Mississippi defied court orders to enroll a Negro at the state university.

Grim, yet conciliatory at times, the president said last night in a short radio-television address to the nation that he hoped it would be unnecessary to use troops, even though conciliation and persuasion had failed to obtain admission of James H. Meredith.

After his address, Kennedy sat beside the telephone in his office getting up-to-the-minute reports on rioting, gunfire and teargas sweeping across the university campus at Oxford — and the arrival on the scene of federal military reinforcements.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and several members of the White House staff kept the vigil with the chief executive.

Courts of law, all the way up to the Supreme Court, Kennedy said in his speech, ordered Meredith's admission into the university. When the orders were defied and those who tried to carry them out were threatened with arrest and violence, the U. S. Court of Appeals "made clear the fact that the enforcement of its order had become an obligation of the United States government."

"Even though this government had not originally been a party to the case," the chief executive said, "my responsibility as president was therefore inescapable. I accept it.

"I deeply regret the fact that any action by the executive branch was necessary in this case but all other avenues and alternatives, including persuasion and conciliation, had been tried and exhausted."

A peaceful and sensible solution would have been possible without federal intercession, Kennedy said, had Mississippi's police powers been used to support court orders instead of "deliberately and unlawfully blocking them" and had the university quietly admitted Meredith.

Kennedy said students have been admitted, regardless of race, to universities in nine other Southern states.

The president had put off his address for two and one-half hours, from 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. In the interval, U. S. marshals had installed Meredith on the Ole Miss campus and governor, Ross Barnett, had acknowledged "we are physically overpowered."

Barnett, who had been cited for contempt for spurning court orders to permit Meredith's enrollment, still protested hotly that the federal government was destroying the Constitution and trampeling on state sovereignty.

But he said in a statement he abhored prospects of bloodshed and was urging all Mississippians and instructing state officers to "do everything in their power to preserve peace and to avoid violence in any form."

Kennedy avoided any dressing down of Barnett by name. As he spoke students at the university were ignoring the governor's appeal to avoid violence.

Kennedy closed his talk with an appeal of his own to the students to uphold the law and accede with honor to the admission of a Negro in their midst.

Goldberg Takes Place On Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy took time out from the crisis at the University of Mississippi today to attend the opening of the new term of the Supreme Court.

Both the president and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, were present as Kennedy's appointee, Arthur J. Goldberg, took the oath as associate justice.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, six other Cabinet officers and many high government officials also were present.

Goldberg moved to the court from the post of secretary of labor.

Goldberg first took the constitutional oath in the justices' private conference room. Only the other justices were present.

The judges then entered the court with Goldberg taking a seat at the desk of the court clerk.

Chief Justice Earl Warren announced the retirement of Associate Justice Felix Frankfurter, paying tribute to him for his long service. Warren then announced that Goldberg had been named to replace Frankfurter, and Goldberg stepped forward to take the oath.

The whole ceremony took only six and one-half minutes. The president left almost immediately after it was over.

After the opening ceremonies, Warren turned quickly to routine business. The first item was the admission of 45 attorneys to practice before the Supreme Court.

After an 18-minute opening session, the court recessed until next Monday.

Goldberg's wife, son and daughter were in the marble courtroom when the new justic, wearing the black silk robe of the office, swore to administer justice equally, without respect to persons.

He is Kennedy's second appointment to the Supreme Court. His first, Byron R. White, was sworn in April 16.

This session, with a particularly heavy docket and expected to produce some momentous decisions, likely will tell whether their judicial views are liberial, conservative or somewhere in between.

At 54, Goldberg, son of Jewish immigrants, will be the third youngest member of the court. Justice Potter Stewart at 47 and Justice White at 45 are the youngest.

Goldberg joins the high tribunal when its dockets are crammed with more than 1,000 cases and some are certain to produce momentous decisions.

The court, for instance, will decide on:

The constitutionality of Bible reading and the saying of the Lord's Prayer in public schools.

The final outcome of sit-in racial demonstrations in the South.

Fixing of new standards for reapportionment of legislative districts in the states.

Before going on vacation last June 25, the court set up the heavy preliminary work load by agreeing to hear 83 appeals early in its new term. Among these are 12 cases argued last term and held over for reargument in the new term, presumably because the justices were unable to reach agreement.

As the 94th man to sit on the Supreme Court, Goldberg will serve with appointees of four presidents.

Two of the justices were named by Franklin D. Roosevelt—Hugo Black and William O. Douglas. Justice Tom C. Clark was appointed by President Harry Truman. Four are appointees of Dwight D. Eisenhower — Warren, John M. Harlan, William J. Brennan and Stewart.

13TH ANNIVERSARY

Moscow Snubs Red China Fete

TOKYO (AP) — The Soviet Union snubbed Red China's massive 13th anniversary celebration today, underlining the continuing rift between the giants of communism.

More than 500,000 persons marched through the Square of Heavenly Peace in Peiping, but not a single Soviet official of importance sat in the reviewing stand with Chinese leader Mao Tze-tung.

Evidence of continuing tension in Peiping's relations with Moscow was coupled with admissions of shortcomings and mistakes on the home front — and a hint that a purge of some size is continuing.

The People's Daily, official organ of the party, said "in the past year, the class struggle our people experienced at home and internationally has been extremely complicated and acute."

The ideological dispute dividing Red China and the Soviet Union was aggravated last week by the visit of Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev to Yugoslavia, a constant target of Chinese Communist criticism.

Premier Chou En-lai in a speech last night lumped "modern revisionists" — apparently meaning Yugoslav President Tito and perhaps Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev — together with the United States, imperialists and reactionaries who said were trying to isolate Red China and force her to change her policies. Chou said such a campaign would never succeed.

The attack continued today in the keynote speech of Vice Premier-Foreign Minister Chen Yi in Peiping's Red Square. He called for unity in a struggle against "U. S. imperialist policies of aggression and war," an apparent dig at what Peiping considers a soft Soviet policy of peaceful coexistence with the West.

Khrushchev sent the usual telegram of congratulations, but he and other ranking Soviet leaders boycotted a rally in Moscow.

On domestic matters Chou En-lai told a Peiping reception last night, "The serious natural disasters for the three consecutive years from 1958 to 1961 and the shortcomings and mistakes in our work have indeed caused us difficulties."

Two Tropical Storms May Peril Space Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Two major storms — tropical storm Daisy in the Atlantic and typhoon Dinah in the Pacific—posed possible threats today to Walter M. Schirra Jr.'s projected six-orbit space flight, scheduled tomorrow.

Daisy was an immediate threat. Dinah was not expected to cause trouble unless the shot is delayed.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported officials are keeping a close watch on the two weather systems.

Daisy boiled up 420 miles east of Puerto Rico yesterday and the San Juan Weather Bureau reported winds up to 50 miles an hour in a small area near the center. The storm was following a course which would create a heavy sea problem Wednesday near Grand Turk Island, the ocean area where Schirra would land if trouble forced his flight to be terminated after three orbits.

Dinah was reported in the Pacific southeast of Japan. It could bring rough weather to the fifth and sixth orbits — east and northeast of Midway Island.

T-H Law Invoked In Port Stoppage

NEW YORK (AP)—Longshoremen quit work on Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports today after their contract expired. Within 10 hours, President John F. Kennedy invoked the Taft-Hartley Act in an attempt to end the work stoppage.

The presidential action, the first step in Taft-Hartley machinery, appeared to be the only immediate likelihood of bringing the unionized longshoremen back to docks from New England to Texas.

Prospects for quick agreement of a new work contract seemed remote.

The White House said Kennedy would create a board of inquiry to report to him by Thursday on the nature and scope of the work stoppage. On the basis of the board's report, the President will decide whether to order the usual 80-day cooling off period.

NEW SKI LODGE? NO, IT'S A BANK

Getting finishing touches in San Rafael's Northgate Shopping Center is unusual all-steel, A-frame building to house Terra Linda branch of Wells Fargo Bank. A week ago the bank site was just a slab on the ground. Basic structure was completed in three days, using materials prefabricated by Butler Manufacturing Co. in Richmond. The bank is scheduled to open about Oct. 20.

Negro In Classes; Rioting Put Down

came here to take the other side and protest the use of federal force.

The campus rioting lasted more than eight hours and reached almost unbelievable heights. Many of the rioters were believed to be self-appointed vigilantes from the nearby countryside and from other parts of Mississippi and neighboring states.

Many were armed and bullets and shot whizzed across the campus much of the night.

One group of men tied down the accelerator of an automobile, jumped out and let it go in an attempt to mow down a group of marshals. It crashed into a tree before anyone was harmed.

The rioting in downtown Oxford this morning threatened for a time to become as violent and bloody but sufficient numbers of troops rushed in and, using time-honored riot control techniques, boxed the troublemakers into courthouse square.

Troops set up a skirmish line between downtown Oxford and the campus area and began moving in battle position along the line clearing it of anyone who seemed to be a troublemaker.

Troops in squad-sized groups moved outward from the skirmish line, clearing a wide area. Three soldiers jumped the hedge at the First Presbyterian Church and skirted across the lawn in the familiar stooped crouch of a soldier in an enemy town.

Presently troops began moving back to the square with young teen-agers marching reluctantly ahead of them. Eight were placed under arrest within 15 minutes.

Roving bands of young toughs, some of them beneath college age and some above, walked the streets, many of them carried rocks and clubs. There was no effort by local police, the sheriff's office or the state patrol to stop them although several patrol cars were observed passing by the groups.

The youths usually travelled in groups of about eight or 10 and walked the wide sidewalks of the downtown area in a belligerent manner.

Troops fired about a half-dozen shots over the heads of one group of youthful rock throwers.

Before the order to fire the tear gas was given Army truck's windshield was shattered by a large rock and a man leaped on a balcony to drop a big timber on a passing truck.

Tear gas flowed across courthouse square, where advancing lines of troops had pinned the rioters, and choking clouds of gas seeped into stores.

Smoking Tree A Puzzler

At 8 a.m., Ralph O. Boyer of 1 Corte Cordova in Greenbrae called the Kentfield Fire Department to report a passing boy had informed him the trunk of a large oak tree on his property at the corner of Los Cerros Drive was giving off smoke.

Firemen arrived to find not only a smoking tree, but a concrete curb beside it which was "red hot."

But there was no sign of a fire.

After digging at the base of the tree for two hours without finding the source of the smoke, firemen called Pacific Gas and Electric Co. A crew from the utility company reported the smouldering apparently was caused by the tree's roots breaking an underground street light cable and causing a short-circuit. They took up digging where the firemen left off, seeking the break.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed sharply lower today in moderate trading.

Final prices were about the day's worst as a progressive decline met little in the way of support.

IBM was off about a dozen points in late dealings. Losses of about 5 apiece were shown by Xerox and Polaroid. Litton Industries dropped more than 2 and Texas Instruments more than 3.

The news background remained spotty and some analysts believed the market was headed for a test of the 1962 lows.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3.4 million shares compared with 2.85 million Friday.

SKIRMISH

by the size of the operations here. In Little Rock, it was largely quiet if you were three or four blocks from the school. In Oxford, there is little quiet anywhere. On the contrary, there is a brooding sense of disaster.

Several days ago, Walker said he planned to lead "tens of thousands" of volunteers to aid the cause of Gov. Ross Barnett.

But his only troops last night were a band of students and other persons whom he led in a charge on the positions of the federal marshals.

They got within 100 feet but the tear gas fumes repelled them.

Later, Walker was giving demonstrators advice on how to counteract the acrid tear gas fumes.

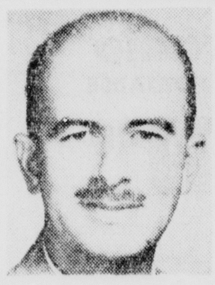
Walker marched ahead of a file of soldiers as though he were their inspecting officer.

Finally, an Army officer asked him to move. He refused. The officer ordered several soldiers carrying rifles with bayonets alongside Walker.

The soldiers held their bayonets within inches of the former general, but did not touch him. The officer said something to Walker and he walked off through the crowd.

Later today, Walker was arrested at a roadblock.



Muscular Paralysis Often Caused By Defective Spine

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Most of us are familiar with muscles like the biceps and triceps in the upper arm, and the thigh and calf muscles, but few of us are aware that there are nearly 700 muscles in the human body. The great majority of these are in pairs evenly distributed from scalp to toes and fingertips.

The muscles which move or act when we want them to are known as the striped muscles. They are the visible muscles which cover the body surface and the limbs. Some muscle tissue, however, is subject to the commands of nature only, and these are the smooth muscles. The heart muscle is a good example because it keeps on working under the guidance of nature whether we're asleep or awake, conscious or unconscious.

All muscles rely on the nervous system for the source of their power. A vast network of nerves supplies every single muscle with vital energy from the brain. The nerve supply to a group of muscles sometimes will fail and paralysis occurs.

The cause of the failure often will be found in the spine where a spinal bone (vertebra) has been pushed out of line. The misplaced bone may be pinching the nerve which supplies the paralyzed muscle. Fortunately, such conditions often can be corrected by Chiropractic.

Chirocractors are specialists in finding and correcting nerve interference in the spine painlessly and efficiently by means of hand adjustments. If the interference is corrected in time, before permanent damage can occur, the nerve once again will convey its full quota of power to the affected muscle. The paralyzed muscles then will regain much, if not all, of their former strength and usefulness.

Dr. R. W. Pearce, D.C., practices the Palmer Method. His office is at 1628 Fifth Ave., San Rafael, GL 3-6201 (Adv.)

Stuart Lloyd Jones, the Plymouth town clerk and his wife, were guests of Capt. and Mrs. A. S. Oko at Point Reyes Station. They visited the site where it is believed Drake careened the Golden Hind and made a 36-day encampment in 1579, and were feted at a cocktail party and buffet attended by Marin officials, including county supervisors and county clerk. Captain Oko is president of the Drake Navigators Guild.

County Clerk George H. Gnoss, whose position here in many respects corresponds with that of Lloyd Jones in Plymouth, was among those finding special interest in the copies of old town records.

Plymouth is a city of 212,000 population, which earned the title of "the City That Refused to Die," in its rebuilding after destruction by German Luftwaffe blitz attacks in World War II.

Lloyd Jones, besides the usual duties of town clerk, is a clerk of courts, returning officer for parliamentary divisions, and civil defense group controller for parts of Devon and Cornwall as well as Plymouth itself. He is in the United States to study local government and urban renewal, under the U.S. State Department's foreign leader program.

Plymouth, whence Drake sailed to defeat the Spanish Armada in 1588, dedicated a new 14-story civic center on July 22 of this year, with Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip officiating. Lloyd Jones was much interested in the very different civic center designed for Marin County by Frank Lloyd Wright, which is to be dedicated Oct. 13.

Scouts To Get Flag

A flag which has flown over the Capitol in Washington will be presented to Boy Scout Troop 11, Kentfield, at a court of honor to be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the Adaline E. Kent School. Scoutmaster Paul C. Mills announced today.

5-To-Life Given In Novato Holdup

John Henry Hill, 27, a janitor from Las Angeles, must spend five years to life in state prison for holding up Rayburn's Grocery in Novato on Aug. 17.

Hill held a loaded revolver on store manager Edward Fuller of Cotati and got away with almost $900 in cash. He pleaded guilty to first degree robbery. Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court today sentenced Hill to state prison.

Two other men, suspected of staging the holdup with Hill, are also accused of first degree robbery.

Cable Failure Cuts Power To 3,500, Radio

The power failure blacked out the Point San Pedro area and KTIM at 4:02 p.m. Power was not completely restored in the Marin Bay area for two hours and 26 minutes, at 6:20 p.m. Leonard Robertson, electrical superintendent for Pacific Gas and Electric Co., said power was off for 200 residents in Country Club Estates area for 53 minutes and in Bayside Acres, Loch Lomond and Glenwood subdivision for 59 minutes.

KTIM was affected, he said, because the station's transmitter on Point San Pedro Road feeds off the same electrical line.

Robertson said electrical crews, slowed down by the Sunday traffic, checked out the entire power line and finally located the bad cable in the Basalt Rock power plant. The reason for the failure, he said, is not known.

Novato Man 'Fighting Reds' Hospitalized

A Novato glazier, who wanted to barricade his home and fight off "invading Communists" with a 30-06 rifle last night, was disarmed by sheriff's deputies and sent to Napa State Hospital for observation.

William J. McKinney, 31, of 2075 Hatch Road told Sheriff's Deputies Charles Prandi and Arthur Wiggins that his wife would not go along with his plan to fight the "invasion" single-handed. He therefore cut his left wrist.

Officers took him to San Rafael General Hospital for treatment of his wrist, then sent him to Napa.

When Deputy Prandi went to the McKinney home about 10:30 p.m. and knocked on the door, McKinney shouted, "Get away from the door or I'll blow your head off!"

Finally convinced they were police officers, McKinney handed the rifle—unloaded— over to Deputy Prandi.

Flower Demonstration

A demonstration of grooming and preparing chrysanthemum blooms and plants for show competition will be given at the Oct. 8 meeting of the Chrysanthemum Society of Marin at 8 p.m. at the Crocker Anglo National Bank, Fourth and B streets, San Rafael.

132,681 Get Sabin Vaccine

Sabin oral polio vaccine, type 1, has been given to 132,681 Marinites in public clinics, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health director, announced today.

The county health office gave the sweet-tooth vaccine to 1,915 persons at the last of three "make-up days" Friday. This ran the total for the three days to 3,477.

In addition, the vaccine was given last week to 246 at St. Vincent's School for Boys, 45 at Sunny Hill Presbyterian Home, and 94 at Cedars Development School.

During K.O. Polio Sunday on Sept. 23, the sugar cube vaccine was given to 124,127 at 20 school building clinics. Prior to that, it had been given to 4,692 in advance clinics.

The grand total of 132,681 is just over 90 per cent of Marin County's 1960 census of 146,820. Latest estimate of the county's population by the state is 156,000—of whicch the total vaccinated represents about 85 per cent.

Dr. Albrecht pointed out that an unknown number of Marin residents have received the oral vaccine from private physicians, in addition to those vaccinated at the clinics.

Next K.O. Polio Sunday will be Nov. 4. Present plan is to give type 2 vaccine at that time.

Law Guild Offers Aid In Crisis

The National Lawyers Guild has offered the services of its members to assist the Department of Justice and the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People in the Mississippi integration dispute, its president, Benjamin Dreyfus of Mill Valley, announced today.

Dreyfus said the offer has been telegraphed to President John F. Kennedy and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy.

Dreyfus designated Herman Wright of Houston, Tex., vice president of the Lawyers Guild, and Benjamin Smith of New Orleans, an executive board member, to file appearances in behalf of the guild as a friend of the court backing the application of James H. Meredith for admittance to University of Mississippi.

In telegrams to Sylvester C. Smith Jr., president of the American Bar Assn., and Robert E. Lillard, president of the National Bar Assn., Dreyfus urged those associations to join the guild as friends of the court in the litigation in federal court in New Orleans.

A special committee of the guild offers legal assistance to segregation fighters in the South unable to obtain lawyers when needed, Dreyfus said.

Greenwood Beach Area Hits Trestle Glen School Site

Members of the Greenwood Beach property owners assn. plan to appear at a meeting of Tamalpais High School District trustees at 8 p.m. today to protest against choice of the 45-acre site for a new school, Mrs. Leslie J. Airth of 434 Tiburon Boulevard, announced.

She said 24 members of the association met at her home Saturday and decided on the protest. Her husband was chosen spokesman for tonight's meeting in the absence of Frederic M. Parke, president of the property owner association.

"The first we knew that this site would affect our area was when a neighbor saw a poster at the Bel Air shopping center saying not to let the new Tiburon Highway destroy the best site for the high school," she said.

She said the poster was done by hand in colored crayon and was anonymous. An aide at the high school district office said a similar poster had "been up for weeks" at the Embee Market in Tiburon.

Mrs. Airth said residents objected to a high school in the area for three reasons:

1. "Cost of the purchase would be too much.
2. "This is one of the natural coastlines left in the county.
3. "A re-routing of the Tiburon Highway would be caused and homes would be taken. One neighbor just paid $85,000 for his home."

David Van Pelt, principal planner for the Marin County planning department, said he and senior planner A'leen Runkle would present their findings on four possible Tiburon High School sites to tonight's meeting of the high school board.

"Trestle Glen is two sites, really," Van Pelt said.

He said that if the Tiburon Highway is relocated for a new San Francisco Bay crossing, the proposed high school site would be in a triangular-shaped area between the new highway and the old one. In this case, much of the Greenwood Beach area would be affected, Van Pelt and Miss Runkle said.

If the highway is rebuilt on its present line, the high school site would have to be on filled land. In this case, a smaller portion of the Greenwood Beach area would be affected, they said.

Melvin Darling Put To Death At San Quentin Gas Chamber

Melvin Darling, who asked for an early execution to pay for the murder he committed, was pronounced dead in the San Quentin gas chamber at 10:10 a.m. today.

Darling, 29, was convicted for slaying on Oct. 22, 1961, Alex T. Malcomson III, 35, a grandson of the man who originally helped finance Henry Ford.

Several months ago he petitioned San Francisco Superior Judge Gerald S. Levin to advance his date with death by a week. The judge refused.

Darling entered the gas chamber at 10 a.m. The lethal gas pellets were dropped at 10:03 a.m. and he was pronounced dead at 10:10 a.m.

During his trial Darling said he lured Malcomson to his hotel room for robbery, then shot, pistol whipped and strangled him. Darling fled to Seattle, was captured later in Long Beach, Calif.

The son of an El Cerrito housepainter, he had lived a high life by passing bad checks. But he spent most of the last 10 years in prison.

He weighed 230 pounds.

Darling cheerfully ordered his last meal, including filet mignon brochette, baked potato, asparagus tips and a banana split.

Before he died, he said he only regretted not knowing the outcome of the Dodger-Giant World series.

CAN AMERICA KEEP

THE CUP?

Our country has leadership in many fields . . . in science and invention, in business and trade, in cultural and living standards. But can we hold this lead?

Not unless we pay attention to the dilemma of higher education. The cost of leadership has gone up and colleges are in a squeeze. Many face shortages. To give us the leaders our country needs, they need modern classrooms, up-to-date science facilities and, over and above all, a steady supply of competent teachers and professors.

Teacher Can Write Editor Without Losing His Job

Just 20 months ago we called your attention in this space to a junior college teacher in Shasta County who had been dismissed from his job for writing letters to the editor.

It was a complicated case in which Jack Owens, now a Redding real estate salesman, had been dismissed not because letters he had written to a weekly newspaper were false, but because in so doing he had violated a California Teachers Association code of ethics.

He sued to get his job back, but he lost. He was found guilty of unprofessional conduct, evident unfitness for service, and dishonesty, after the judge had ruled the truth of the letters was no defense.

It was at this point we called your attention to his case in a lengthy editorial because, as we said then, "we are disturbed that a teacher can be discharged for writing a letter to the editor, a right every citizen should enjoy. We hope we haven't heard the last of the Owens case."

And we hadn't. Owens appealed and the appellate court reversed the lower court judge and ordered that Owens be given his job back. Not only that, but the State Board of Education refused to revoke his teaching credential.

So the school trustees carried the case to the State Supreme Court.

Last week, the Supreme Court refused, without comment, to act on the case, in effect, upholding the lower court and ordering Owens back into the teaching profession if he wishes to go.

Now we hope we have heard the last of the Owens case. Now we hope we've heard the last of any group which tries to silence its members. Now we hope that it is abundantly clear that a teacher, a lawyer, a doctor, a student, a bricklayer, even a newspaperman, can speak out against anything he believes wrong in or out of his profession.

Writing true letters to the editor is no more unprofessional than voting NO on a motion everyone else wants to see carried. It's a right we Americans have, thank goodness. We're proud that our slow, old mills of justice ground out the same answer that our Founding Fathers put into our Constitution.

The Well-Dressed Child

We remember a close call in our youth. Our maternal parent became unhappy because we couldn't keep our corduroy trousers up out of the mud. She came on strong for suspenders. Anguished pleadings and thoughts of fearful shame followed.

When she relented, we considered we had narrowly escaped humiliation.

Children are as bad as adults, if not worse, when it comes to aping their contemporaries. Jim and Frank feel out of things if they don't have exactly what Tom, Dick and Harry wear. And little girls have an even stronger urge to conform.

Oh my; the poor parent.

When one man accused of exerting undue influence over law-makers was asked how this abuse could be prevented, he frankly replied, "There is one way. The people must take more interest in the men they elect."

These reminders may help you realize that good government starts with you as much as with anyone:

1. Bad politicians are elected by good people who don't vote.

2. "The punishment of wise men who refuse to take part in the affairs of government is to live under the government of unwise men." (Plato)

3. Either you run government or government runs you.

4. "Governments, like clocks, go from the motion men give them, and governments are made and moved by men, so by them they are ruled also. Therefore, governments depend upon men rather than men upon governments." (William Penn)

People Of Marin Are Fine Group

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As Scoutmaster of Troop 57 of San Rafael, my troop and I were asked to help on the K.O. Polio Clinic at San Rafael High School. My dad was to collect the donations, and I would like to tell the people of this area what a really wonderful bunch of people they are.

There were so very many who would hand us $5 or $10 and refuse change. They simply said it was to help pay for those who could not pay. One man even dropped a $20 bill in and said, "I can afford it; some can't; keep it."

Small children would drop a dime or change, after their parents had paid.

Everyone was so friendly and cooperative, both the people receiving the vaccine and those who spend so many hours of their time to make this possible.

One of Ralph's Lunch-ette Wagons came up and donated drinks to the workers.

People who say that others are selfish and unfeeling are very wrong. The people of Marin County are a fine group and I am proud to be a member of such a group.

Mad Genius Has To Go

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

This is in response to Mrs. John P. McFarland's panic-stricken plea for help (I-J, 9/12) when she too was stricken with "digititis," that terrible malady that has already swept through a number of cities in the United States, and threatens to become a national epidemic.

Take heart, Mrs. McFarland. You are not alone. The Anti-Digit Dialing League hasn't been very noisy lately, but we're still in there pitching. A letter has been filed with the Public Utilities Commission demanding that we be notified of the announced investigation into the telephone company's rates and practices. (Individuals can attend this hearing also.) In addition, the legal staff of ADDL is planning to initiate separate action with the P.U.C., if necessary with the Federal Communications Commission . . .

You have already helped, Mrs. McFarland, by crying out against the "mad genius in the back room" . . .

The mad genius has led his keepers astray. He has convinced them that a public franchise is a "right" rather than a "privilege." He has scoffed at the old-fashioned notion that "phones are for people."

Well, it's sad, but he's got to go. He will have to be chained and carted away to the funny farm for disoriented computers. And the guy to do that is that fellow on the white horse with blazing armor—Sir Public Opinion.

Letter From Angry Young Woman

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

This is a letter from an angry young woman.

I've always felt that Gomez Way in Mill Valley should be improved, and now I'm more than convinced. After taking my first flop on that much to be desired street, I feel it my civic duty to suggest what everyone knows it should have—steps for pedestrians.

As it is now, I am not the first, and I'm sure I'm not the last to have this improperly designed roadway to "come up and meet me face to face."

When I see the way Miller Avenue has been improved, it makes me very proud to be a resident of Mill Valley. I would like to feel the same way about Gomez Way.

It was not constructed right in the first place, and there is no good reason why that should not be changed.

I'm In Love With Phone Company

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I AM IN LOVE WITH THE TELEPHONE COMPANY!!!

Since 1957 here in Tiburon I have waited for direct distance dialing. Why, I even signed a petition requesting they hurry up and give us better service. Finally September 16, 1962 arrived, and I think it is wonderful.

The telephone company has given me independence to dial wherever I wish without having to go through the operator. I enjoy being independent and find that I can concentrate for the few seconds it takes to dial correctly.

Let those that want to go back to Operator, go back. I am going forward.

To be a truly successful pitcher in the big leagues, a man must have a streak of meanness in his makeup: be willing to "dust a batter off" by aiming a fast one directly at his Adam's apple, thereby preventing him from taking too free a cut at succeeding pitches.

No hurler in recent baseball history, with the possible exception of Sal Maglie (who pitched them so close he was nicknamed "Sal the Barber") has been a fiercer competitor than Early Wynn. Even Ted Williams, one of the greatest batters of them all, tightened up a bit when he faced Early Wynn at the plate. In fact, he wouldn't invite Wynn (though they were old friends off the diamond) to go fishing with him at his Everglades camp until he had retired from active competition on the diamond. "No hitter would take a chance going into swamps like that with a pitcher like Early Wynn," explained Williams. "His body might never be found!"

Don't boast about your grandchildren. We all have a caseful of photographs in our handbags, too. 4. (And most important): Don't discuss love. What was, WAS!"

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

It Was Just One Of Those Weeks, Drab, With A Cold Winter Ahead

If you want to know the truth, last week was drab.

Summer, which never came, went. Then the rains came and the roof we so carefully patched, leaked.

On Wednesday, thinking we would sing high sing ho, we went for a "Cruise With Lewis." Met Belvedere's Bing Rey and rainkeeper Dr. John H. Flint, who both predicted "a cold winter coming." Why? we asked.

"It's because there's such a good crop of acorns and berries this year," they said. That's scientific enough for me, we replied, but not very cheerful.

On Thursday we met Joe Zapella, the old man of the mountain, who said summer this year was the two middle weeks of September.

On top of everything else, we learned Friday that the birds know about the cold winter. And this is scarey.

OUR COLLEAGUE, Maybelle Speckmann, said she was reading of lore in her woodsy home at 10 o'clock at night when she suddenly heard a tapping at her windowpane.

This is quite unusual, said Mrs. Speckmann to Mr. Speckmann, and they put down their books and went to the window. There was a "little brown drab bird" fluttering as if it had to get in.

Of course, now I realize it was cold and wanted to come in for the winter, but the Speckmann's didn't realize this. They didn't let it in.

The next night and the next night and the next they looked at it with a flashlight roosting in the rafters of their home. "Just a little brown drab bird all alone in the world," said Maybelle.

It was heartening to hear that Mrs. Shirley West of Sausalito and her sculptor husband had produced a new West—September Ann. "I'm from Ohio," said Mrs. West, "and I miss the seasons, so we named the baby September."

But, alas, the wooden Indian which stood before The Kettle on Bridgeway in Sausalito, and which West sculpted, has been stolen by vandals. It was yanked off, leaving only its wooden feet cemented to the sidewalk. Kettle owner Leo Trikorian offers $50 reward for its return.

MRS. CALVIN TERWILLIGER, registering her child's one-wheel bike at the police station, was lamenting that while her family was on vacation someone went into their garage and stole the wheel off the bike.

But no one can really dampen Mrs. Terwilliger's enthusiasm. She pulled us out to her autobus and showed us a metal stick she had purchased and now being used by Little Leaguers to pick up papers in parks. "Idiot sticks," they call them, she said, and they are used by the National Park Service. "The kids love to use them," she added and, they keep the parks clean.

GEORGE MONARDO has offered Manny Gomez $10 if he can climb "Mill Valley's Half Dome." He refers to the big cut in the mountain near Cushing Drive in Blithedale Canyon.

"I don't think Gomez can do it," said Monardo.

REX, THE LAST of a clan of 10 Boxer and Norwegian Elkhounds, who was born in the Sausalito firehouse, is no more.

Going on 16 years, Rex, along with his friend, Inky, are undoubtedly in dog heaven. Fireman Slue Cardwell is the guy who took such good care of them and gave them a birthday party each year.

AND A MAN reported to the Mill Valley police that the trees near the doorway to the Chamber of Commerce office were falling down. Those short, funny trees can't fall down. They're not tall enough.

But, it was one of those weeks. Drab.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Michigan's Political Winds Are Blowing Strongly Republican

DETROIT—The winds of political change are stirring here in Michigan.

The way the barometer now reads, it would not be surprising if they blew the 14-year rule of the Democratic Party right through the roof of the State House in Lansing.

The man who is working the bellows with vigor is a mature, experienced political novice who is running for governor like a professional.

He is throwing a terrific scare into the once-secure camp of his Democratic opponent, John B. Swainson, who was elected governor two years ago after six successive victories by his predecessor, G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams, in this once heavily Republican state.

YOU MAY HAVE heard the name. It is George Romney, the former compact-car manufacturer who revolutionized the American automobile market and may be in the process of turning Michigan politics upside down—or right side up—whichever way you look at it.

I am not saying that this crucial Michigan campaign is over; it isn't. What I am reporting is:

That Romney is in the lead and most Democratic leaders privately concede the fact.

That the tide of voter sentiment continues toward Romney, not away from him.

That many undecided Democratic voters and the great majority of independents are switching to the Republican nominee. It is with these voters that the balance of power on election day will rest.

THIS IS A TIDY budget of assets. At this stage every index of public opinion puts Romney in the lead. The first Detroit News polls showed Gov. Swainson leading Romney 47 per cent to 42 per cent, with 11 per cent undecided. The latest shows Romney leading Swainson 50.6 to 48.8, with .2 per cent other parties, and only .5 per cent undecided.

The significance of these findings is not merely that Romney has moved ahead—in fact could win the election as of today—but that he has gained the support of the uncommitted voters in a ratio of 4-to-1 over Gov. Swainson. In every election contest in which Swainson has been engaged, the Detroit News poll has accurately predicted the outcome.

WHILE THERE is no doubt that Romney has contributed solidly to the progress of his own campaign, he is also the beneficiary of a widespread popular mood that, after 14 years of Democratic governorships; it is "time for a change."

Michigan unemployment is higher than the national average, it has not been attracting its logical share of new industry. The state's finances have been crisis-laden for years. Governor Swainson and the state legislature, where the Republicans have a narrow majority, have been at perpetual odds.

Romney's campaign theme is that he can win Republican legislative support for measures which will restore the state's financial health and get things moving again.

Victim Of Acid Torture Succumbs

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Hajna de Kaplany, 25, the beautiful former showgirl who was tortured with acid by her doctor husband, died last night at St. Francis Hospital.

Mrs. de Kaplany died at 11:45 p.m., a spokesman for the hospital said. The hospital had announced Wednesday that her condition took a turn for the worse.

Her husband, Dr. Geza de Kaplany, has been charged in San Jose with attempted murder, assault and mayhem.

He admitted to police, after the attack Aug. 28, that he poured acid over much of her body and stabbed her with surgical instruments. She had been undergoing preparations for plastic surgery at the hospital.

Dr. de Kaplany, 36, a former Hungarian "Freedom Fighter," said at the time of the attack he wanted to "frighten" his bride of five weeks because she was unfaithful, but she denied his accusation.

Two Car Crashes Send Six Hurt To Hospital

Two San Rafael auto crashes sent six persons to the hospital Saturday night.

Three were injured in a head-on auto collision on Francisco Boulevard near Medway Street, San Rafael.

Mrs. Alice Madden, 51, of R-91, Hilarita Housing, Tiburon, was in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital after being treated for facial cuts.

Treated for an injured left elbow was James Benton Madden, 55, driver of the car in which his wife was riding. Norman Riella, 18, of 203 Picnic Avenue, San Rafael, was treated for a cut on his face.

California Highway Patrolmen cited Madden for driving on the wrong side of the road. His car collided with that of Roger Steven, 19, of 4 Dorian Way, San Rafael at 8:10 p.m., officers said.

Another collision also sent three persons to San Rafael General hospital.

Judy Christiani, 18, of Apt. 2, 1315 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, was treated for a bumped forehead; Gladys Abbey, 50, of 800 San Pedro Road, San Rafael, was treated for pains in her face, and Roger Miller of 4 Darien Way, San Rafael, for injuries to both knees.

Highway patrolmen said Lloyd William Altman, 51, of 2279 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, was headed west on San Pedro Road near Loch Lomond Yacht Harbor when he made a left turn into a driveway, which caused the car driven by Jeffrey Alan Reseigh, 19, of Oakland, headed east, to strike Altman's car broadside at 10:30 p.m.

Man Prevented From Span Leap

A 43-year-old Strawberry man was prevented from jumping off the Golden Gate Bridge early today by a California Highway Patrol officer who grabbed him off the railing and wrestled him to the sidewalk.

Officer Merval G. Williams said he was on patrol at 3:30 a.m. when he saw Jack Wesley Newman of 107 Strawberry Drive standing on the west rail of the bridge in mid-span. Newman's car was parked nearby.

Williams jumped out of his patrol car, grabbed Newman by the arm and pulled him to the sidewalk, where Newman resisted Williams' efforts to get him in the patrol car.

Stolen Transmission, Wheels Returned

Whoever stole four wheels and a transmission valued at $300 from a 1959 two-door sedan parked at the Shell Service station on Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, last Wednesday returned them over the weekend.

The wheels, still with tires and hubcaps on them, and the transmission were found in the garbage area behind the station yesterday, said police inspector Harold N. Hockett. The car is owned by Andre Frere of 49 Key Largo Course, Corte Madera.

Clausen cancelled a scheduled appearance tonight at a meeting of the United World Federalists of Marin in the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael.

Tomorrow Clausen will address the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce at noon, devote the afternoon to visits to the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo and Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry and meet at 7 p.m. in the Edgewater Inn with the Mill Valley Lions Club.

At the Lions dinner Clausen will speak on "Needed Revisions of our Federal Tax Structure."

On Wednesday the candidate will talk informally at a number of house gatherings.

He will attend the Redwood Empire Assn. convention at Hoberg's on Friday and Saturday.

Demos Give $3,000

Marin Democrats have given $3,200 in the Dollars for Democrats drive over the last two weekends, Mrs. Nancy Westberg, drive chairman, announced today.

The total was compiled last night at the first report session and compares favorably with the first report last year, she said.

Misses Helen and Mary Henry of Corte Madera brought in $120 from the two precincts in their area which contributed only $70 last year. Mrs. Joan McKree turned in $490 from the Outer Mill Valley area which last year provided $350.

Mrs. Westberg said it would take at least another week to complete collections and determine the total contribution.

But Who's This Guy Thompson?

CHATTANOOGA, Okla. (AP)—A drive through this southwestern Oklahoma community of 350 gives one a chance more or less to brush up on his American history.

Fire Unit Meeting

A retirement program and the water problems of the Mount Tiburon subdivision will be on the agenda of the Tiburon Fire Protection District board when it meets at 8 p.m. today at the main firehouse, according to Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher.

expands the effectiveness
FOR SENIOR CITIZENS
OVER 65

Nationwide, more than 5 million citizens 65 or over already have Blue Cross protection.

Based on this experience and a comprehensive study of senior citizens' requirements, Blue Cross in Northern California is offering a new program of protection for the over-65 age group.

There are no upper age limits. No physical examinations are required.

The benefits are designed to help meet the special needs of senior citizens.

Blue Cross realizes that there will be some senior citizens who cannot afford to purchase this protection. In such cases, Blue Cross makes it possible for relatives or others to arrange the protection for them.

Blue Cross, because of its traditional concern with the costs of care to subscribers, and its direct working relationship with hospitals, has always offered outstanding value. In 1961, for instance, Blue Cross Plans as a whole returned in benefits an average of 93¢ of every dollar paid in. That's far more than the average return for other forms of health protection.

As a result, Blue Cross is the organization most preferred by Americans to help assure the payment of their hospital and medical needs. Today, 59 million in all are enrolled in Blue Cross Plans.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

It Takes Lot More Than Luck To Make Hero At Bridge Table

"There was no way to know," South grumbled as he scored 100 points on the wrong side of the pad. "If the diamonds had broken in some civilized fashion, I'd have been a hero."

South was wrong; it takes more than luck to make a hero.

East won the first trick with the king of trumps and returned a trump. South then had 11 easy tricks: five trumps, one ruff in dummy, two hearts, and three diamonds.

TACKLE FIRST

Clearly, South had to set up a heart or a diamond as his 12th trick. Which red suit was he to tackle first?

The diamonds looked like a cinch, so South started out confidently with dummy's ace and king of diamonds. West discarded a club on the second round, and it became clear that the diamonds would never come in.

SWITCHES TOO LATE

South switched to hearts, but it was too late. He could take the top hearts and ruff a heart but then there was only one entry back to dummy (the ace of trumps).

South needed two entries — one for another ruff and the other to cash the last heart.

Now go back to the third trick and see how a hero plays the hand. South must start the hearts before touching the diamonds. He cashes the top hearts, discovering that both opponents follow to two rounds of hearts.

CONTRACT ASSURED

The contract is now assured. South ruffs a heart, gets to dummy with a diamond, and ruffs another heart. He gets back to dummy with another diamond and cashes the last heart.

What if the hearts fail to break? The bad news will show up on the first or second round of hearts. South can then switch to diamonds and can set up a diamond if the suit breaks no worse than 4-2.

The point is that South can play for both red suits if he starts the hearts; he can play for only one if he starts the diamond.

Fast Start, Incredible Finish—Giants' 1962 Miracle

A home run to start and a home run to finish—with plenty of heartbreak in between.

That's the regular season story of Willie Mays and the San Francisco Giants, a team that inspired pennant obituaries and black crepe headlines with reckless abandon and yet wound up in a National League playoff because the other guys showed they could lose, too.

The Giants and the other guys—the Los Angeles Dodgers—began a best-of-three playoff for the championship today after an incredible Sunday of home runs produced a Giant victory, a Dodger loss and a dead heat for the pennant.

When the regular season began April 10, $90,000 centerfielder Mays cracked the first pitch he saw in the first inning for a home run against Milwaukee's Warren Spahn.

When the regular season ended yesterday, Mays smashed the final delivery he saw, in the eighth inning for another round-tripper and a 2-1 San Francisco victory over Houston.

In between, Willie hit 45 other four-baggers and did a few not-so-good things—walked off third base with two out, hit .145 in his first 11 games against the Dodgers and missed a game because he was detained in court.

But Willie's miscues and all the other San Francisco bobbles and losing streaks were quickly forgotten after the Giants roared back into first place for the first time since July 7.

No one cared that Stu Miller hadn't won a game since June 26. He won yesterday with two perfect relief innings as his earlier trials were forgiven.

Quickly forgotten were the fans' grumblings all year as opposing base-runners took liberties with catcher Ed Bailey's arm. Bailey hit a fourth-inning homer Sunday.

When Billy O'Dell lost to St. Louis only last Friday, more obituaries were written — but they were forgiven because O'Dell held Houston 1-1 for seven innings yesterday before leaving for a pinch-hitter.

For 1962 the Giants figured as a team of power with questionable pitching, good enough, maybe, for second or third place. A few thought they might win.

They started with five quick victories, and in early May knocked torrid Pittsburgh out of first place with a four-game sweep over the Pirates.

Their lead grew to 4½ games before a double defeat in Los Angeles set the tempo for the two and one-half months to come. The June swoon, knowingly predicted by all the experts, began June 6. It lasted until June 15, included nine losses in 11 games, and put the Dodgers in first place by two games.

A grand-slam pinch home run by Bailey against Cincinnati helped the Giants regain the lead for a week in late June, but a loss to the lowly New York Mets put the Dodgers on top July 2.

San Francisco's darkest three days came in late July in Los Angeles. Frank Howard hit a three-run homer for the Dodgers, Jack Sanford couldn't hold a lead and O'Dell gave up six runs in a first inning.

The result: A Dodger sweep.

But 10 days later the Dodgers came to Candlestick Park and dropped three straight. Came Labor Day and the Giants were laboring but in contention, 3½ games behind.

Three wins in four games at Dodger Stadium, plus five more victories, put the Giants only half a game out as they hit the road.

The road hit right back—six straight losses at Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, the last administered by a synthetic-sounding Pirate rookie named Elmo Plaskett.

The Giants came home three games back with six to play. Maybe if they could win all six . . . then . . .

They won two, lost one to St. Louis; split a doubleheader with Houston and then it was yesterday, one game back.

In the last analysis, it was strictly a home season for the Giants, 60-21 in Candlestick Park, 41-40 on the round.

Billy Pierce, today's first-game pitcher typified the record.

He was 11-0 in Candlestick, 4-6 away.

CONNOLLY

Who called the piccolo player a so-and-so?

Who called the so-and-so a piccolo player?

That story probably tells the miraculous and astounding climax to the 1962 National League baseball season—that found the S.F. Giants and the Los Angeles Dodgers—ending up the season in a tie.

Nothing in baseball history can match the unexpected finish to a nip and tuck fight over 162 games.

It was a miracle. Nothing short of it could explain the sequence of a "in-again-out-again-Finnigan" windup.

TWICE IN a week the Giants got a reprieve from the Dodgers, who lost to keep the Giants in the race.

And just when the gas chamber was staring them in the face, the Giants rallied and went on to earn a tie in the race for the pennant. And the Dodgers, stumbling the last two weeks, accommodated them by losing to the St. Louis Cards for the third game in a row.

Today the Giants and Dodgers began a three-game series to determine who has the right to meet the undisputed N.Y. Yankees in the world series.

THE MOMENTUM of the Giants inclines me to say they should compete in the World Series. It isn't how much you think of the heroics of the Giants as it is how little you think of the Dodgers.

Both teams, the Giants and the Dodgers, lack pitching strength. But which of 'em lacks it more, will be determined in the next few days.

The Dodgers are a nerve-racked club that harly knows what it is doing.

THE GIANTS are an exhausted aggregation that doesn't know what happened. So if anybody can guess how a series of this type can be determined, I'm going to say they are fortune tellers.

How would you like to own a ball club that pays $46,000 a year to a first baseman you have to bench during the most important game of the season.

That is what happened yesterday in the case of Orlando Cepeda, the Baby Bull of Puerto Rico.

Cepeda was kept on the bench as a reward for his inability to hit. And hitting is what made Cepeda a $46,000 a year player.

AS USUAL the ace of the club, Willie Mays, plunked the homerun that won the ball game. Willie, not hitting as often as he used to, came up in the eighth inning with the score tied 1 to 1 and clobbered a line drive into the leftfield bleachers which proved to be the deciding and winning run of a 2 to 1 ball game. The first Giant run was likewise a homerun by Ed Bailey to break a 0 to 0 tie in the fourth inning.

In Los Angeles the run that defeated the Dodgers, likewise, was a homerun by Cardinal catcher Gene Oliver to clinch the game.

Not many times in a lifetime will you see a more interesting pennant race than the one concluded yesterday.

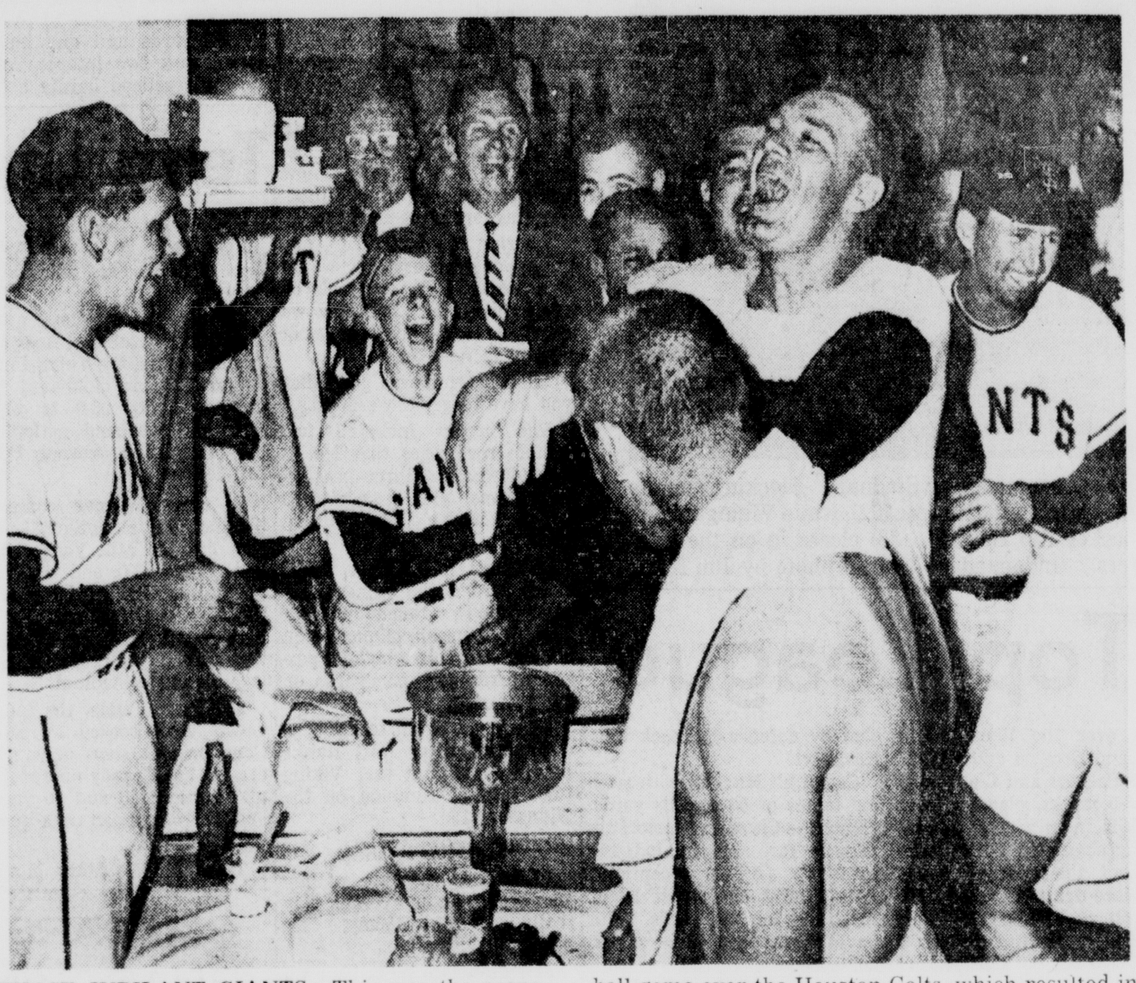
For a club that has been called chokers, dumb and stupid, the Giants disproved it by fighting back in the face of terrific odds to accomplish a tie in a flag race that a few weeks ago seemed impossible.

ALVIN DARK, the scarey and sometimes panicky manager of the club, rose to great heights as he steered the team to the top. The risks he took worked out.

Dark has been accused of everything during the year. He was chincy, stupid, ornery and so forth but he stuck to his guns and if he doesn't win the National League title in 1962, I'll always say he deserved to.

Today's game will be followed by two more in L.A. if needed. The two game winner of this playoff then goes into the World Series against the Yankees.

Someone said the Yanks are at Tahoe to await the next move, to either L.A. or S.F.



THOSE JUBILANT GIANTS—This was the scene in the San Francisco Giants dressing room yesterday as they heard from the radio that the Dodgers had lost to St. Louis. The Giants had just won a 2-1 ball game over the Houston Colts, which resulted in a playoff series which started today. Identifiable players are (left) pitcher Jim Duffalo, Billy O'Dell (bare to waist), Harvey Kuenn (behind O'Dell) and Manager Alvin Dark (right). (AP Wirephoto)

Owner Shouts, Car Thief Runs

Edward Francis Walsh of 72 California Avenue, Homestead Valley, was watching television about 11:45 p.m. Saturday when he heard a car being started outside.

He looked out the window and saw his 1958 station wagon rolling down the driveway. He ran out of the house, yelling, and a young man leaped out of the car and disappeared down California Avenue.

Walsh told Sheriff's Deputy R. H. Tschirgi that the car thief was tall and slim and "must have been young because he took off like a deer." The car was not locked and keys were in the ignition.

'Somebody Up There Likes Me!

Independent-Journal Sports

Monday, Oct. 1, 1962 9

CANDLESTICK NOTES:

Rod Ryan, Western Union representative at the Candlestick Park, gazed up at the cloudless skies yesterday and gushed, "Somebody up there likes me."

It was Rod's birthday and the biggest present he could wish for seemed impossible.

When the score was tied, a mysterious message to Rod tickered in on the teletype. It read: "Your birthday wish granted. Giants win; Dodgers lose." It was signed: "The Man Upstairs."

An hour later, when the impossible developed, Ryan had a dazed look on his face. "It couldn't happen but it did," he said, repeating, "Somebody up there likes me."

YESTERDAY ALSO was Johnny Podres' birthday. That was a nasty present the Cards gave him.

LUCK IS fickle. Harry Tassell of Antioch, Calif. will testify.

Harry with six friends showed up at Candlestick Park yesterday to see the Giants in their final game of the season.

With his dough in his hand he approached the ticket cage. "Nothing but standing room," replied the ticket seller.

Tassell, after driving 65 miles to see the game, decided he would see it. So he plunked down money enough to take care of seven tickets in STANDING ROOM ONLY.

When the tickets were drawn for an automobile, Tassell won it.

"Am I lucky!" he said, as he drove off in a new 1963 Ford.

WILLIE MAYS doesn't know it but the home run he hit yesterday, his 47th of the season, was reason for merriment he never could imagine.

When he walloped the game-winning homer in the eighth inning, to give the Giants a 2 to 1 advantage over the Houston Colts, the leftfield bleacherites decided to celebrate.

And what do you suppose they did?

"THE TWIST."

THE FIRST shakeup in the policy of the Giants was revealed today when word leaked out that no Giant player will be allowed to play winter ball in 1962.

Orlando Cepeda, Jose Pagan, Felipe Alou, Matty Alou and Juan Marichal are the players affected by Horace Stoneham's edict.

Pagan and Cepeda, stars with the Giants, have admitted they were exhausted this year and blamed it on the fact they had played too much winter ball in their own countries.

Houk: 'Want To Play Best Club'

NEW YORK (AP)—"We went to play the best club, and I guess we'll find out, pretty soon which club that is."

That was the reaction of Ralph Houk, manager of the New York Yankees, to the news that the Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants would have a best-of-three playoff starting today to determine his club's World Series opponent.

"The team that wins will come into the series loose. The winner will feel 'Well, we're in it and we're just happy to be here.' They should be in a terrific frame of mind."

The Yanks skipper said he would not announce his pitching plans or batting order until the day before the series. However, it was an open secret that Whitey Ford, who has not allowed a run in 32 consecutive innings for a series record, would open, followed by Ralph Terry and Bill Stafford.

Builders Suffer Second Setback

The Billings - Hutchison Builders, after scoring five runs in the first three innings, lost their second straight game yesterday in the tough Alameda Winter Baseball League to the Milen's Jewelers nine, 9-6.

With their two pitching aces in bed with the flu, the Builders' other pitchers couldn't find the plate and walked 12 men.

The Builder hitting was led by Ed Vigno with two hits and two runs batted in, and Joe Anselmo with two singles and one RBI. Milen's Jewelers relief pitcher Joe Dorsi, coming in during the fifth inning, held the Builder batters to one hit the rest of the game.

Action Galore In Raiders Contest

OAKLAND (AP)—San Diego's Chargers beat the Oakland Raiders 42-33 yesterday in an American Football League game that churned up 10 touchdowns.

The 13,000 at Frank Youell Field saw plenty of action:

Bardahl Wins Tahoe Races

STATELINE, Nev. (UPI)—Lon Musson, pilot of the victorious Miss Bardahl, was $3,700 richer today after steering his hydroplane to victory in the first $15,000 Harrah's Tahoe Regatta.

Miss Bardahl overcame a season-long victory drought and pesky mechanical trouble to edge $ Bill for first place. The two boats tied in total points but Miss Bardahl got the nod by taking less total elapsed time for its three heats.

Following the Seattle-based Miss Bardahl and second-place $ Bill were Hurricane VI of Lake Tahoe, Gale V of Detroit, Tahoe Miss, the pre-race favorite, and Notre Dame of Detroit.

DODGERS

'We Really Fouled It'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Having blown everything else, the Los Angeles Dodgers blew into San Francisco today to open their playoff series with a club that had beaten them in six of their last seven meetings.

Principally, they were in agony because they had just about overtaken Floyd Patterson in unofficial balloting for the biggest sports flop of the year.

The Dodgers, in the space of a week, had blown their seemingly unassailable four-game lead over the San Francisco Giants. Now, going into the playoffs, they had been shut out twice in a row by St. Louis and hadn't scored in 21 innings.

"We really fouled that one up," said Dodger Manager Walt Alston. "We had every opportunity in the world. Everybody tried to help us. We've got nobody to blame but ourselves."

Then, in a sudden burst of optimism, Alston added:

"But I think we're still all right. We didn't do it the easy way, but I still think we'll do it.

DUE TO BUST

"I would just as soon go into the playoffs like we are—in a horrible slump—than if we had just scored 15 runs. We're about due to bust out of it."

There was divided opinion on whether the Dodgers had choked.

"I think the players showed some tenseness earlier in the week," Alston said, "But I saw none of it Sunday. I don't think our losses can be traced to tightening up. It's just a matter of failing to hit."

The Dodgers made several base-running blunders — but committed no defensive errors —as they lost 1-0 to the Cardinals Sunday.

WORTH MORE NOW

MIAMI (AP) — Dick Williams was traded the second day of the 1961 baseball season. He went from Kansas City to Baltimore.

Two years age when Baltimore traded him to Kansas City he was regarded as a $50,000 player. He's worth more now, being the No. 1 utility player for Bill Hitchcock's Orioles. He plays third, first or the outfield.

This is Williams' third hitch with the Orioles.

ROCK'EM, SOCK'EM PERFORMANCE

49ers 'Old Fashioned' In 21-7 Win Over Vikings

Old-fashioned football ideas of "controlling the ball and hitting somebody" are credited by coach Red Hickey with finally putting his San Francisco 49ers into the win column as he looks ahead to a three-game road series against Baltimore, Chicago and Green Bay.

The 49ers climbed to fifth place in the National Football League Western Conference yesterday with a 21-7 victory over the luckless Minnesota Vikings at Kezar Stadium before 38,407 fans. They now have a 1-2 record while Minnesota has lost three straight.

"During the pre-season, our guys thought everything would come easy," Hickey declared after the game, "so today we changed and tried to meet somebody head-on.

"Our defense was good, but you have to get those breaks."

The breaks included two fumble recoveries that led to touchdowns and three pass interceptions, plus penalties which choked off Viking threats.

Halfback Bill Kilmer, who was awarded the game ball, scored the first touchdown on a three-yard smash, climaxing an 80-yard march in which he personally ran for 55 yards on three carries.

He scored again in the second period after Karl Rubke recovered a punt that Viking Bill Butler fumbled on the Minnesota 19.

KILMER PRAISED

"Kilmer is the type of guy who can make an average play really go," said Hickey. "He has great desire."

San Francisco picked up another touchdown in the third quarter after Jim Ridlon recovered a Minnesota fumble on the Viking 18. Five plays later quarterback John Brodie passed to end Clyde Conner from the 8 for the score.

Quarterback John Brodie actually had a miserable day—completing only 5 of 19 passes for 57 yards and one touchdown, with two interceptions.

"We practiced hardly at all on passing the whole week," Hickey said by way of implied excuse.

"We had a bad attitude at the start of the season. When a run wouldn't go before, the guys would say, 'Hell, we'll hit for 15 or 20 passes.' This time we went in with the attitude of winning the game.

"I'm not saying this was a great performance by our offense or defense, but it was a great improvement."

"We wide-spaced our line to see if we have somebody who can fire off and knock somebody out of there."

Terra Linda Junior Trojans End Giant Undefeated Skein

Ending the 29-game undefeated streak of the Redwood Junior Giants, the Terra Linda Junior Trojans clobbered the Junior Giants 28-0 to highlight the weekend action of the Marin Pop Warner Football league.

In other Warner contests, the San Rafael Junior Giants shut out the Mill Valley Junior Indians 13-0, and the Novato Junior Hornets outlasted the San Anselmo Junior Pirates 7-0. The triple-header was played yesterday at College of Marin stadium.

For Terra Linda, the touchdowns were scored by Steve Congdon on a short drive over center, Pat Carney on spectacular runs of 53 and 50 yards, and Chris Bowman on a quarterback sneak.

In the Mill Valley-San Rafael contest, the Mill Valley touchdowns were scored on passes of 18 and 40 yards.

The lone touchdown by Novato in its first victory was scored by Wayne Croissant who also blocked a kick which led to the tally.

Packers, Lions Top League

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Green Bay Packers and Detroit Lions will find out who's boss of the National Football League's Western Conference in a hurry, but who (and don't laugh) is going to figure out how to stop the Washington Redskins?

The Redskins lead the Eastern Conference today after their second straight upset victory, a 24-14 pasting of St. Louis Sunday, for a 2-0-1 record that includes a tie against Dallas. Los Angeles' winless Rams (0-3), get the next chance, but the Redskins must be favored (no snickers, please) after victories over the likes of the Cleveland Browns and Cards.

The Packers and Lions, both with 3-0 marks, play in Green Bay, Wis., next week. The defending champion Packers disposed of the Chicago Bears' first-place dreams in a 49-0 lacing yesterday, while Detroit did the same to Baltimore with a 29-20 victory. Both losers are now 2-1.

In other games, the New York Giants moved into second place in the Eastern Conference with a 31-27 victory over Pittsburgh (1-2); Cleveland (1-2) was upset for the second straight week, this time by Philadelphia's Eagles, 35-7; the Rams lost to Dallas, 27-17, and San Francisco won its first, 21-7, over Minnesota.

STRONG DEFENSE

Once more it was Norm Snead's passing and Bobby Mitchell's running and receiving that did the trick for the 'Skins. This time they had additional help from Washington's suddenly revitalized defense, which recovered four St. Louis fumbles and intercepted four passes, one being a TD shot by defense halfback Dale Hackbart.

Snead hit Mitchell with scoring tosses of 40 and 23 yards, giving the Cleveland castoff six TDs so far. He totaled 147 yards on seven receptions, while Snead completed 13 of 22 passes for 217 yards. John David Crow got both of St. Louis' scores.

Jim Taylor, Green Bay's bruising fullback, took over the NFL rushing lead from Cleveland's Jimmy Brown when he gained 126 yards in 17 carries for the Packers, scoring three times. The former LSU star now has 323 yards for Brown's 260. The latter got only 38 against the Eagles.

FIVE INTERCEPTIONS

Green Bay's defense was equally as strong as its offense, intercepting five Bears' passes, and allowing only 85 yards rushing. Paul Hornung, who sat out most of the game after pulling a leg muscle, converted after each of Green Bay's seven scores to run his league-leading point total to 46. Milt Plum ran 45 yards for a score on a quarterback sneak and passed for two touchdowns in the Lions victory. He completed 16 for 30 for 260 yards, but had four intercepted, the first against him this season.

Colts quarterback John Unitas completed 14 passes, one to Jimmy Orr for a TD, but the tough Detroit defense picked off three and tossed him for a safety in the final period.

Y. A. Tittle tied a Giants' club record with four touchdown passes, hitting Paul Dudley, Frank Gifford, Alex Webster and Del Shofner, as the Giants came from behind to win for the second straight week. Bobby Layne upped his NFL touchdown pass mark to 190 with a scoring pass to Bill Mack for the Steelers (1-2). Eagles' quarterback Sonny Jurgensen finally got his defense going, and had help from the Eagle defense, which limited Brown and Tom Wilson to only 71 yards combined rushing. Jurgy threw two touchdown passes and scored once, but the Eagles (1-2) may have lost end Pete Retzlass, who suffered a possible fracture of his left forearm.

Eddie Lebaron, the Cowboys' quarterback, threw two touchdown passes, one an 85-yard play to fullback Amos Marsh.

49ers' Win Was Not Impressive; Kilmer, Gaiters Stars Of Day

RANDOL

With all eyes and ears focused on "The Little Miracle of Candlestick Park" at the other end of town, "The Little Miracle of Kezar Stadium" went almost unnoticed. The San Francisco 49ers finally broke into the win column, downing the Minnesota Vikings by a score of 21 to 7.

There was little joy in the accomplishment. Both teams played like minor college elevens, and the 49ers won only because they got the major share of the breaks and were able to capitalize on them.

And there was little consolation in the up-coming three game road trip which will pit the 49ers against the Baltimore Colts, the Chicago Bears and the horrendous Green Bay Packers in that order. The Packers 49-0 win over the Bears yesterday makes them 65 points better than the 49ers on comparative scores. And this may not be too far off.

QUARTERBACK John Brodie had a horrible day against a team he should have riddled, completing five for 19 passes for a total of fifty-seven skimpy yards. Several throws were dropped, it's true, but Brodie was definitely off target on most attempts. It was hardly a professional performance.

Equally unimpressive was the ball carrying of J. D. Smith, who may have sung his swan song yesterday. To find the smallest kind of a glimmer of hope you have to turn to the performance of Wild Bill Kilmer and the newest 49er, Bobby Gaiters.

Kilmer did everything asked of him and was the catalyst for whatever success the 49ers could claim. Bill hit the middle of the line like a fullback, ran the open field like a scat back, and showed the form of an experienced end receiving passes. And he hung onto the ball. Any future 49er successes will hinge greatly on the young wild man with desire.

GAITERS MANAGED to break loose for some long gainers in spite of his obvious lack of familiarity with 49er formations and of the strengths and weaknesses of his teammates. When Bobby gets into high gear he will be the boy to make the fans forget the ghost of the departed R. C. Owens.

Putting the last two paragraphs together, it would seem that Coach Red Hickey has to find a way to get Kilmer and Gaiters into the same backfield at the same time. The combination of the two would go a long way to make up for the lack of a punishing fullback, for either one can take advantage of a quick-opener and be past the defensive linebackers. Around end, Gaiters is a breakaway threat, and Kilmer is always a threat to pass or run.

BOTH THE Viking and 49er defenses looked good in the statistics column because neither team had much to fear and was able to stack it's line. The 49er pass interceptions were the result of some atrocious throws by Fran Tarkenton.

And I wish Hugh McElhenny would retire, gracefully. It is sad to see the "King" dethroned and falling to direct tackles that once would have been arms full of empty air.

PLAY CALLED BACK

Forty-Niner halfback Bill Kilmer (17) caught this pass in the third quarter for a big gain against the Minnesota Vikings but the play was called back because of an illegal use of hands penalty against the 49ers. Drake Shows Title Power In 45-6 Rout

By RALPH CHATOIAN

They proved that with their 45-6 massacre over Analy High School of Sebastapol Saturday night in College of Marin Stadium.

Displaying a mighty offense that pushed the ball on the ground and in the air and a stubborn defense, it looked like an altogether different team which fell to Edison of Stockton, 14-0, only the week before.

Drake had been shut out the opening game also, 18-0, by tough Armijo, and the prep fans were beginning to wonder if the Pirates would ever learn the scoring secret. They sure did.

The big combination Saturday night was quarterback Hamish Tyler to end Mike Crabtree which accounted for three of the seven Drake touchdowns.

FIRST SCORE

The passing combination of Tyler to Grabtree hit for TDs of 17, nine and seven yards. The first Drake tally came early in the first quarter after center Don O'Brian picked up his first of two fumble recoveries on the Analy 14-yard line. After halfback Jim Duff advanced the ball to the 10, Tom Kolbe skirted around end for the six pointer.

Later in the same period, the first Tyler touchdown pass to Crabtree of 17 yards brought the fans to their feet. Then in the second stanza, the passing combination hit for the other two touchdowns, the first from the nine and the second from the seven.

After the intermission, the Pirates came storming back with their relentless attack. In the third quarter, halfback Tom Tanzi, who had been sidelined from the first two games because of an injury, made a dazzing run from the 24 around right end into the end zone.

The next two touchdowns came in the final period, the first on a keeper by quarterback Mike Kemp around right end from the 11, and the second on a plunge over right tackle by Russ Young, reserve halfback.

Score by quarters:

Drake	14	13	6	12	45
Analy	0	0	6	0	6

Drake scoring — Tom Kolbe over left end from six; Mike Kemp ran for extra point. Hamish Tyler 17-yard pass to Mike Crabtree; Tom Tanzi ran extra point. Tyler pass to Crabtree from nine; Terry Tadlock kicked extra point. Tyler pass to Crabtree from seven. Tanzi on 24-yard run over right end. Kemp run around right end from 11. Russ Young on one-yard plunge.

Tam Rallies To 13-6 Win

The Tamalpais Indians are awaiting the start of the Marin Athletic League next Saturday after an undefeated practice slate.

The Indians won their second practice game Saturday night in Santa Rosa when they scored two touchdowns in the second half to whip the Santa Rosa High gridders 14-6.

The bleak part of the game for Tam came when guard Greg Taylor suffered a broken leg in the second quarter of the hard-fought grid contest.

Tam tied its first practice game with Pacifica, 7-7, then clobbered Castlemont 32-6 in the second tilt.

Trailing 6-0 at halftime, the Indians scored in the third quarter after recovering a Santa Rosa fumble on the Panther 46-yard line. On the first play, fleet Tam halfback Warren Domino cut through left guard and scampered the 46 yards to the end zone.

Domino scored the second Tam touchdown and extra point, to give him 13 of the 14 Tam points. His second TD capped a 69-yard drive in 15 plays when he crashed over right guard for the six-pointer. He then smashed over for the extra point, making the score, 14-6.

The Santa Rosa touchdown came in the second quarter when fullback Gary Lindsay scored from the Tam 12. The extra point kick by Gene Pickrell failed when the ball hit the crossbar.

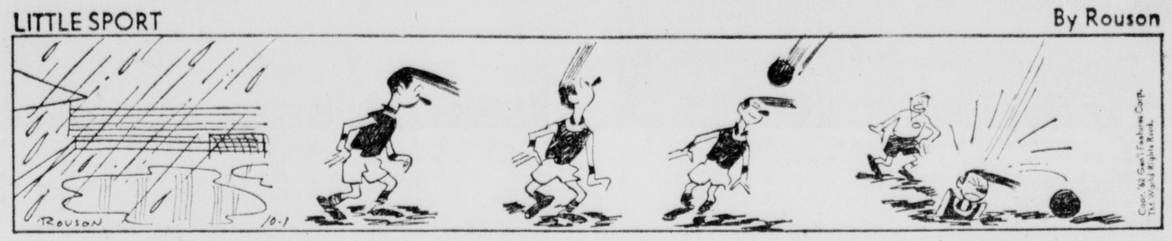
LITTLE SPORT — By Rouson



Injuns Rose Bowl Threat

By JACK STEVENSON

Stanford's surprising yet conclusive victory over Michigan State stamps the Indians a major West Coast Rose Bowl possibility along with Southern California and Washington.

Coach Jack Curtice's Big Red club proved it deserved a ranking with the favorites by winning its second victory of 1962 in a great weekend for collegiate football along the Pacific.

Not since the glory days of the now defunct Pacific Coast Conference have the clubs done so well in intersectional competition.

Stanford beat Michigan State 16-13 and Washington whipped Illinois 28-7 in games matching the Big Six with the Big 10—the conference whose champions meet in the Rose Bowl.

Southern California polished off Southern Methodist 33-3; Washington State beat Wyoming 21-15 and Oregon beat Utah 35-8.

In games matching clubs from the same areas, California defeated San Jose State 25-8. University of the Pacific defeated Santa Clara 28-6, and Idaho edged Idaho State 9-6.

FEATURE SLATE

Games between the Big Six and Big 10 feature the slate again Saturday. Southern California plays at Iowa and UCLA opens its schedule against Ohio State in a game matching the 1961 champions of the two conferences.

In other battles Pittsburgh plays at California, Oregon State at Stanford, Kansas State at Washington, Idaho at Montana, Washington State at Arizona State, and San Jose State at Oregon.

Stanford ran up a 16-7 advantage over Michigan State before the visiting Spartans scored in the final two minutes. Steve Thurlow completed six passes for 126 yards to lead the offense while linebacker Ed Cummings, a 207-pounder from Anaconda, Mont., was tremendous on defense.

Washington grabbed a 14-0 lead over Illinois on a two-yard run by Charlie Mitchell and a 31-yard pass from Willie Siler to Lee Bernhardi. The Illini tallied once to make the halftime score 14-7 but after the intermission the Huskies pulled away.

Southern California's Willie Brown ran 92 yards with the opening kickoff to start the Trojans on their romp over SMU. A pair of touchdown passes from Bill Nelson to Hal Bedsole covered 25 and 59 yards for the winners.

When a golfer's ball stops at the edge of a hole he is allowed only a few seconds to settle any doubt as to whether his ball is at rest.

Miss Hard Wins Third Straight Tennis Title

BERKELEY (AP) — Defending champion Darlene Hard of Los Angeles has won her third straight title in the 73rd annual Pacific Coast International Tennis Championships.

Miss Hard defeated third-seeded Renee Schuurman of South Africa, 6-3, 6-3, in the women's singles finals yesterday.

Third-seeded Jan Erik Lundquist of Sweden won the men's singles title by beating Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield 3-6, 6-1, 6-3, 6-4.

Bobby Hull of Chicago and Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers scored 84 points in the National Hockey League last season. Hull tallied 50 goals and 34 assists, Bathgate 28 goals and 56 assists.

Runnels Wins American League Batting Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Runnels of the Boston Red Sox captured his second American League batting championship yesterday as Mickey Mantle's belated bid for his second title fell five points short.

Runnels, veteran first baseman, sat out both ends of the doubleheader against Washington because of the flu and finished with a .326 average. Mantle collected two hits in three tries in his final game and wound up at .321. The New York Yankees' star outfielder barely qualified for title consideration, finishing with the minimum 502 total appearances.

In the National League, Tommy Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers holds a five-point lead over the Cincinnati's Frank Robinson. The Reds outfielder collected two safeties in three at bats in his final game Sunday and lifted his average to .342.

Davis is batting .347. However, his performance in the best-of-three playoff against San Francisco will count in the regular season records.

Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins won the American League home run and runs batted in titles. He slammed 48 homers and drove in 126 runs.

Indians Looking For New Manager

CLEVELAND (AP) — General Manager Gabe Paul was looking for a new field boss for the Cleveland Indians today and said he had "a couple of choices in mind."

"I want the best available," Paul said yesterday after announcing that the contract of freshman manager Mel McGaha, 36, would not be renewed for 1963.

Paul has approached Leo Durocher, former manager of the Dodgers and Giants in the National League, about the Cleveland job. Durocher, now a coach for the Dodgers, must decide whether he prefers Los Angeles or another crack at managing.

WSC End Named Lineman Of Week

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Hugh Campbell, pass-snagging end from Washington State, was chosen today as the Big Six "lineman of the week."

Campbell picked off seven passes in leading the Cougars to a 21-16 win over Wyoming Saturday and while doing so set a new NCAA record for total yardage at 1,769; and tied the total number of catches at 131 —the latter set 'way back in 1946-49 by Dick Beetsch of Iowa State Teachers.

KEZAR CROWD HAS EARS AT CANDLESTICK

When the San Francisco Giants tied for the National League baseball pennant yesterday the cheers at Candlestick Park were equalled if not bettered by the wild shouts at Kezar Stadium where the 49er-Viking NFL football crowd stayed 10 minutes after the final gun to hear the word.

The Giants beat Houston 2-1 shortly before the football game ended, and the public address system promptly carried the outcome, eliciting an approving roar.

Then, when the 49ers had finished disposing of Minnesota 21-7, most of the 38,000 spectators remained until Los Angeles' 1-0 loss to St. Louis was announced. Cushions sailed through the air like confetti and the din was audible for miles.

INTRODUCING COMPACT '63 DART

At last. A compact that doesn't give anyone the sardine treatment. The 1963 Dodge Dart! Now everybody gets a fair shake on room. Note the roofline. It goes straight back. Result: Even rear-seat hat wearers are treated with deference. And so are those who like some action for a change. Dart's standard Six leaves run-of-the-mill compacts waiting and wheezing. Its optional engine (just a few bucks more) is the same way, only more so. Economical? Like you'd expect a compact to be! That's the whole idea. Dart's too roomy to be a compact, too darned thrifty to be anything else.

Few compacts cost less than Dart. None offers the value. A unitized body, for example, that's rust-protected. 32,000 miles between major grease jobs. Road-smoothing torsion-bar ride. An alternator. A high-speed starter for fast starts. Two series. Nine models, including two converts. See your Dodge Dealer.

NEW 5-YEAR/50,000-MILE WARRANTY! Your authorized Dodge Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first; on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts; torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings—provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Dodge Certified Car Care schedules. Factory approved remanufactured parts may be used for replacement.

EXCHANGE TEACHER—Dr. Ursula Burgel is teaching French and German at College of Marin in an exchange with James L. Heig of Kentfield, teaching this year at her home school, the Helene Lange Schule in Frankfurt, Germany.

German Teacher, Son At College Of Marin

A German mother and son are teacher and student at College of Marin, thanks to a Fulbright teacher exchange.

But the mother, Dr. Ursula Burgel, lives in a Kentfield apartment; her 19-year-old son, Wolfgang, with a San Anselmo family.

They want it that way. "We agreed to live apart to get the most out of our experience in America," explained Mrs. Burgel.

In her home city of Frankfurt, Mrs. Burgel taught English and French at Helene Lange Schule. At College of Marin, she teaches first and second year French and first year German.

She came to Marin under the Fulbright program in an exchange with James L. Heig of San Anselmo, College of Marin English instructor, who was assigned to teach English, literature and history this year at Helene Lange Schule.

Mrs. Burgel seems to think she got the better of the deal.

"I am told that Mr. Heig is expected to sing 'Home on the Range' wherever he goes," she added. "I am not called upon to do such a thing here, but my son and I have plans to record German stories and songs to be used in the German classes."

Music (though neither "Home on the Range" nor German lieder) found son Wolfgang his home for the year in San Anselmo.

George B. Duncan, foreign language instructor and foriegn student adviser at College of Marin, met the Burgels at San Francisco Airport on their arrivals from Europe. Duncan took Wolfgang home to 58 Grove Hill Avenue, San Anselmo, to stay "until he finds a permanent place."

Young Brugel, a pianist and a music enthusiast, was enthralled when he saw the Duncans' piano and record collection.

"We both play the piano and love music, and I guess we decided right then to take him in for the year," said Duncan.

"I love to walk" is Wolfgang's simple explanation.

The youth had completed one semester at University of Frankfurt before coming here. His College of Marin courses are Spanish, English, United States history, intermediate piano—and social dancing, "to get better acquainted with the students."

Wolfgang said he finds life at the Kentfield school quite different from that at the University of Frankfurt.

"It is very stimulating because the students are so interested in clubs and self-government," he said. "You have your own student government, a young Republicans club, and even what you call a pep club. Students in German universities are not active like this."

Mrs. Burgel said the only difficulty she has found in teaching is the language laboratory.

"We don't have such laboratories at home. It is a wonderful device but some time is required to get used to it," she said.

Social Worker Is Assigned

Dorothy Chevalier, a psychiatric social worker, has been assigned to the San Rafael Bureau of Social Work of the State Department of Mental Hygiene at 820 Fifth Avenue.

Miss Chevalier will be responsible for offering casework and rehabilitation services to mentally retarded and ill children and adults living in Marin County who are on leave from state hospitals.

A former employee of the Marin County Welfare Department, she was a psychiatric social worker at Napa State Hospital for the past year.

Merchant Marine Cadet Training

Cadet Lawrence S. Loomer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Loomer of 235 Poplar Drive, Kentfield, has been assigned to the Golden Bear as part of his training in the Merchant Marine Academy.

Loomer, a graduate of Redwood High School in Larkspur, is in his second year at the maritime academy. While aboard the Golden Bear he will travel more than 100,000 miles, visiting some 20 to 30 foreign ports.

Completes Course

Army Pvt. Hans M. Halberstadt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton H. Halberstadt, 96 Hillside Avenue, San Anselmo, has completed the four-week tandem-rotor light transport helicopter maintenance course at the Aviation School, Fort Rucker, Ala.

The lead roles in the cast for Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew," to be performed at Redwood High School four evenings in October and November, were announced today.

The two major roles will be double-cast for the first three weeks of rehearsal to determine which actors are best suited.

Twinka Thiebaud of Belvedere and Susan R. Dolman of Larkspur were chosen to portray the part of Katherine, the "shrew." John M. Fleischman of Belvedere and Edward J. Garrison of Corte Madera will share the male lead role of Petruchio.

Others chosen for parts were Cindy Southmayd, David Youens, Jose Jiminez, Craig Beeson, Jerry Hamlet, and John Strange. Actors for several lesser parts in the play have not yet been chosen.

Cast selections were made by Elaine N. Young and Harry D. Davis, Redwood English instructors, assisting Joseph Wadlington, Redwood drama instructor and play director.

The play, which will be highlighted by dancing and music, is scheduled to be performed Oct. 25 and 26 and Nov. 2 and 3 as the first performance in the new Redwood Little Theater.

WHAT DISTINGUISHES this simply-stated sculptured tunic dress by Estevez, apart from unfailing controlled shape and a '62 penchant for fit, is a wide margin of satin, edging its hem and echoed on the stem-skirt beneath. The result is tres charmante for the young elegante whose day begins with luncheon and ends with after-theater demitasse.

THE YOUNG ELEGANTE

Mr. Mort creates a fashionable young flair of enchantment in this fluent basic black crepe that takes on new dimensions. Can be worn many ways — belted or unbelted, or as shown with one panel caught in butterfly bow.

ELEGANTES shift to the natural look with a skimmer shape that skips right past the waistline. Shaping comes with nuance via the controlled slope of the skirt, widened subtly with inverted side pleats. Ole Borden designs this contemporary silhouette in Celanese acetate and rayon. It's day-an-night news every inch of the way from demurely heightened neckline to long sheathy sleeves.

Junior Hi Camp Fire Groups Have A New Look This Year

This fall Marin's Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls are joining with girls across the nation in a new program of special activities for seventh and eighth graders.

This new division of Camp Fire Girls has been developed through research and experimentation by the national program department.

A group Torch Bearer Rank has been added which includes activities relating to home, the arts, science, service, sports and games, outdoors and party fun.

A RECEPTION honoring Marin's first Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls, their mothers, and group guardians, will be held at 8 p.m. Friday at Alexander Hall, San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo. During a special ceremony the girls will be given the emblem of the new program—the red silk tie.

The groups attending will represent all of Marin County. Among them are Corte Madera, O-Ka-Wi-Ta (Mrs. Edward Crisp); Le-Wa-Ne-Ta (Mrs. Harold Wagstaff); Kentfield, Pon-Go-Da-Ko (Mrs. T. The Arty Set Is Shrinking As Real Knowledge Begins To Show

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

A couple of sisters who pioneered the renting of art find the "arty set" shrinking and the truly knowledgeable art set growing.

"When we started this business, we'd get customers who thought of art as nothing more than decoration. Women would come in and ask for a painting a certain size," said Mrs. George Butler. "Now, it's art for art's sake."

Her sister, Mrs. Henry Sadowsky, spoke up: "It is a most gratifying thing to see that people have learned to appreciate . . .

"WE NEVER HEAR these days, 'well, I don't know art, but I know what I like.'"

The sisters are proprietors of the circulating library of paintings. They believe the public relations job museums across the country have done is a major factor in the increase in art lovers.

"People who used to take the children to the movies now take them to the museums," said Mrs. Butler, president of the firm. "You can't get into the Metropolitan on Sundays . . . so many kids."

Ruth Butler and Eleanor Sadowsky also have helped in their way.

THE ORIGINAL AIM of their business started 16 years ago was to rent paintings. But it turns out circulating library is a misnomer, they said. They end up selling at least 75 per cent.

Their library grew from their own interest since childhood in art. They collected, and Mrs. Sadowsky studied art through high school and at the art students league. Both still take art courses.

Their father, H. Leonard Simmons, a prominent New York furrier, now retired at 82, added to their collection. He also is an amateur painter.

THE SISTERS POOLED their collections—1800 works in all—and opened shop in a basement in mid-town Manhattan. As the business expanded, so did their quarters. And this week they moved into their most elegant "gallery" yet—the main floor of a town house designed by Stanford White. (UPI)

Quilting Skills In Demand, Muir Temple Members Find

Sausalito's Pythian Sisters of Muir Temple 123 have two suggestions that they hope may be of considerable interest to some women's group in Marin County. They concern a quilt show and quilting as a means of fund raising.

Mrs. Verna Strittmatter, Muir Temple secretary, spoke for the group.

"As a result of the article and pictures on our quilting activities that appeared in the Independent-Journal on Aug. 24," she said, "we have been absolutely flooded with telephone calls, mostly from women wanting to have quilting done.

"Our most excellent chief, Mrs. Walter Whiting, and Mrs. Frank Oliveira, chairman of our quilting section, have been particularly busy answering calls.

"For instance," she went on, "there was one woman in Corte Madera who wanted a double wedding ring quilt made. Another said she had some quilt tops that had come to California in a covered wagon and she had not been able to find anyone to make them up into quilts.

"We are not interested in expanding our activities for several reasons," Mrs. Strittmatter explained, "but we thought what a wonderful way this would be for some women's organization to raise money by doing quilting.

"And because of the great interest, we believe a quilt show would be highly successful."

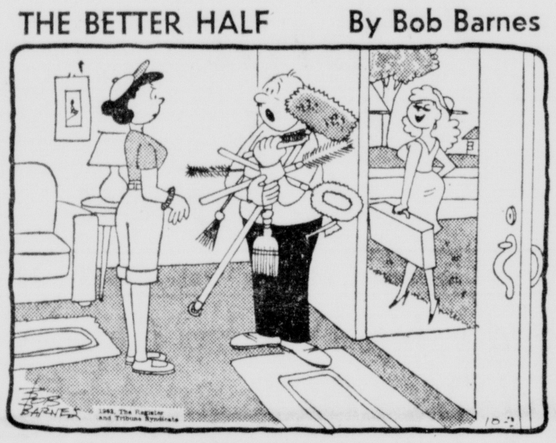
THE BETTER HALF — By Bob Barnes



"I screamed for help a couple of times, but you must have been in the back yard."

SEW SIMPLE

Stitching Sequin Material Requires Very Fine Needle

By EUNICE FARMER

"I wish to use a material that is covered with sequins for the bodice of a dress. Since this is very expensive, could you please give me tips about sewing and handling it?"

Mrs. V.G.E.

Dear Mrs. V.G.E.:

This is an excellent question for this time of the year and, because the fabric with sequins is new, most women are not too familiar with it.

First, and most important, don't press it. Pressing makes sequins permanently dull. Second, use a very fine machine needle because you will be stitching over the sequins. Keep an extra supply of needles in case you break one.

Use silk thread for added strength, if possible, and use a smaller length machine stitch. You may catch-stitch the seam allowances to the inside of your garment. If you line the skirt, make the lining separate so that it will cover the seams and give a smoother skirt.

"I am lining a dressy suit with brocade fabric but it looks too stiff inside the sleeves. Would it be all right to use a plain lining in the sleeves or would it look home made?"

Mrs. R.R.E.

Dear Mrs. R.R.E.:

I am glad you noticed the stiff appearance of this type of lining. You will notice that most of your expensive suits have a soft silk lining in them. Any type of lining that is used must be less firm than the garment fabric. If you are using a heavy satin or brocade for lining your garment, use a crepe or china silk for the sleeve lining.

You can give your boys' pants extra length and many months of additional wear by making false cuffs. Unfold the present cuffs and press the legs flat, keeping the original hem. Lift (up and out) about ¼ inch of material on the outside of the trousers at the hemline.

This will form a cuff appearance and should be pressed flat to the trouser legs. Tack the top edge firmly to the two leg seams to keep the upper edge in place.

This fine money-saving idea is the tailor trix pressing board winner of the week for Mrs. Fern E. Wilson, Cumberland, Md.

"Some time ago it seems that you told us how to make a felt skirt so that it could be lengthened without a hem. I didn't save the copy and I'm wondering if you would repeat this?"

Mrs. M.W.

Dear Mrs. M. W.:

Because there are so many mothers sewing for teen-age girls, I will be glad to repeat this question.

When cutting your felt skirt, allow several extra inches in length. Mark the hem-line on your child, using an accurate skirt marker. Carefully cut the skirt on these marks keeping the cutting line even. It would be helpful to make several colored marks on the wrong side to be used for matching later when you add to the length.

When the skirt becomes too short, place the excess part of the hem you cut off right on the edge of the skirt. They could be lapped slightly, or the two raw edges could be butted together, using a bias strip of firm fabric to stitch the two edges. This seam line could be covered with colored braid, rick rack, metallic edging or colored velvet ribbon. Try to coordinate the trim with the bodice and you will have a new, exciting and completely original skirt.

Please send your sewing tips and ideas for Christmas "fun clothes" or fun "things to make." I would like to share these with all of our readers.

Remember To Use Your P-TA For Better Aid To Children

Do you know how to use your P-TA? It is at your service in any cause which will help children. Don't hesitate to use it.

Do you have a dangerous intersection near your home? Maybe you've seen accidents occur there. Children risk their lives every time they cross it, but nobody seems to care. What should you do? Go to your P-TA safety chairman and have her committee investigate and report to your P-TA board. The board can encourage officials to take needed steps.

Or perhaps you're aware of a family without money? The children need shoes and winter clothes, but their parents can't get them. Since funds are available, go to your P-TA welfare chairman and tell her the situation. The help can be given quietly, without embarrassment.

Are your schools crowded? Do you need a bond election so new buildings can be created? If you tell your P-TA president, she can work with her district council to get things started. She can help with the election campaign. And she can arrange to have mothers transport voters to the polls on election day.

Maybe you believe that some of the state school laws are obsolete, and need changing? Take your ideas to your legislative chairman. She can forward them to the state P-TA board, for review. In most states the P-TA is the prime mover in school law reforms. The P-TA doesn't play politics, but politicians listen when it speaks.

Many schools are having their P-TA membership drives this week. Will you join? I hope so. And be sure to help in the work of this great organization all year long. Thank you, friends.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

There Are At Least Two Types Of Shoes That Don't Torture Foot

Van Dellen

There are at least two types of shoe that do not compress the foot or torture the toes. They are well ventilated, easy to keep clean, and cheap. The first is the thong toe type of sandal and the other is the Dutch wooden clog.

Both are comfortable and have been used for centuries in various parts of the world. The thong sandal does not press anywhere and the rubber strap keeps the big toe straight so that the development of bunions is minimized. The clog is said to be most comfortable and it gives metatarsal support, especially when orthopedically carved. It is not conducive to running but the shoe is not made for this purpose.

THE THONG of the oriental type sandal (zories or goaheads) is made of rubber and Dr. Harold Shellow of Chicago has reported several instances of allergic reactions to this substance. An eruption arises in sensitive individuals between the big and adjoining toe as well as along the top of the foot where the thong runs back into the sole of the sandal. The eruption clears when the zories are not worn.

Orthopedically modified wooden clogs are popular in Denmark and are said to give good support for those with flat feet. The best soles are made of alderwood and some have rubber heels, sponge insoles, or metatarsal supports. The tops usually are oxhide. There is plenty of wiggle room when these shoes are worn without laces.

THONG SANDALS offer no protection against the weather, falling bricks, or fellow passengers on a crowded bus. The old fashioned wooden shoe or modified clog offers more along this line. American shoe manufacturers get gray hair trying to design shoes that fit yet have style.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

NOT FROM KISSING

I. C. writes: I'm a high school senior and last year I was in the hospital for five weeks with infectious mononucleosis. Ever since, my classmates have been teasing me about the "kissing disease." Please print in your column that the disease does not always come from kissing.

REPLY

Several years ago an army physician blamed the spread of this viral disease on kissing because so many West Point cadets developed it a few weeks after returning from vacation. This cause has not been substantiated and in all probability the disease is spread via the air, direct contact, or contaminated fingers. You should know whether it came from kissing but don't protest too much and your fellow students will stop teasing. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on infectious mononucleosis.

SPINAL CURVATURE

J. H. writes: Besides taking aspirin, can anything be done for backache due to curvature of the spine?

REPLY

Yes. Make a concentrated effort to improve your posture, even to the extent of wearing a brace or special corset. Meanwhile, strengthen the back muscles through exercise.

DISEASES FROM PIGEONS

H. L. M. writes: Do pigeons cause any other disease besides pneumonia?

REPLY

Yes. They have been blamed for many fungal and viral diseases.

ANTI-CANCER DRUGS

W. B. writes: How long do the new drugs arrest the growth of cancer?

REPLY

Some not at all; others, for years. It depends upon the type of cancer and the drug used.

BENDING AFTER SURGERY

L. A. writes: How soon after the gall bladder is removed can a person bend?

REPLY

In a few days, but it might hurt.

Former Pole Now U.S. Citizen

Kazimierz Janka of Mill Valley, stateless for 17 years, is now a United States citizen.

The civil engineer with Bechtel Inc. of San Francisco was born in Poznan, Poland. During World War II he did forced labor in Germany as a school boy.

In 1945 he returned to Poland to see his mother and was taken into the Polish Army, under Communist rule, and educated until he was 21.

"But he didn't like it," said his wife, Celia Joy Janka, "and he escaped."

As an army deserter, Mrs. Janka added, he made his way to Germany and then to Italy, where he joined General Anders of the Second Polish Corps. He served one year with the corps, which was affiliated with the British Army, and was discharged in England.

"The Polish Army was in exile in England. They set up schools in deserted army camps. Men were given scholarships by the British government through the corps of the exiled Polish government. "Kaz," as Mrs. Janka calls her husband, "won a four year scholarship and became an engineer. He was an alien in England, however.

"Thousands of Poles in Britain became citizens and married British girls," said Mrs. Janka. "We met in London in 1954 and were married in 1955."

In 1957 the Jankas came to the United States on Mrs. Janka's British passport. They live at 222 Meda Lane and are expecting their first child. "We have registered and plan to vote Nov. 6," Mrs. Janka said.

The Jankas like Mill Valley and Sausalito, the latter city reminding them very much of Devon and Cornwall, England.

Janka received his citizenship with 300 others in televised ceremonies at the Masonic Temple in San Francisco during the time of the American Bar Assn. meeting.

Also a new citizen in Mill Valley is Dr. Frank Henning Gotamo Bauer. From Hamburg, Germany, Bauer is a doctor of obstetrics and gynecology.

He and his wife, Lieselotte, and three sons, Walter, 4, Martin, 2, and Christopher, 17 months, live at 60 Linden Lane. The Bauer boys are American-born; Mrs. Bauer has taken out her papers to become a citizen.

Bauer, who was a doctor in Germany, has done specialty training in America. His office is in San Francisco.

Another new citizen who is but 16 months old is Nicola Flora Ebenau. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Ebenau, who were guests of Mrs. W. E. Van Dyke at 112 Edgewood Avenue at the time Nicola received her citizenship. The Ebenau's are Americans; Nicola is adopted. The family is now living in England.

Vehicle Proposal On Tap

Members of the Marin County Board of Education tonight will consider the proposed purchase of three station wagons to be added to an existing fleet of three used to transport physically handicapped children to Marindale School.

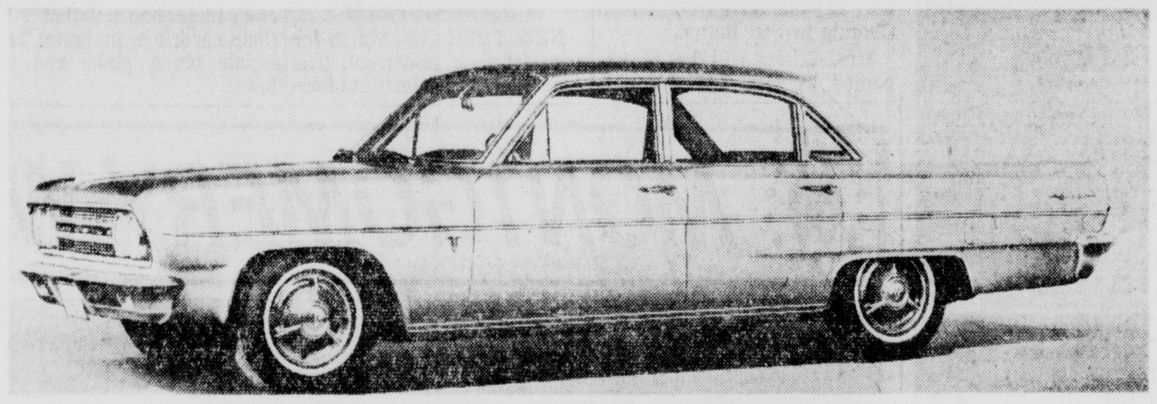
Dr. R. S. Kupfer, assistant superintendent of administrative services, explained that Marindale enrollment has increased by about 20 pupils to a total of 80 this year. He also said that the added station wagons would stop the present practice of having many large buses go out of their way to pick up the retarded pupils at their front doors as required.

Members of the county board will also consider the purchase of a new audio visual truck to replace one that was damaged in an accident on Highway 101 this summer. The panel truck was driven by William E. Morris, assistant in charge of distribution. He was not injured.

Dr. Kupfer said it would probably be better economics to buy a new truck than have the old one repaired. This decision will be up to the board.

Morris, 71, is retiring from his job. The board was to consider the possibility of additional retirement benefits for him that would be available because of previous employment with the schools office. However, the benefits would require an added contribution from him, and he decided not to seek it, Dr. Kupfer said.

The board will also get a report on Mrs. Lillian Anderson, teacher of severly mentally retarded children. She was sick last spring and has only been able to teach four days this fall. She may have to resign, Dr. Kupfer said.



OLDSMOBILE F-85 FOR 1963

All 1963 Oldsmobile F-85 models have been designed to look more like other members of the family. This deluxe sedan typifies the new styling. The F-85 retains its 112-inch wheelbase but has been increased four inches overall. Models will be shown Oct. 4 at Scripture Oldsmobile, San Rafael.

Bus Request Before Council

Six public hearings are scheduled for tonight's meeting of the San Rafael City Council, along with the proposal of Robert L. Peterson, Richard Smith and associates to operate a bus system on city streets.

The council will meet at 8 p.m. with Vice Mayor Charles W. Aby in the chair in the absence of Mayor John F. McInnis, who is in the Soviet Union as leader of a Marin tour.

Public hearings will be held on annexation of Patrick J. Tarrant lands to the city, a protest by Tarrant to conditions imposed by the city planning commission on a proposed new subdivision, amendments to the sign ordinance and subdivision ordinance, and rezoning of Porto Bello between Point San Pedro Road and the San Rafael Canal.

Annexation of Terra Linda Oaks 9, an area outside both the city and the Terra Linda Community Services District, will also be up for consideration. Residents petitioned about 20 months ago for annexation, but delay was necessitated when the area was lumped in with other Terra Linda areas which voted down annexation last year.

The council may act on appointment of successor on the planning commission to Elmer Wechsler, who submitted his resignation last week, and reappointment or replacement of Orlando Conti, whose term has expired.

KENNETH E. ROBIN
Commands battalion

Engineer Battalion Gets CO

Robin, employed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Rafael as division sales supervisor, took over command of the California Army National Guard unit, with headquarters in Santa Rosa, on Sept. 17.

Robin is married and the father of three children. He began his military service in 1943 when he enlisted in the Army Air Corps as a private, gaining his commission in 1945 as a pilot.

He joined the 579th Engineer Battalion in 1949 as a second lieutenant and attended the Army Engineer School at Fort Belvoir, Va., three times.

Marine Trains

Marin Lance Cpl. James A. McClure, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan McClure of 407 Ash Street, Mill Valley, was among nearly 600 marines of the Third Battalion, First Marine Regiment, who completed eight weeks of rigorous field training at Camp Pendleton.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Manager Of New Mill Valley Car Dealer Is San Rafael Resident

The newly opened Chrysler-Plymouth dealer in Mill Valley—James L. Walker, Inc., 505 Miller Avenue—will have San Rafael resident John M. Brusati as sales manager.

Brusati, for many years at Rossi Garage, San Rafael, has had an extensive background in Chrysler-made products. He'll start immediately, showing off the new models.

CHEDA'S GARAGE (Cheda Chevrolet), Point Reyes Station, has received an AAA award for outstanding service to the motoring public. The award was presented to Adolph Cheda by Joseph B. Rice, a vice president of the California State Automobile Assn.

The west Marin automotive firm has been operated by the Cheda family since 1923 and has been affiliated with CSAA and AAA since that time. A. R. Cheda owned and ran the business until his death in 1956, when his son Adolph took over.

LONGER WARRANTY PERIOD — Both General Motors and Ford Motor Co. have extended their warranty periods on new model passenger cars and trucks to 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first. All lines are covered. This doubles the previous 12-month, 12,000-mile warranties on most models.

ON THE CUFF—That's the way many people would like to buy stocks, according to the San Rafael office of Irving Lundborg and Co., which reports a sizable number of phone calls asking if it's possible to "charge it."

There was a time, many years ago, we understand, when it amounted to virtually just that. At least up to 1929. Not popular since then.

AND SPEAKING of credit, the American Hotel Assn. has settled its litigation against American Express Co. over a variety of technical questions and has agreed to endorse and promote the latter's credit cards among 5,600 member hotels and motels.

EDWARD J. MARTENS of San Rafael has been appointed cashier of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco. He joined the bank in 1928; was appointed assistant cashier in 1958 and assistant vice president in 1961.

HAROLD DE LUCCHI of Lagunitas has been promoted to regional manager of Field Enterprises Educational Corp. for Marin and Sonoma counties. He has been Marin district manager since July, 1961.

The firm publishes World Book Encyclopedia, Childcraft, Cyclo-teacher and World Book Encyclopedia Dictionary.

AWARD WINNERS: Dolly Marsh of the men's clothing department and Gerhard Zimmerman of the shoe department at Montgomery Ward and Co., Corte Madera.

DRESSMAKER Mrs. Millicent Storojev who's been doing her work at home on Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo, has increased business so much it meant larger quarters. She's now in downtown San Anselmo at 36 Magnolia Avenue—lives upstairs, works downstairs.

She has been in the county two years; formerly was associated with House of Charm and Robert Powers.

Business Pins Hope On Spending Season

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Now is the time for you to come to the aid of the economy.

And the nation's merchants and many of its industrialists are betting that you will, now that the spending season—known on the business calendar as the fourth quarter—is starting.

Troublesome as the summer quarter was for many industries (notably steel), its overall report card was a lot better than many had feared. With that as a fairly solid base, the October - November - December quarter should follow its seasonal pattern and send consumer spending to new highs.

What may happen in 1963 is something else again, but the signs today are for rising retail sales in the next few weeks and increasing production in many industries at least this month and next.

These widely held expectations are based both on seasonal patterns and on the sound base for much of the economy.

The latter includes high personal incomes and savings, record employment totals, and a fairly calm public acceptance of or resignation to the risks and uncertainties of world and domestic affairs.

Even the stock market breaks of May and June, which alarmed the pulse takers, failed to jolt the public much, beyond making it less inclined to speculate.

Many merchants count on the final eight to 12 weeks of the year to make the difference between a so-so year and a quite profitable one by providing up to 40 per cent of the year's total sales volume. The pattern is far from universal, however.

Good retail sales volume in coming weeks will put merchants in position to order again from manufacturers.

Margaret Knows Her Own Money

A folded $1 bill was turned in to county fair officials.

Later Margaret reported losing a $1 bill. Fair officials showed her the one turned in.

"Sorry, that isn't mine," said Margaret. "I fold my dollar bills defferently."

Fixture Stolen

Clarence Eugene Cannedy told San Rafael police yesterday that while he and his children were at church and his wife upstairs watching television, someone walked into his home at 420 Prospect Drive and stole a $20 lighting fixture from his dining room ceiling. Nothing else was taken, he said.

Dog Eats Socks From Clothesline

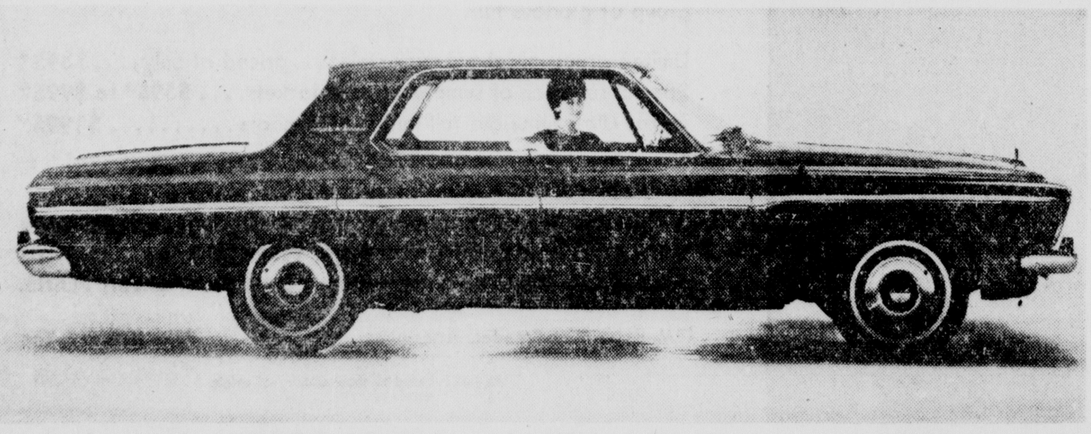
"He just goes up in the air and takes alternate socks," Howard said in a baffled tone.

Several brands of dog repellent have been applied to the socks. Once they were even sprinkled with cayenne pepper.

Bowling Lessons Set For Retarded Children

Bowling lessons for mentally retarded school children will be given from 3 to 4 p.m. each Thursday at Greenbrae Lanes, 101 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae.

Instructor will be Rose Paganini, a certified instructor with experience with the handicapped. A 75-cent fee covers use of the lanes, shoe rental and instruction. Classes are sponsored by Marin Aid to Retarded Children. Those interested may call Mrs. Ruth Ghilotti.



1963 PLYMOUTH FURY

Sharp new roof line and longer rear deck of the 1963 Plymouth are emphasized in this Fury four-door hardtop. The 1963 Plymouth is three inches longer and an inch wider than 1962 models, but retains its 116-inch wheelbase in all body types. Cars are expected to be available for showing Oct. 3 at Jack L. Hunt and Rossi Garage, San Rafael and at James L. Walker, Inc., Mill Valley.

Dear Maude:—

You said when you found a house of your dreams, it would have to be new, and yet have complete charm, and above all, PRIVACY, and a view that went as far as Mt. Diablo, the Bay, and above all, Mt. Tamalpais.

You also made a specific request it must have a different fireplace . . . preferably a massive rock type . . . you said, it must have original design . . . like maybe an amber mullioned glass entry . . . that it had to have 3 large bedrooms with their own private deck . . . that the bathrooms must be elegant . . . that the kitchen must be perfection with every conceivable built-in . . . that it must have a fabulous living room with a gigantic deck and above all . . . NO GARDENING! You certainly asked for everything possible that would be in a perfect home . . . AND we finally found it . . . for only $26,500! Get over here quick and bring your check book!

P.S.—We didn't forget your low-down-payment request either —we have a most agreeable seller!

1963 RAMBLER CLASSIC

New Ramblers look longer but are more than an inch shorter than past models. Overall height is reduced three inches. Curved sideglass is standard permitting increased interior room because of reduced thickness in door panels. Cars go on sale Oct. 6 at Dexter Car Co., San Rafael and Larry Brink Motors, Mill Valley.

Wheels Stolen From Stalled Car

So she left her 1959 Rambler station wagon sitting on a fire trail overlooking North San Pedro Road for the night and walked home to 11 Roosevelt Avenue, Santa Venetia.

At 10 a.m. she went with her husband, Robert, to get the car and found two wheels and tires missing. They left to get a tire. On return at 1:30 p.m. the Owens discovered someone had returned and taken the remaining three tires — and attempted to remove the radio and radiator.

Sanitary Directors Will Be Seated

To be seated as directors are John R. Adlard, former chairman of the Corte Madera planning commission, and John P. Seymour, president of the Marin Estates Homeowners Assn. They were elected Sept. 11.

SUNNY HILLS BENEFIT

Much Work Goes Into Grape Fete

Among the first to arrive at the Sunny Hills Grape Festival site in San Anselmo Saturday morning—and among the last to leave that night — will be Mre. Helen Zweig of Kentfield.

When she and her 15-year-old son John arrive Saturday morning, they'll just be going back to work. Mrs. Zweig has been on the job at the festival site already for some days. For she is general chairman for the Grape Festival, a job she's held for nine years.

It is her responsibility to see that all is in readiness for smooth handling of the 7,000 adults and children who will throng through the Sunny Hills Presbyterian Home grounds within eight hours for the annual fund-raising carnival.

It's far from a one-man (or one-woman) job, however, Mrs. Zweig points out. The Grape Festival has help from many volunteers.

To control insect pests on the site where vast quantities of food are sold during the festival, Jack Phillips of Sohner Tree Service and Nathan Erb of Erb Tree Service are on the job early.

In addition to spraying all ant hills, Phillips and his workers haul in greenery to decorate the festival booths.

Erb is the festival's one-man bee controller. He started this nine years ago after a bee-infested Grape Festival at which 36 persons, including the chairman, were stung.

Erb starts his work a month ahead of the big day, to make sure there is no concentration of bees within a quarter mile of the festival grounds.

"Our most successful counterattack is fish," he says. "Markets donate slightly ripe fish heads and tails, and these are hung in the high branches of trees. They keep what bees are left busy up top, so they aren't so interested in the food down below. We use both cod and salmon, but my personal feeling is that the bees prefer the salmon."

A problem of a different nature for Mrs. Zweig is having a supply of electricity sufficient to keep the ice cream cold and the tamale pie hot.

Here she is helped by Pacific Gas and Electric Co., whose men this year have installed a second power pole with connections for the numerous refrigerators and stoves.

The city not only gives permission for the festival to operate, but puts its own manpower to work for the event.

Fire Chief Nello M. Marcucci makes sure that a manned fire truck is on the festival grounds throughout the day, in case of any outbreak of fire in the wooded, booth-filled area.

The San Anselmo Police Department, head by Chief Raymond R. Buchignani and Asst. Chief Sam N. Serio, keep the festival grounds manned from Friday through Sunday. Additional police are put to work to control the great amount of traffic generated on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard by the festival.

Saturday is our busiest day of the year," says Chief Buchignani, "and we have five men and a sergeant on duty all day long."

Even though the Grape Festival booths are readied the day before the event, "we've never lost anything," says Mrs. Zweig, "because of the fine cooperation of San Anselmo police in providing men on the field and radio patrol cars for overnight guard."

Another major chore is that of David Nichols of D. J. Nichols Construction Co. and Bernhard Foster, consultant and field director. Between them they oversee setting up of the whole grounds, from construction of booths and repair of tables to placing of refrigerators.

The team work pays off. "It's amazing how smoothly everything goes," says Mrs. Zweig, as she prepares to put in long and hard hours to make sure that it does.

County Farm Going Before Board Of Supervisors For Discussion

Future uses of the Marin County Convalescent Hospital and Farm may again be before the board of supervisors tomorrow for discussion.

Bracing of the hospital walls was completed last May, but the job was only to cover a two-year "emergency situation" until bed patients would be removed and the hospital would cease operation as a nursing home, according to a board resolution in February.

H. M. Engle, engineer in charge of the bracing project, has reminded the board of the temporary nature of the reconstruction and suggests a "complete project," estimated to cost $145,000.

County Administrator Alan Bruce has suggested that if the hospital buildings on Lucas Valley Road are to be used only for ambulatory residents and juvenile hall offices, further reconstruction may be unnecessary.

Bruce will submit information to the board on possible uses of the hospital, asking no action on Engle's proposal until a final decision is made as to the hospital's future.

Other items on the board's agenda, which opens at 9 a.m., include reports on installation of fixtures at the civic center and proposed "house rules" for the civic center.

Adult Classes Enrollment Down

Enrollment in the adult evening classes of the Tamalpais District is down from that of last year, but students are still being accepted for some courses, Principal Harry G. Russell has announced.

Total registration for classes at Sir Francis Drake High, Tamalpais High, and Marin City is 790. At the end of September last year the enrollment totaled 941. The previous year it was 821.

"Individual and Family Survival," scheduled at both Tam and Drake, a chorus class at Tam, and underwater safety at Drake have been discontinued. "Law for the Layman," may also be closed if enrollment does not increase, Russell said. It is taught on Tuesdays, 7:30 to 9:30, by Phillip W. Hoffmire at the Drake campus.

State Jr. College Conference Planned

Plans for the 34th conference of the California Junior College Student Government Assn., Nov. 15-17 at Asilomar, will be made by a committee of students of College of Marin, Napa Junior College and Santa Rosa Junior College tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. on the Kentfield campus.

The three colleges will jointly host the semi-annual conference. Marc Mezzetta, last spring's president of Associated Students of College of Marin, will be presiding officer.

Westmont Freshman

SCENE IN THE SOUTH

Federal troops entered the campus of the University of Mississippi early today and relieved U.S. marshals who had been cornered by rioters. The troops cleared the campus, and later Negro James H. Meredith enrolled. This afternoon Army Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker (below, center) was arrested for conspiracy to incite a rebellion. (AP photo)

GIs Stop Ole Miss Riot, Negro Starts Classes

Two Dead, Scores Hurt In Race Crisis

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI)—Negro James Meredith registered today at the Universtiy of Mississippi and began attending classes on a campus littered with the debris of a major riot that took two lives and injured at least 75 persons.

"It is not a happy occasion," he said.

About 400 U.S. deputy marshals and 1,000 federal troops guarded the campus as the 29-year-old Negro cracked the segregation barriers of the 114-year-old school.

The campus was brought under military control early today but the rioting spread to downtown Oxford and at least one soldier was hurt in a barrage of rocks, timbers and pop bottles before the crowd was dispersed with tear gas and reinforcements were brought in.

Meredith, whose determination to desegregate "Ole Miss" brought about a conflict that threatened to rock the federal union, walked solemnly to an American colonial history class at 9 a.m. (CST) to shouts of "nigger, nigger" and "was it worth two deaths?"

He was accompanied to the classes by three deputy marshals and U.S. Department of Justice representative Ed Guthman.

The Negro was met at the registrar's office by University registrar Robert B. Ellis who handed him a stack of forms. The historic occasion was concluded quietly.

Meredith, who caught a whiff of the tear gas that clouded the campus early today, rubbed his eyes occasionally.

President John F. Kennedy, who caught only four hours sleep during the troubled night, was in close touch with the situation. His radio-television appeal to the students last night failed to quell rioting that broke out when the campus and town learned that Meredith, turned away three times, had been brought onto the campus.

LITTER ON CAMPUS

The campus, littered today with burned out automobiles, spent tear gas grenades, broken glass and other assorted rubble, was under virtual martial law. An estimated 400 U.S. marshals and 1,000 federal troops kept a firm grip on the order.

The normally sleepy college town of Oxford was in the same conditions by noon today. Truckloads of troops roared toward courthouse square to put down a fresh outbreak of rioting that threatened to continue throughout the day.

ONE INJURED

At least one soldier was reported injured in the downtown rioting when a pop bottle hit him about the head and shoulders. The crowd of several hundred, apparently mostly young people, was made even furious by the fact that the troops trying to keep order included a number of Negroes.

At least 75 persons were arrested last night and early today, including a Decatur, Ga., man, Melvin Bruce, 24, identified as a frequent companion of members of the American Nazi Party. He was accused by military authorities of sniping at the marshals last night with a powerful rifle.

THE DEAD

The dead were identified as Paul Guihard, correspondent for the French news agency, who was found dead of a bullet wound in the back, and Ray Gunter, 23, an Oxford resident.

Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, who resigned his Army commission under fire for his rightist viewpoints, was seen during the rioting congratulating the students. He reappeared downtown this morning in a big, white Texas hat and began shaking hands but was ushered out of courthouse square at bayonet point.

Walker, who commaned federal troops that former Dwight D. Eisenhower sent to Little Rock during the school integration crisis in 1957, said he

Gen. Walker Is Arrested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy announced the arrest today of former Army Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker on charges of inciting a rebellion or insurrection.

Kennedy said Walker was arrested at a military roadblock near Oxford, Miss., and would be arraigned later today.

Earlier in the Senate Walker, who had participated in the rioting at the University of Mississippi, was described as possibly a "sick man" who "ought to be committed" and was linked with "violent segregationists or psychopaths."

Kennedy said these charges also have been filed against Walker:

Conspiracy to incite a rebellion or insurrection.

Assaulting a federal officer.

Justice Department officials said the conspiracy to incite rebellion charges carries a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison and a fine of $20,000.

Execution of such conspiracy, as distinguished, involves a maximum penalty of 10 years and $10,000, they said.

The penalty for conspiring to hinder a federal officer could be up to five years in prison and $6,000 and for assaulting a federal officer could be three years and $5,000.

The Justice Department said Walker's arrest came at about 2 p.m. on the outskirts of the strifetorn college town of Oxford, Miss., and an immediate arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Omar Craig was being arranged.

Sen. Wayne Morse, (D-Ore.), told the Senate that if Walker led students in rioting against federal authority he should be charged with "inciting an insurrection."

"As an ex-Army officer," Morse said, "Walker's conduct is all the more reprehensible."

Sen. Stephen M. Young, (D-Ohio) told the Senate this is a time for cool heads, and not for "the rantings of violent segregationists or psychopaths such as ex-Gen. Edwin A. Walker."

Young said if Walker made the statements attributed to him, "I am glad he is an ex-general and a private citizen instead of in command of any youth in this country."

"I hold him in utmost contempt for his appearance on the campus of this great university, 'Ole Miss,' and for attempting to lead a charge of some 1,000 unruly rioters against United States marshals," Young said.

Marin City Boy, 10, Woman, 80, Drown At Marin Shores

A child and an elderly woman drowned in Marin Saturday.

Ten-year-old John A. Marbury Jr. of Marin City lost his life when he reportedly slipped off an inner tube on which he was floating 20 feet off shore of the A.G. Schoonmaker Co. property in Sausalito.

Mrs. Freda Smith, 80, of Sacramento, died after she fell into the water while fishing from a small boat at the mouth of Dillon's Bay.

The Marbury boy, a fourth grader at Richardson Bay School in Sausalito, had gone into the water with a friend, James Porter, 14, also of Marin City. John could not swim; James could. John took an inflated tube into the water as a buoy.

At about 2:30 p.m., Tommy Thomas, 12, of Sausalito, playing nearby on the shore with his friend, Kenny Harris, 12, of Mill Valley, noticed that John's inner tube was bobbing on the water with no sign of the boy.

Police and firemen were called.

Police Chief Howard Goerndt, with assistance of police reserve Thomas L. Brown of Mill Valley and LeRoy French of San Rafael, recovered John's body after skin diving for about one hour.

The boy is survived by his mother, Mrs. John A. Marbury Sr., who lives at 107 Drake Avenue; his father, an x-ray technician in Los Angeles; two brothers, Victor, 11, and Ambrose, 8, and a sister, Helen, 7.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Bryant and Osborne Funeral Directors, San Francisco.

An autopsy was to be held today at Parent Funeral Home in Petaluma where Mrs. Smith was taken after she was pronounced dead at Lawson's Landing at Dillon Beach. Funeral services will be held in Sacramento.

Sheriff's deputies reported that Mrs. Smith was fishing at 1:30 p.m. with her son-in-law, Jack Stanley, also of Sacramento. Waves capsized their 14-foot boat and another small boat in which Mrs. Smith's son-in-law, George Bushden, was riding nearby.

Mrs. Smith was unable to swim. The men righted one of the boats, pulled Mrs. Smith from the water and placed her in it.

Merle Lawson, operator of Lawson's Landing, rescued the party. Mrs. Smith was given artificial resuscitation.

Mrs. Smith was pronounced dead on the landing by a doctor who had also been at Dillon's Beach fishing.

Mrs. Smith was alive when pulled from the water but was believed to have died for lack of resuscitation and medical aid.

Kentfield Duplexes Denied By Planners

Strongly protested requests to build duplexes and apartment houses along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield were denied today by the Marin County Planning Commission.

More than 25 residents of the single-family residential area objected to the multiple zoning. During the noisy hearing, Chairman William Upton had to ask the protestants several times to "refrain from such enthusiastic demonstrations."

Action on rezoning requests by Donald Day, 838 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, and other residents was continued from previous hearings for consideration of architectural control if rezoning were to be granted.

But Sydney Shaw, planning staff member, said sufficient control could not be exercised over future development, and new apartments would create more traffic congestion on the boulevard.

Attorney Leland H. Jordan, representing protesting homeowners, suggested: "A firm upholding of single family zoning might cause general improvements in those few places which are not well kept."

The commission unanimously denied two petitions for zoning and denied a third such request by a 5-to-2 vote. Commissioners George Scott and Edward K. Wachsman voting in favor.

Commission Rules Out Point Reyes Business Zone

Commercial zoning for property on the Point Reyes Peninsula was unanimously denied today by the Marin County Planning Commission.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs told commissioners: "Rezoning is a function of time and events . . . This is not yet the time for commercial development in that area, and events have occurred which make it unlikely people will be living close by, since the Point Reyes National Seashore has been approved and the president has asked for funds to buy the land.

"Any rezoning is now an academic question."

In August, Benjamin P. Bonelli, attorney for developers of Drake Beach Estates, asked for a showdown on the rezoning request if the national seashore did not become a sure thing before October.

Bonelli was not present at today's final hearing on the rezoning.

Little Rock Was A Skirmish

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Relman Morin won a second Pulitzer Prize for his coverage of the 1957 Little Rock, Ark., desegregation crisis. At that time, Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker was in charge of troops enforcing federal court orders. Morin compares the Walker of 1957 with the Walker of 1962 and the two different situations.)

By RELMAN MORIN

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Little Rock was a skirmish. Oxford is a war.

The riots just five years ago in the capital of Arkansas were ugly and dangerous. In Oxford, the ugliness and danger is magnified to a gigantic scale.

ONE IRONY

And one of the ironies of the situation here is that former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who commanded the federal troops that took over Little Rock, is on the opposite side of the fence here.

Walker whipped up the students and others on the campus of the University of Mississippi last night, when it became know that James H. Meredith, Negro, was on the campus.

After the Little Rock riots, Walker said that he found his duty there distasteful.

PRO SOLDIER

However, at the time, he was the crisp and professional soldier who gave no sign of his feelings. He set up his command post at the corner of Central High School—the object of the riots.

The contrast is most marked

Works Bill Is Passed By Senate

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The Senate today passed 63-8 and sent to conference with the House the $5,211,271,400 public works money bill.

The Senate began debating the bill Saturday, defeating 44-16 a Republican attempt to chop 200 million dollars off the 500 million dollars carried in the bill for job-making projects in distressed areas.

This 500-million dollar allotment was included under the 900-million dollar emergency public works authorization requested by President John F. Kennedy and sent to him by Congress Sept. 10.

The bill contains $1,060,000,000 for rivers and harbors and flood control projects, 338-million dollars for reclamation works, $3,153,000,000 for the Atomic Energy Commission, and several minor allowances.

As passed by the senate, the bill exceeded the House total by 597 million dollars but was 440 million dollars less than Kennedy's budget requests.

Boat Wreckage Found Off Coast

The Coast Guard said the wreckage of the 32-foot fishing boat North Wind was found today six miles northwest of Point Reyes.

The owner, Hilden C. Rogers, 30, was the only person aboard when the North Wind left its home port, Bodega Bay, at 6 a.m. yesterday for San Francisco.

Last evening wreckage, identified as from the North Wind, washed up on the beach from Point Reyes northward for three miles.

Veterinarian Dies; Auto Avoided Cat

A San Rafael veterinarian swerved his car early yesterday to avoid hitting a cat, cut his head when it struck a car window, and died three hours later after first refusing hospitalization.

An autopsy today failed to disclose a cause of death.

Dr. James Henry Willmore, 53, of 83 Bret Harte Road, owner of Willmore's Pet Hospital in Larkspur, was found by Police Officer Gerald Souza at 1:33 a.m. yesterday lying beside Bret Harte Road, about 50 yards from where his pickup truck hung over an embankment, its front wheels on the shoulder of the road.

Police were called by Jack W. Liljeberg of 301 Bret Harte Road, who was awakened by some youths who saw the truck dangling over the edge of the road. Several neighbors meantime arrived and covered Willmore with a blanket.

Willmore told the officer he had swerved his truck to avoid hitting a cat. The truck slipped off the road, and as he attempted to get it back on the street, the rear end dropped over the edge of the embankment. He cut his head against a window of the truck.

He refused to be taken to a hospital until urged by Souza and others. He walked to the patrol car, and walked into the emergency room at San Rafael General Hospital. He was admitted to the hospital, and died at 4:45 a.m.

Dr. David Johnson, who attended him, said the injury might have contributed to a heart attack, but no cause of death was apparent. Dr. Henry J. Plumhof, who performed the autopsy, said there was no visible cause of death. A pathological report was awaited.

"We are not listing this as a traffic death, pending the pathological report," said Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

Willmore had resided in Marine County for 36 years and had been a doctor of veterinary medicine for 20 years. He was born in Preston, Idaho.

He was a member of the Marin County Veterinarians Assn., Marin County Humane Society, Redwood Empire Veterinarian Assn., California Camellia Society, and Latter-Day Saints Church.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Latter-Day Saints chapel in Greenbrae. Inurnment will be in Preston, Idaho. Friends may call at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael, until 9 p.m. tomorrow.

The family prefers that tributes be contributions to the Diabetic Youth Foundation, 1429 Fourth Avenue, San Francisco.

WOUNDED IN OXFORD RIOT—State highway patrolman Wibley Brunt is rolled into a hospital in Jackson, Miss., after he was flown there from Oxford where he was wounded by a tear-gas shell during rioting on the University of Mississippi campus. Two persons were killed in the rioting. Early today federal troops took over the campus and drove off rioters. (AP Wirephoto)

Duty To Call Troops, JFK Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy declared it was his inescapable duty to call out troops when Mississippi defied court orders to enroll a Negro at the state university.

Grim, yet conciliatory at times, the president said last night in a short radio-television address to the nation that he hoped it would be unnecessary to use troops, even though conciliation and persuasion had failed to obtain admission of James H. Meredith.

After his address, Kennedy sat beside the telephone in his office getting up-to-the-minute reports on rioting, gunfire and teargas sweeping across the university campus at Oxford — and the arrival on the scene of federal military reinforcements.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and several members of the White House staff kept the vigil with the chief executive.

Courts of law, all the way up to the Supreme Court, Kennedy said in his speech, ordered Meredith's admission into the university. When the orders were defied and those who tried to carry them out were threatened with arrest and violence, the U. S. Court of Appeals "made clear the fact that the enforcement of its order had become an obligation of the United States government."

"Even though this government had not originally been a party to the case," the chief executive said, "my responsibility as president was therefore inescapable. I accept it.

"I deeply regret the fact that any action by the executive branch was necessary in this case but all other avenues and alternatives, including persuasion and conciliation, had been tried and exhausted."

A peaceful and sensible solution would have been possible without federal intercession, Kennedy said, had Mississippi's police powers been used to support court orders instead of "deliberately and unlawfully blocking them" and had the university quietly admitted Meredith.

Kennedy said students have been admitted, regardless of race, to universities in nine other Southern states.

The president had put off his address for two and one-half hours, from 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. In the interval, U. S. marshals had installed Meredith on the Ole Miss campus and governor, Ross Barnett, had acknowledged "we are physically overpowered."

Barnett, who had been cited for contempt for spurning court orders to permit Meredith's enrollment, still protested hotly that the federal government was destroying the Constitution and trampeling on state sovereignty.

But he said in a statement he abhored prospects of bloodshed and was urging all Mississippians and instructing state officers to "do everything in their power to preserve peace and to avoid violence in any form."

Kennedy avoided any dressing down of Barnett by name. As he spoke students at the university were ignoring the governor's appeal to avoid violence.

Kennedy closed his talk with an appeal of his own to the students to uphold the law and accede with honor to the admission of a Negro in their midst.

Goldberg Takes Place On Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy took time out from the crisis at the University of Mississippi today to attend the opening of the new term of the Supreme Court.

Both the president and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, were present as Kennedy's appointee, Arthur J. Goldberg, took the oath as associate justice.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, six other Cabinet officers and many high government officials also were present.

Goldberg moved to the court from the post of secretary of labor.

Goldberg first took the constitutional oath in the justices' private conference room. Only the other justices were present.

The judges then entered the court with Goldberg taking a seat at the desk of the court clerk.

Chief Justice Earl Warren announced the retirement of Associate Justice Felix Frankfurter, paying tribute to him for his long service. Warren then announced that Goldberg had been named to replace Frankfurter, and Goldberg stepped forward to take the oath.

The whole ceremony took only six and one-half minutes. The president left almost immediately after it was over.

After the opening ceremonies, Warren turned quickly to routine business. The first item was the admission of 45 attorneys to practice before the Supreme Court.

After an 18-minute opening session, the court recessed until next Monday.

Goldberg's wife, son and daughter were in the marble courtroom when the new justic, wearing the black silk robe of the office, swore to administer justice equally, without respect to persons.

He is Kennedy's second appointment to the Supreme Court. His first, Byron R. White, was sworn in April 16.

This session, with a particularly heavy docket and expected to produce some momentous decisions, likely will tell whether their judicial views are liberial, conservative or somewhere in between.

At 54, Goldberg, son of Jewish immigrants, will be the third youngest member of the court. Justice Potter Stewart at 47 and Justice White at 45 are the youngest.

Goldberg joins the high tribunal when its dockets are crammed with more than 1,000 cases and some are certain to produce momentous decisions.

The court, for instance, will decide on:

The constitutionality of Bible reading and the saying of the Lord's Prayer in public schools.

The final outcome of sit-in racial demonstrations in the South.

Fixing of new standards for reapportionment of legislative districts in the states.

Before going on vacation last June 25, the court set up the heavy preliminary work load by agreeing to hear 83 appeals early in its new term. Among these are 12 cases argued last term and held over for reargument in the new term, presumably because the justices were unable to reach agreement.

As the 94th man to sit on the Supreme Court, Goldberg will serve with appointees of four presidents.

Two of the justices were named by Franklin D. Roosevelt—Hugo Black and William O. Douglas. Justice Tom C. Clark was appointed by President Harry Truman. Four are appointees of Dwight D. Eisenhower — Warren, John M. Harlan, William J. Brennan and Stewart.

13TH ANNIVERSARY

Moscow Snubs Red China Fete

TOKYO (AP) — The Soviet Union snubbed Red China's massive 13th anniversary celebration today, underlining the continuing rift between the giants of communism.

More than 500,000 persons marched through the Square of Heavenly Peace in Peiping, but not a single Soviet official of importance sat in the reviewing stand with Chinese leader Mao Tze-tung.

Evidence of continuing tension in Peiping's relations with Moscow was coupled with admissions of shortcomings and mistakes on the home front — and a hint that a purge of some size is continuing.

The People's Daily, official organ of the party, said "in the past year, the class struggle our people experienced at home and internationally has been extremely complicated and acute."

The ideological dispute dividing Red China and the Soviet Union was aggravated last week by the visit of Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev to Yugoslavia, a constant target of Chinese Communist criticism.

Premier Chou En-lai in a speech last night lumped "modern revisionists" — apparently meaning Yugoslav President Tito and perhaps Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev — together with the United States, imperialists and reactionaries who said were trying to isolate Red China and force her to change her policies. Chou said such a campaign would never succeed.

The attack continued today in the keynote speech of Vice Premier-Foreign Minister Chen Yi in Peiping's Red Square. He called for unity in a struggle against "U. S. imperialist policies of aggression and war," an apparent dig at what Peiping considers a soft Soviet policy of peaceful coexistence with the West.

Khrushchev sent the usual telegram of congratulations, but he and other ranking Soviet leaders boycotted a rally in Moscow.

On domestic matters Chou En-lai told a Peiping reception last night, "The serious natural disasters for the three consecutive years from 1958 to 1961 and the shortcomings and mistakes in our work have indeed caused us difficulties."

Two Tropical Storms May Peril Space Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Two major storms — tropical storm Daisy in the Atlantic and typhoon Dinah in the Pacific—posed possible threats today to Walter M. Schirra Jr.'s projected six-orbit space flight, scheduled tomorrow.

Daisy was an immediate threat. Dinah was not expected to cause trouble unless the shot is delayed.

Daisy boiled up 420 miles east of Puerto Rico yesterday and the San Juan Weather Bureau reported winds up to 50 miles an hour in a small area near the center. The storm was following a course which would create a heavy sea problem Wednesday near Grand Turk Island, the ocean area where Schirra would land if trouble forced his flight to be terminated after three orbits.

Dinah was reported in the Pacific southeast of Japan. It could bring rough weather to the fifth and sixth orbits — east and northeast of Midway Island.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

T-H Law Invoked In Port Stoppage

NEW YORK (AP)—Longshoremen quit work on Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports today after their contract expired. Within 10 hours, President John F. Kennedy invoked the Taft-Hartley Act in an attempt to end the work stoppage.

The presidential action, the first step in Taft-Hartley machinery, appeared to be the only immediate likelihood of bringing the unionized longshoremen back to docks from New England to Texas.

Prospects for quick agreement of a new work contract seemed remote.

The White House said Kennedy would create a board of inquiry to report to him by Thursday on the nature and scope of the work stoppage. On the basis of the board's report, the President will decide whether to order the usual 80-day cooling off period.

Dutch Rule In Asia Ends

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea (AP)—Three centuries of Dutch colonial rule in Asia ended today with the raising of the United Nations flag over West New Guinea in a prelude to Indonesian takeover of the rugged jungle territory May 1.

The U.N. flag was hoisted alongside the Dutch flag over the former Dutch governor's palace under an agreement providing for U.N. administration of the territory for the next seven months.

End Of Dispute

Warning On Cuba

MIDLAND, Tex. (UPI) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson said yesterday America aims to get rid of both the Fidel Castro regime and Soviet influence in Cuba. "We are in this peace to win it," Johnson warned.

"We will cooperate with our allies. We will talk with our foes. We will respect the constructive views of those neutrals who show respect for our views. But we will let none stand in the way of America's determination that the peace shall be kept—and the freedom of mankind shall be preserved," he said.

Patrol Boat Sinks

KIEL, Germany (AP)—An East German naval patrol boat sank in the Baltic yesterday after colliding with the 1,864-ton British freighter Abbotsford, Kiel port authorities reported.

They said the boat's seven-man crew was rescued by three other East German patrol vessels. The Abbotsford continued toward Kiel, apparently undamaged.

Prison Break

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—Sixty-one condemned prisoners attempted a mass break from Pretoria's central prison last night. Three prisoners were killed and five guards wounded, officials said, before order was restored.

Wants Yemen Throne

ADEN (UPI)—The new Imam of Yemen was reported seeking Saudi Arabian support today for a counter-revolution in his little desert nation.

Seif Al-Islam Al-Hassan flew from Beirut to Djedda, Saudi Arabia, last night to try to enlist King Saud's aid in overthrowing the military junta which seized control of Yemen last week, informed sources said.

Al-Hassan proclaimed himself Imam (king) after reports that Imam Mohammed Al-Badr, Hassan's nephew, had been killed by the rebels.

Backs Red China

ALGIERS (AP)—A high Algerian official said last night the new nation will back the admission of Red China to the United Nations after Algeria itself is admitted.

Mohammed Kenmisti, Algerian foreign minister, made the statement at a reception given by the Communist Chinese charge d'affaires in Algiers to celebrate the 13th anniversary of the Communist takeover of China.

Boy Ankle Cuffs Self

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Patrolman Thomas Doherty knows a boy who just can't stay out of trouble.

The boy and some friends were at the police station for questioning when he stole Doherty's unguarded handcuffs. Later, he snapped them onto his ankle and damaged them in an unsuccessful attempt at getting them off.

The boy finally went back to the police station for help. In a Juvenile Court session, he and his parents were ordered to make restitution of $17 and the boy was placed on probation.

His car was sinking in the pavement.

Windsor's car was towed to safety before the hole widened to eight feet and deepened to 20.

NEW SKI LODGE? NO, IT'S A BANK

Getting finishing touches in San Rafael's Northgate Shopping Center is unusual all-steel, A-frame building to house Terra Linda branch of Wells Fargo Bank. A week ago the bank site was just a slab on the ground. Basic structure was completed in three days, using materials prefabricated by Butler Manufacturing Co. in Richmond. The bank is scheduled to open about Oct. 20.

Negro In Classes; Rioting Put Down

came here to take the other side and protest the use of federal force.

The campus rioting lasted more than eight hours and reached almost unbelievable heights. Many of the rioters were believed to be self-appointed vigilantes from the nearby countryside and from other parts of Mississippi and neighboring states.

Many were armed and bullets and shot whizzed across the campus much of the night.

One group of men tied down the accelerator of an automobile, jumped out and let it go in an attempt to mow down a group of marshals. It crashed into a tree before anyone was harmed.

The rioting in downtown Oxford this morning threatened for a time to become as violent and bloody but sufficient numbers of troops rushed in and, using time-honored riot control techniques, boxed the troublemakers into courthouse square.

Troops set up a skirmish line between downtown Oxford and the campus area and began moving in battle position along the line clearing it of anyone who seemed to be a troublemaker.

Troops in squad-sized groups moved outward from the skirmish line, clearing a wide area. Three soldiers jumped the hedge at the First Presbyterian Church and skirted across the lawn in the familiar stooped crouch of a soldier in an enemy town.

Presently troops began moving back to the square with young teen-agers marching reluctantly ahead of them. Eight were placed under arrest within 15 minutes.

Roving bands of young toughs, some of them beneath college age and some above, walked the streets, many of them carried rocks and clubs. There was no effort by local police, the sheriff's office or the state patrol to stop them although several patrol cars were observed passing by the groups.

The youths usually travelled in groups of about eight or 10 and walked the wide sidewalks of the downtown area in a belligerent manner.

Troops fired about a half-dozen shots over the heads of one group of youthful rock throwers.

Before the order to fire the tear gas was given Army truck's windshield was shattered by a large rock and a man leaped on a balcony to drop a big timber on a passing truck.

Tear gas flowed across courthouse square, where advancing lines of troops had pinned the rioters, and choking clouds of gas seeped into stores.

Smoking Tree A Puzzler

At 8 a.m., Ralph O. Boyer of 1 Corte Cordova in Greenbrae called the Kentfield Fire Department to report a passing boy had informed him the trunk of a large oak tree on his property at the corner of Los Cerros Drive was giving off smoke.

Firemen arrived to find not only a smoking tree, but a concrete curb beside it which was "red hot."

But there was no sign of a fire.

After digging at the base of the tree for two hours without finding the source of the smoke, firemen called Pacific Gas and Electric Co. A crew from the utility company reported the smouldering apparently was caused by the tree's roots breaking an underground street light cable and causing a short-circuit. They took up digging where the firemen left off, seeking the break.

STOCKS TODAY

Final prices were about the day's worst as a progressive decline met little in the way of support.

IBM was off about a dozen points in late dealings. Losses of about 5 apiece were shown by Xerox and Polaroid. Litton Industries dropped more than 2 and Texas Instruments more than 3.

The news background remained spotty and some analysts believed the market was headed for a test of the 1962 lows.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3.4 million shares compared with 2.85 million Friday.

SKIRMISH

by the size of the operations here. In Little Rock, it was largely quiet if you were three or four blocks from the school. In Oxford, there is little quiet anywhere. On the contrary, there is a brooding sense of disaster.

Several days ago, Walker said he planned to lead "tens of thousands" of volunteers to aid the cause of Gov. Ross Barnett.

But his only troops last night were a band of students and other persons whom he led in a charge on the positions of the federal marshals.

They got within 100 feet but the tear gas fumes repelled them.

Later, Walker was giving demonstrators advice on how to counteract the acrid tear gas fumes.

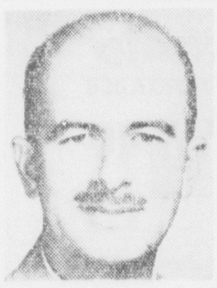
Walker marched ahead of a file of soldiers as though he were their inspecting officer.

Finally, an Army officer asked him to move. He refused. The officer ordered several soldiers carrying rifles with bayonets alongside Walker.

The soldiers held their bayonets within inches of the former general, but did not touch him. The officer said something to Walker and he walked off through the crowd.

Later today, Walker was arrested at a roadblock.



Muscular Paralysis Often Caused By Defective Spine

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Most of us are familiar with muscles like the biceps and triceps in the upper arm, and the thigh and calf muscles, but few of us are aware that there are nearly 700 muscles in the human body. The great majority of these are in pairs evenly distributed from scalp to toes and fingertips.

The muscles which move or act when we want them to are known as the striped muscles. They are the visible muscles which cover the body surface and the limbs. Some muscle tissue, however, is subject to the commands of nature only, and these are the smooth muscles. The heart muscle is a good example because it keeps on working under the guidance of nature whether we're asleep or awake, conscious or unconscious.

All muscles rely on the nervous system for the source of their power. A vast network of nerves supplies every single muscle with vital energy from the brain. The nerve supply to a group of muscles sometimes will fail and paralysis occurs.

The cause of the failure often will be found in the spine where a spinal bone (vertebra) has been pushed out of line. The misplaced bone may be pinching the nerve which supplies the paralyzed muscle. Fortunately, such conditions often can be corrected by Chiropractic.

Chirocractors are specialists in finding and correcting nerve interference in the spine painlessly and efficiently by means of hand adjustments. If the interference is corrected in time, before permanent damage can occur, the nerve once again will convey its full quota of power to the affected muscle. The paralyzed muscles then will regain much, if not all, of their former strength and usefulness.

Stuart Lloyd Jones, the Plymouth town clerk and his wife, were guests of Capt. and Mrs. A. S. Oko at Point Reyes Station. They visited the site where it is believed Drake careened the Golden Hind and made a 36-day encampment in 1579, and were feted at a cocktail party and buffet attended by Marin officials, including county supervisors and county clerk. Captain Oko is president of the Drake Navigators Guild.

County Clerk George H. Gnoss, whose position here in many respects corresponds with that of Lloyd Jones in Plymouth, was among those finding special interest in the copies of old town records.

Plymouth is a city of 212,000 population, which earned the title of "the City That Refused to Die," in its rebuilding after destruction by German Luftwaffe blitz attacks in World War II.

Lloyd Jones, besides the usual duties of town clerk, is a clerk of courts, returning officer for parliamentary divisions, and civil defense group controller for parts of Devon and Cornwall as well as Plymouth itself. He is in the United States to study local government and urban renewal, under the U.S. State Department's foreign leader program.

Plymouth, whence Drake sailed to defeat the Spanish Armada in 1588, dedicated a new 14-story civic center on July 22 of this year, with Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip officiating. Lloyd Jones was much interested in the very different civic center designed for Marin County by Frank Lloyd Wright, which is to be dedicated Oct. 13.

Scouts To Get Flag

A flag which has flown over the Capitol in Washington will be presented to Boy Scout Troop 11, Kentfield, at a court of honor to be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the Adaline E. Kent School. Scoutmaster Paul C. Mills announced today.

5-To-Life Given In Novato Holdup

John Henry Hill, 27, a janitor from Las Angeles, must spend five years to life in state prison for holding up Rayburn's Grocery in Novato on Aug. 17.

Hill held a loaded revolver on store manager Edward Fuller of Cotati and got away with almost $900 in cash. He pleaded guilty to first degree robbery. Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court today sentenced Hill to state prison.

Two other men, suspected of staging the holdup with Hill, are also accused of first degree robbery.

Cable Failure Cuts Power To 3,500, Radio

The power failure blacked out the Point San Pedro area and KTIM at 4:02 p.m. Power was not completely restored in the Marin Bay area for two hours and 26 minutes, at 6:20 p.m. Leonard Robertson, electrical superintendent for Pacific Gas and Electric Co., said power was off for 200 residents in Country Club Estates area for 53 minutes and in Bayside Acres, Loch Lomond and Glenwood subdivision for 59 minutes.

KTIM was affected, he said, because the station's transmitter on Point San Pedro Road feeds off the same electrical line.

Robertson said electrical crews, slowed down by the Sunday traffic, checked out the entire power line and finally located the bad cable in the Basalt Rock power plant. The reason for the failure, he said, is not known.

Novato Man 'Fighting Reds' Hospitalized

A Novato glazier, who wanted to barricade his home and fight off "invading Communists" with a 30-06 rifle last night, was disarmed by sheriff's deputies and sent to Napa State Hospital for observation.

William J. McKinney, 31, of 2075 Hatch Road told Sheriff's Deputies Charles Prandi and Arthur Wiggins that his wife would not go along with his plan to fight the "invasion" single-handed. He therefore cut his left wrist.

Officers took him to San Rafael General Hospital for treatment of his wrist, then sent him to Napa.

When Deputy Prandi went to the McKinney home about 10:30 p.m. and knocked on the door, McKinney shouted, "Get away from the door or I'll blow your head off!"

Finally convinced they were police officers, McKinney handed the rifle—unloaded— over to Deputy Prandi.

Flower Demonstration

A demonstration of grooming and preparing chrysanthemum blooms and plants for show competition will be given at the Oct. 8 meeting of the Chrysanthemum Society of Marin at 8 p.m. at the Crocker Anglo National Bank, Fourth and B streets, San Rafael.

132,681 Get Sabin Vaccine

Sabin oral polio vaccine, type 1, has been given to 132,681 Marinites in public clinics, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health director, announced today.

The county health office gave the sweet-tooth vaccine to 1,915 persons at the last of three "make-up days" Friday. This ran the total for the three days to 3,477.

In addition, the vaccine was given last week to 246 at St. Vincent's School for Boys, 45 at Sunny Hill Presbyterian Home, and 94 at Cedars Development School.

During K.O. Polio Sunday on Sept. 23, the sugar cube vaccine was given to 124,127 at 20 school building clinics. Prior to that, it had been given to 4,692 in advance clinics.

The grand total of 132,681 is just over 90 per cent of Marin County's 1960 census of 146,820. Latest estimate of the county's population by the state is 156,000—of whicch the total vaccinated represents about 85 per cent.

Dr. Albrecht pointed out that an unknown number of Marin residents have received the oral vaccine from private physicians, in addition to those vaccinated at the clinics.

Next K.O. Polio Sunday will be Nov. 4. Present plan is to give type 2 vaccine at that time.

Law Guild Offers Aid In Crisis

The National Lawyers Guild has offered the services of its members to assist the Department of Justice and the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People in the Mississippi integration dispute, its president, Benjamin Dreyfus of Mill Valley, announced today.

Dreyfus said the offer has been telegraphed to President John F. Kennedy and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy.

Dreyfus designated Herman Wright of Houston, Tex., vice president of the Lawyers Guild, and Benjamin Smith of New Orleans, an executive board member, to file appearances in behalf of the guild as a friend of the court backing the application of James H. Meredith for admittance to University of Mississippi.

In telegrams to Sylvester C. Smith Jr., president of the American Bar Assn., and Robert E. Lillard, president of the National Bar Assn., Dreyfus urged those associations to join the guild as friends of the court in the litigation in federal court in New Orleans.

A special committee of the guild offers legal assistance to segregation fighters in the South unable to obtain lawyers when needed, Dreyfus said.

$400 In Supplies Taken At College

William Raudio, maintenance superintendent, discovered the break-in this morning and called the sheriff at 8:10 a.m.

Identification Technician Edward Klementovich and Deputy Dennis Shine said the thief had crawled in through the north window of the store. Items missing including drafting equipment, pen and pencil sets, key chains and school rings.

Greenwood Beach Area Hits Trestle Glen School Site

Members of the Greenwood Beach property owners assn. plan to appear at a meeting of Tamalpais High School District trustees at 8 p.m. today to protest against choice of the 45-acre site for a new school, Mrs. Leslie J. Airth of 434 Tiburon Boulevard, announced.

She said 24 members of the association met at her home Saturday and decided on the protest. Her husband was chosen spokesman for tonight's meeting in the absence of Frederic M. Parke, president of the property owner association.

"The first we knew that this site would affect our area was when a neighbor saw a poster at the Bel Air shopping center saying not to let the new Tiburon Highway destroy the best site for the high school," she said.

She said the poster was done by hand in colored crayon and was anonymous. An aide at the high school district office said a similar poster had "been up for weeks" at the Embee Market in Tiburon.

Mrs. Airth said residents objected to a high school in the area for three reasons:

1. "Cost of the purchase would be too much.

2. "This is one of the natural coastlines left in the county.

3. "A re-routing of the Tiburon Highway would be caused and homes would be taken. One neighbor just paid $85,000 for his home."

David Van Pelt, principal planner for the Marin County planning department, said he and senior planner A'leen Runkle would present their findings on four possible Tiburon High School sites to tonight's meeting of the high school board.

"Trestle Glen is two sites, really," Van Pelt said.

He said that if the Tiburon Highway is relocated for a new San Francisco Bay crossing, the proposed high school site would be in a triangular-shaped area between the new highway and the old one. In this case, much of the Greenwood Beach area would be affected, Van Pelt and Miss Runkle said.

If the highway is rebuilt on its present line, the high school site would have to be on filled land. In this case, a smaller portion of the Greenwood Beach area would be affected, they said.

Melvin Darling Put To Death At San Quentin Gas Chamber

Melvin Darling, who asked for an early execution to pay for the murder he committed, was pronounced dead in the San Quentin gas chamber at 10:10 a.m. today.

Darling, 29, was convicted for slaying on Oct. 22, 1961, Alex T. Malcomson III, 35, a grandson of the man who originally helped finance Henry Ford.

Several months ago he petitioned San Francisco Superior Judge Gerald S. Levin to advance his date with death by a week. The judge refused.

Darling entered the gas chamber at 10 a.m. The lethal gas pellets were dropped at 10:03 a.m. and he was pronounced dead at 10:10 a.m.

During his trial Darling said he lured Malcomson to his hotel room for robbery, then shot, pistol whipped and strangled him. Darling fled to Seattle, was captured later in Long Beach, Calif.

The son of an El Cerrito housepainter, he had lived a high life by passing bad checks. But he spent most of the last 10 years in prison.

He weighed 230 pounds.

Darling cheerfully ordered his last meal, including filet mignon brochette, baked potato, asparagus tips and a banana split.

Before he died, he said he only regretted not knowing the outcome of the Dodger-Giant World series.

CAN AMERICA KEEP

THE CUP?

Our country has leadership in many fields . . . in science and invention, in business and trade, in cultural and living standards. But can we hold this lead?

Not unless we pay attention to the dilemma of higher education. The cost of leadership has gone up and colleges are in a squeeze. Many face shortages. To give us the leaders our country needs, they need modern classrooms, up-to-date science facilities and, over and above all, a steady supply of competent teachers and professors.

Teacher Can Write Editor Without Losing His Job

Just 20 months ago we called your attention in this space to a junior college teacher in Shasta County who had been dismissed from his job for writing letters to the editor.

It was a complicated case in which Jack Owens, now a Redding real estate salesman, had been dismissed not because letters he had written to a weekly newspaper were false, but because in so doing he had violated a California Teachers Association code of ethics.

He sued to get his job back, but he lost. He was found guilty of unprofessional conduct, evident unfitness for service, and dishonesty, after the judge had ruled the truth of the letters was no defense.

It was at this point we called your attention to his case in a lengthy editorial because, as we said then, "we are disturbed that a teacher can be discharged for writing a letter to the editor, a right every citizen should enjoy. We hope we haven't heard the last of the Owens case."

And we hadn't. Owens appealed and the appellate court reversed the lower court judge and ordered that Owens be given his job back. Not only that, but the State Board of Education refused to revoke his teaching credential.

So the school trustees carried the case to the State Supreme Court.

Last week, the Supreme Court refused, without comment, to act on the case, in effect, upholding the lower court and ordering Owens back into the teaching profession if he wishes to go.

Now we hope we have heard the last of the Owens case. Now we hope we've heard the last of any group which tries to silence its members. Now we hope that it is abundantly clear that a teacher, a lawyer, a doctor, a student, a bricklayer, even a newspaperman, can speak out against anything he believes wrong in or out of his profession.

Writing true letters to the editor is no more unprofessional than voting NO on a motion everyone else wants to see carried. It's a right we Americans have, thank goodness. We're proud that our slow, old mills of justice ground out the same answer that our Founding Fathers put into our Constitution.

The Well-Dressed Child

We remember a close call in our youth. Our maternal parent became unhappy because we couldn't keep our corduroy trousers up out of the mud. She came on strong for suspenders. Anguished pleadings and thoughts of fearful shame followed.

When she relented, we considered we had narrowly escaped humiliation.

Children are as bad as adults, if not worse, when it comes to aping their contemporaries. Jim and Frank feel out of things if they don't have exactly what Tom, Dick and Harry wear. And little girls have an even stronger urge to conform.

Oh my; the poor parent.

START WITH YOURSELF

When one man accused of exerting undue influence over law-makers was asked how this abuse could be prevented, he frankly replied, "There is one way. The people must take more interest in the men they elect."

These reminders may help you realize that good government starts with you as much as with anyone:

1. Bad politicians are elected by good people who don't vote.

2. "The punishment of wise men who refuse to take part in the affairs of government is to live under the government of unwise men." (Plato)

3. Either you run government or government runs you.

4. "Governments, like clocks, go from the motion men give them, and governments are made and moved by men, so by them they are ruled also. Therefore, governments depend upon men rather than men upon governments." (William Penn)

God expects you to do your part to protect the blessings of freedom.

"What a man sows, that he will also reap." (Galatians 6:8)

Thanks to You, O Lord, for allowing us to govern ourselves.

People Of Marin Are Fine Group

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As Scoutmaster of Troop 57 of San Rafael, my troop and I were asked to help on the K.O. Polio Clinic at San Rafael High School. My dad was to collect the donations, and I would like to tell the people of this area what a really wonderful bunch of people they are.

There were so very many who would hand us $5 or $10 and refuse change. They simply said it was to help pay for those who could not pay. One man even dropped a $20 bill in and said, "I can afford it; some can't; keep it."

Small children would drop a dime or change, after their parents had paid.

Everyone was so friendly and cooperative, both the people receiving the vaccine and those who spend so many hours of their time to make this possible.

One of Ralph's Lunch-ette Wagons came up and donated drinks to the workers.

People who say that others are selfish and unfeeling are very wrong. The people of Marin County are a fine group and I am proud to be a member of such a group.

Mad Genius Has To Go

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

This is in response to Mrs. John P. McFarland's panic-stricken plea for help (I-J, 9/12) when she too was stricken with "digititis," that terrible malady that has already swept through a number of cities in the United States, and threatens to become a national epidemic.

Take heart, Mrs. McFarland. You are not alone. The Anti-Digit Dialing League hasn't been very noisy lately, but we're still in there pitching. A letter has been filed with the Public Utilities Commission demanding that we be notified of the announced investigation into the telephone company's rates and practices. (Individuals can attend this hearing also.) In addition, the legal staff of ADDL is planning to initiate separate action with the P.U.C., if necessary with the Federal Communications Commission . . .

You have already helped, Mrs. McFarland, by crying out against the "mad genius in the back room" . . .

The mad genius has led his keepers astray. He has convinced them that a public franchise is a "right" rather than a "privilege." He has scoffed at the old-fashioned notion that "phones are for people."

Well, it's sad, but he's got to go. He will have to be chained and carted away to the funny farm for disoriented computers. And the guy to do that is that fellow on the white horse with blazing armor—Sir Public Opinion.

Letter From Angry Young Woman

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

This is a letter from an angry young woman.

I've always felt that Gomez Way in Mill Valley should be improved, and now I'm more than convinced. After taking my first flop on that much to be desired street, I feel it my civic duty to suggest what everyone knows it should have—steps for pedestrians.

As it is now, I am not the first, and I'm sure I'm not the last to have this improperly designed roadway to "come up and meet me face to face."

When I see the way Miller Avenue has been improved, it makes me very proud to be a resident of Mill Valley. I would like to feel the same way about Gomez Way.

It was not constructed right in the first place, and there is no good reason why that should not be changed.

I'm In Love With Phone Company

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I AM IN LOVE WITH THE TELEPHONE COMPANY!!!

Since 1957 here in Tiburon I have waited for direct distance dialing. Why, I even signed a petition requesting they hurry up and give us better service. Finally September 16, 1962 arrived, and I think it is wonderful.

The telephone company has given me independence to dial wherever I wish without having to go through the operator. I enjoy being independent and find that I can concentrate for the few seconds it takes to dial correctly.

Let those that want to go back to Operator, go back. I am going forward.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

To be a truly successful pitcher in the big leagues, a man must have a streak of meanness in his makeup: be willing to "dust a batter off" by aiming a fast one directly at his Adam's apple, thereby preventing him from taking too free a cut at succeeding pitches.

No hurler in recent baseball history, with the possible exception of Sal Maglie (who pitched them so close he was nicknamed "Sal the Barber") has been a fiercer competitor than Early Wynn. Even Ted Williams, one of the greatest batters of them all, tightened up a bit when he faced Early Wynn at the plate. In fact, he wouldn't invite Wynn (though they were old friends off the diamond) to go fishing with him at his Everglades camp until he had retired from active competition on the diamond. "No hitter would take a chance going into swamps like that with a pitcher like Early Wynn," explained Williams. "His body might never be found!"

Three old ladies were organizing a Canasta game on the porch of their hotel, and reluctantly asked a complete stranger to make a fourth. Before the game began, however, the stranger was given the rules in no uncertain terms: "1. Don't discuss mink coats, because we all have them. 2. Don't discuss jewelry: we all buy it wholesale. 3. Don't boast about your grandchildren. We all have a caseful of photographs in our handbags, too. 4. (And most important): Don't discuss love. What was, WAS!"

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

It Was Just One Of Those Weeks, Drab, With A Cold Winter Ahead

If you want to know the truth, last week was drab.

Summer, which never came, went. Then the rains came and the roof we so carefully patched, leaked.

On Wednesday, thinking we would sing high sing ho, we went for a "Cruise With Lewis." Met Belvedere's Bing Rey and rainkeeper Dr. John H. Flint, who both predicted "a cold winter coming." Why? we asked.

"It's because there's such a good crop of acorns and berries this year," they said. That's scientific enough for me, we replied, but not very cheerful.

On Thursday we met Joe Zapella, the old man of the mountain, who said summer this year was the two middle weeks of September.

On top of everything else, we learned Friday that the birds know about the cold winter. And this is scarey.

OUR COLLEAGUE, Maybelle Speckmann, said she was reading of lore in her woodsy home at 10 o'clock at night when she suddenly heard a tapping at her windowpane.

This is quite unusual, said Mrs. Speckmann to Mr. Speckmann, and they put down their books and went to the window. There was a "little brown drab bird" fluttering as if it had to get in.

Of course, now I realize it was cold and wanted to come in for the winter, but the Speckmann's didn't realize this. They didn't let it in.

The next night and the next night and the next they looked at it with a flashlight roosting in the rafters of their home. "Just a little brown drab bird all alone in the world," said Maybelle.

It was heartening to hear that Mrs. Shirley West of Sausalito and her sculptor husband had produced a new West—September Ann. "I'm from Ohio," said Mrs. West, "and I miss the seasons, so we named the baby September."

But, alas, the wooden Indian which stood before The Kettle on Bridgeway in Sausalito, and which West sculpted, has been stolen by vandals. It was yanked off, leaving only its wooden feet cemented to the sidewalk. Kettle owner Leo Trikorian offers $50 reward for its return.

MRS. CALVIN TERWILLIGER, registering her child's one-wheel bike at the police station, was lamenting that while her family was on vacation someone went into their garage and stole the wheel off the bike.

But no one can really dampen Mrs. Terwilliger's enthusiasm. She pulled us out to her autobus and showed us a metal stick she had purchased and now being used by Little Leaguers to pick up papers in parks. "Idiot sticks," they call them, she said, and they are used by the National Park Service. "The kids love to use them," she added and, they keep the parks clean.

GEORGE MONARDO has offered Manny Gomez $10 if he can climb "Mill Valley's Half Dome." He refers to the big cut in the mountain near Cushing Drive in Blithedale Canyon.

"I don't think Gomez can do it," said Monardo.

REX, THE LAST of a clan of 10 Boxer and Norwegian Elkhounds, who was born in the Sausalito firehouse, is no more.

Going on 16 years, Rex, along with his friend, Inky, are undoubtedly in dog heaven. Fireman Slue Cardwell is the guy who took such good care of them and gave them a birthday party each year.

AND A MAN reported to the Mill Valley police that the trees near the doorway to the Chamber of Commerce office were falling down. Those short, funny trees can't fall down. They're not tall enough.

But, it was one of those weeks. Drab.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Michigan's Political Winds Are Blowing Strongly Republican

DETROIT—The winds of political change are stirring here in Michigan.

The way the barometer now reads, it would not be surprising if they blew the 14-year rule of the Democratic Party right through the roof of the State House in Lansing.

The man who is working the bellows with vigor is a mature, experienced political novice who is running for governor like a professional.

He is throwing a terrific scare into the once-secure camp of his Democratic opponent, John B. Swainson, who was elected governor two years ago after six successive victories by his predecessor, G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams, in this once heavily Republican state.

YOU MAY HAVE heard the name. It is George Romney, the former compact-car manufacturer who revolutionized the American automobile market and may be in the process of turning Michigan politics upside down—or right side up—whichever way you look at it.

I am not saying that this crucial Michigan campaign is over; it isn't. What I am reporting is:

That Romney is in the lead and most Democratic leaders privately concede the fact.

That the tide of voter sentiment continues toward Romney, not away from him.

That many undecided Democratic voters and the great majority of independents are switching to the Republican nominee. It is with these voters that the balance of power on election day will rest.

THIS IS A TIDY budget of assets. At this stage every index of public opinion puts Romney in the lead. The first Detroit News polls showed Gov. Swainson leading Romney 47 per cent to 42 per cent, with 11 per cent undecided. The latest shows Romney leading Swainson 50.6 to 48.8, with .2 per cent other parties, and only .5 per cent undecided.

The significance of these findings is not merely that Romney has moved ahead—in fact could win the election as of today—but that he has gained the support of the uncommitted voters in a ratio of 4-to-1 over Gov. Swainson. In every election contest in which Swainson has been engaged, the Detroit News poll has accurately predicted the outcome.

WHILE THERE is no doubt that Romney has contributed solidly to the progress of his own campaign, he is also the beneficiary of a widespread popular mood that, after 14 years of Democratic governorships; it is "time for a change."

Michigan unemployment is higher than the national average, it has not been attracting its logical share of new industry. The state's finances have been crisis-laden for years. Governor Swainson and the state legislature where the Republicans have a narrow majority, have been at perpetual odds.

Romney's campaign theme is that he can win Republican legislative support for measures which will restore the state's financial health and get things moving again.

Victim Of Acid Torture Succumbs

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Hajna de Kaplany, 25, the beautiful former showgirl who was tortured with acid by her doctor husband, died last night at St. Francis Hospital.

Mrs. de Kaplany died at 11:45 p.m., a spokesman for the hospital said. The hospital had announced Wednesday that her condition took a turn for the worse.

Her husband, Dr. Geza de Kaplany, has been charged in San Jose with attempted murder, assault and mayhem.

He admitted to police, after the attack Aug. 28, that he poured acid over much of her body and stabbed her with surgical instruments. She had been undergoing preparations for plastic surgery at the hospital.

Dr. de Kaplany, 36, a former Hungarian "Freedom Fighter," said at the time of the attack he wanted to "frighten" his bride of five weeks because she was unfaithful, but she denied his accusation.

Two Car Crashes Send Six Hurt To Hospital

Two San Rafael auto crashes sent six persons to the hospital Saturday night.

Three were injured in a head-on auto collision on Francisco Boulevard near Medway Street, San Rafael.

Mrs. Alice Madden, 51, of R-91, Hilarita Housing, Tiburon, was in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital after being treated for facial cuts.

Treated for an injured left elbow was James Benton Madden, 55, driver of the car in which his wife was riding, Norman Riella, 18, of 203 Picnic Avenue, San Rafael, was treated for a cut on his face.

California Highway Patrolmen cited Madden for driving on the wrong side of the road. His car collided with that of Roger Steven, 19, of 4 Dorian Way, San Rafael at 8:10 p.m., officers said.

Another collision also sent three persons to San Rafael General hospital.

Judy Christiani, 18, of Apt. 2, 1315 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, was treated for a bumped forehead; Gladys Abbey, 50, of 800 San Pedro Road, San Rafael, was treated for pains in her face, and Roger Miller of 4 Darien Way, San Rafael, for injuries to both knees.

Highway patrolmen said Lloyd William Altman, 51, of 2279 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, was headed west on San Pedro Road near Loch Lomond Yacht Harbor when he made a left turn into a driveway, which caused the car driven by Jeffrey Alan Reseigh, 19, of Oakland, headed east, to strike Altman's car broadside at 10:30 p.m.

Man Prevented From Span Leap

A 43-year-old Strawberry man was prevented from jumping off the Golden Gate Bridge early today by a California Highway Patrol officer who grabbed him off the railing and wrestled him to the sidewalk.

Officer Merval G. Williams said he was on patrol at 3:30 a.m. when he saw Jack Wesley Newman of 107 Strawberry Drive standing on the west rail of the bridge in mid-span. Newman's car was parked nearby.

Williams jumped out of his patrol car, grabbed Newman by the arm and pulled him to the sidewalk, where Newman resisted Williams' efforts to get him in the patrol car.

Stolen Transmission, Wheels Returned

Whoever stole four wheels and a transmission valued at $300 from a 1959 two-door sedan parked at the Shell Service station on Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, last Wednesday returned them over the weekend.

The wheels, still with tires and hubcaps on them, and the transmission were found in the garbage area behind the station yesterday, said police inspector Harold N. Hockett. The car is owned by Andre Frere of 49 Key Largo Course, Corte Madera.

Bolinas Community Inc. Elects

Other officers elected were John Hamilton, vice president; Hurford Sharon, treasurer; Kirby Clark, assistant treasurer, and Derek Parmenter, secretary.

Republican Congressional Candidate Don Clausen began another three-day visiting and speaking tour of Marin today.

He was slated for an afternoon tour of the Fairchild Semiconductor plant in San Rafael, to be followed by "person to person" campaigning along Third and Fourth streets in San Rafael and, later, a reception at the home of Jack Brennan, 120 Corte Ramon, Greenbrae.

Clausen cancelled a scheduled appearance tonight at a meeting of the United World Federalists of Marin in the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael.

Tomorrow Clausen will address the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce at noon, devote the afternoon to visits to the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo and Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry and meet at 7 p.m. in the Edgewater Inn with the Mill Valley Lions Club.

On Wednesday the candidate will talk informally at a number of house gatherings.

He will attend the Redwood Empire Assn. convention at Hoberg's on Friday and Saturday.

Demos Give $3,000

Marin Democrats have given $3,200 in the Dollars for Democrats drive over the last two weekends, Mrs. Nancy Westberg, drive chairman, announced today.

The total was compiled last night at the first report session and compares favorably with the first report last year, she said.

Misses Helen and Mary Henry of Corte Madera brought in $120 from the two precincts in their area which contributed only $70 last year. Mrs. Joan McKree turned in $490 from the Outer Mill Valley area which last year provided $350.

Mrs. Westberg said it would take at least another week to complete collections and determine the total contribution.

But Who's This Guy Thompson?

BLUE CROSS®

expands the effectiveness of its program

FOR SENIOR CITIZENS OVER 65

Nationwide, more than 5 million citizens 65 or over already have Blue Cross protection.

Based on this experience and a comprehensive study of senior citizens' requirements, Blue Cross in Northern California is offering a new program of protection for the over-65 age group.

There are no upper age limits. No physical examinations are required.

The benefits are designed to help meet the special needs of senior citizens.

Blue Cross realizes that there will be some senior citizens who cannot afford to purchase this protection. In such cases, Blue Cross makes it possible for relatives or others to arrange the protection for them.

Blue Cross, because of its traditional concern with the costs of care to subscribers, and its direct working relationship with hospitals, has always offered outstanding value. In 1961, for instance, Blue Cross Plans as a whole returned in benefits an average of 93¢ of every dollar paid in. That's far more than the average return for other forms of health protection.

As a result, Blue Cross is the organization most preferred by Americans to help assure the payment of their hospital and medical needs. Today, 59 million in all are enrolled in Blue Cross Plans.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

It Takes Lot More Than Luck To Make Hero At Bridge Table

"There was no way to know," South grumbled as he scored 100 points on the wrong side of the pad. "If the diamonds had broken in some civilized fashion, I'd have been a hero."

South was wrong; it takes more than luck to make a hero.

East won the first trick with the king of trumps and returned a trump. South then had 11 easy tricks: five trumps, one ruff in dummy, two hearts, and three diamonds.

TACKLE FIRST

Clearly, South had to set up a heart or a diamond as his 12th trick. Which red suit was he to tackle first?

The diamonds looked like a cinch, so South started out confidently with dummy's ace and king of diamonds. West discarded a club on the second round, and it became clear that the diamonds would never come in.

SWITCHES TOO LATE

South switched to hearts, but it was too late. He could take the top hearts and ruff a heart, but then there was only one entry back to dummy (the ace of trumps).

South needed two entries — one for another ruff and the other to cash the last heart.

Now go back to the third trick and see how a hero plays the hand. South must start the hearts before touching the diamonds. He cashes the top hearts, discovering that both opponents follow to two rounds of hearts.

CONTRACT ASSURED

The contract is now assured. South ruffs a heart, gets to dummy with a diamond, and ruffs another heart. He gets back to dummy with another diamond and cashes the last heart.

What if the hearts fail to break? The bad news will show up on the first or second round of hearts. South can then switch to diamonds and can set up a diamond if the suit breaks no worse than 4-2.

The point is that South can play for both red suits if he starts the hearts; he can play for only one if he starts the diamond.

Fast Start, Incredible Finish—Giants' 1962 Miracle

A home run to start and a home run to finish—with plenty of heartbreak in between.

That's the regular season story of Willie Mays and the San Francisco Giants, a team that inspired pennant obituaries and black crepe headlines with reckless abandon and yet wound up in a National League playoff because the other guys showed they could lose, too.

The Giants and the other guys—the Los Angeles Dodgers—began a best-of-three playoff for the championship today after an incredible Sunday of home runs produced a Giant victory, a Dodger loss and a dead heat for the pennant.

When the regular season began April 10, $90,000 centerfielder Mays cracked the first pitch he saw in the first inning for a home run against Milwaukee's Warren Spahn.

When the regular season ended yesterday, Mays smashed the final delivery he saw, in the eighth inning for another round-tripper and a 2-1 San Francisco victory over Houston.

In between, Willie hit 45 other four-baggers and did a few not-so-good things—walked off third base with two out, hit .145 in his first 11 games against the Dodgers and missed a game because he was detained in court.

But Willie's miscues and all the other San Francisco bobbles and losing streaks were quickly forgotten after the Giants roared back into first place for the first time since July 7.

No one cared that Stu Miller hadn't won a game since June 26. He won yesterday with two perfect relief innings as his earlier trials were forgiven.

Quickly forgotten were the fans' grumblings all year as opposing base-runners took liberties with catcher Ed Bailey's arm. Bailey hit a fourth-inning homer Sunday.

When Billy O'Dell lost to St. Louis only last Friday, more obituaries were written — but they were forgiven because O'Dell held Houston 1-1 for seven innings yesterday before leaving for a pinch-hitter.

For 1962 the Giants figured as a team of power with questionable pitching, good enough, maybe, for second or third place. A few thought they might win.

They started with five quick victories, and in early May knocked torrid Pittsburgh out of first place with a four-game sweep over the Pirates.

Their lead grew to 4½ games before a double defeat in Los Angeles set the tempo for the two and one-half months to come. The June swoon, knowingly predicted by all the experts, began June 6. It lasted until June 15, included nine losses in 11 games, and put the Dodgers in first place by two games.

A grand-slam pinch home run by Bailey against Cincinnati helped the Giants regain the lead for a week in late June, but a loss to the lowly New York Mets put the Dodgers on top July 2.

San Francisco's darkest three days came in late July in Los Angeles. Frank Howard hit a three-run homer for the Dodgers, Jack Sanford couldn't hold a lead and O'Dell gave up six runs in a first inning.

The result: A Dodger sweep.

But 10 days later the Dodgers came to Candlestick Park and dropped three straight. Came Labor Day and the Giants were laboring but in contention, 3½ games behind.

Three wins in four games at Dodger Stadium, plus five more victories, put the Giants only half a game out as they hit the road.

The Giants came home three games back with six to play. Maybe if they could win all six . . . then . . .

They won two, lost one to St. Louis; split a doubleheader with Houston and then it was yesterday, one game back.

In the last analysis, it was strictly a home season for the Giants, 60-21 in Candlestick Park, 41-40 on the round.

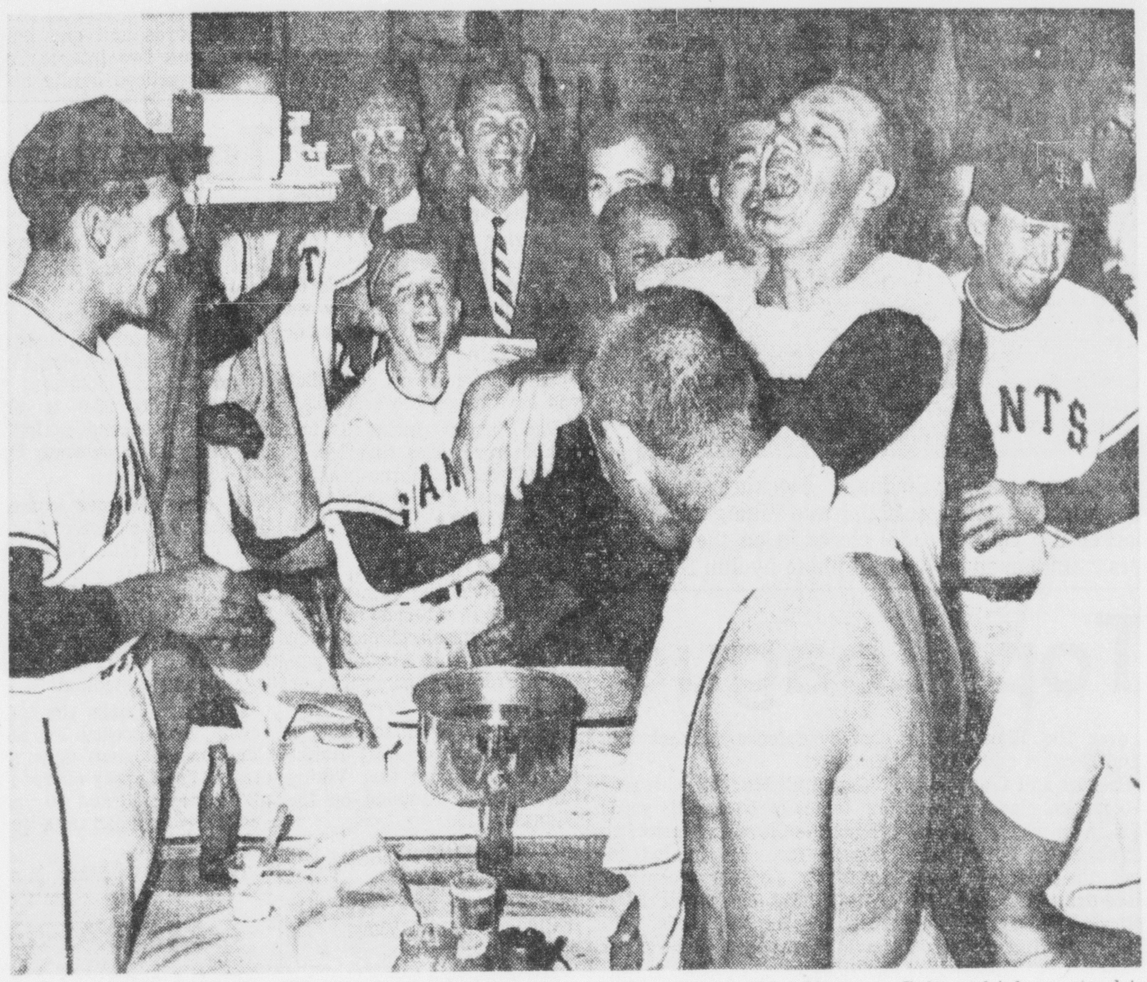
He was 11-0 in Candlestick, 4-6 away.



THOSE JUBILANT GIANTS—This was the scene in the San Francisco Giants dressing room yesterday as they heard from the radio that the Dodgers had lost to St. Louis. The Giants had just won a 2-1 ball game over the Houston Colts, which resulted in a playoff series which started today. Identifiable players are (left) pitcher Jim Duffalo, Billy O'Dell (bare to waist), Harvey Kuenn (behind O'Dell) and Manager Alvin Dark (right). (AP Wirephoto)

CONNOLLY

Who called the piccolo player a so-and-so?

Who called the so-and-so a piccolo player?

That story probably tells the miraculous and astounding climax to the 1962 National League baseball season—that found the S.F. Giants and the Los Angeles Dodgers—ending up the season in a tie.

Nothing in baseball history can match the unexpected finish to a nip and tuck fight over 162 games.

It was a miracle. Nothing short of it could explain the sequence of a "in-again-out-again-Finnigan" windup.

TWICE IN a week the Giants got a reprieve from the Dodgers, who lost to keep the Giants in the race.

And just when the gas chamber was staring them in the face, the Giants rallied and went on to earn a tie in the race for the pennant. And the Dodgers, stumbling the last two weeks, accommodated them by losing to the St. Louis Cards for the third game in a row.

Today the Giants and Dodgers began a three-game series to determine who has the right to meet the undisputed N.Y. Yankees in the world series.

THE MOMENTUM of the Giants inclines me to say they should compete in the World Series. It isn't how much you think of the heroics of the Giants as it is how little you think of the Dodgers.

Both teams, the Giants and the Dodgers, lack pitching strength. But which of 'em lacks it more, will be determined in the next few days.

The Dodgers are a nerve-racked club that harly knows what it is doing.

THE GIANTS are an exhausted aggregation that doesn't know what happened. So if anybody can guess how a series of this type can be determined, I'm going to say they are fortune tellers.

How would you like to own a ball club that pays $46,000 a year to a first baseman you have to bench during the most important game of the season.

That is what happened yesterday in the case of Orlando Cepeda, the Baby Bull of Puerto Rico.

Cepeda was kept on the bench as a reward for his inability to hit. And hitting is what made Cepeda a $46,000 a year player.

AS USUAL the ace of the club, Willie Mays, plunked the homerun that won the ball game. Willie, not hitting as often as he used to, came up in the eighth inning with the score tied 1 to 1 and clobbered a line drive into the leftfield bleachers which proved to be the deciding and winning run of a 2 to 1 ball game. The first Giant run was likewise a homerun by Ed Bailey to break a 0 to 0 tie in the fourth inning.

In Los Angeles the run that defeated the Dodgers, likewise, was a homerun by Cardinal catcher Gene Oliver to clinch the game.

Not many times in a lifetime will you see a more interesting pennant race than the one concluded yesterday.

For a club that has been called chokers, dumb and stupid, the Giants disproved it by fighting back in the face of terrific odds to accomplish a tie in a flag race that a few weeks ago seemed impossible.

ALVIN DARK, the scarey and sometimes panicky manager of the club, rose to great heights as he steered the team to the top. The risks he took worked out.

Dark has been accused of everything during the year. He was chincy, stupid, ornery and so forth but he stuck to his guns and if he doesn't win the National League title in 1962, I'll always say he deserved to.

Today's game will be followed by two more in L.A. if needed. The two game winner of this playoff then goes into the World Series against the Yankees.

Someone said the Yanks are at Tahoe to await the next move, to either L.A. or S.F.

Owner Shouts, Car Thief Runs

Edward Francis Walsh of 72 California Avenue, Homestead Valley, was watching television about 11:45 p.m. Saturday when he heard a car being started outside.

He looked out the window and saw his 1958 station wagon rolling down the driveway. He ran out of the house, yelling, and a young man leaped out of the car and disappeared down California Avenue.

Walsh told Sheriff's Deputy R. H. Tschirgi that the car thief was tall and slim and "must have been young because he took off like a deer." The car was not locked and keys were in the ignition.

'Somebody Up There Likes Me!

CANDLESTICK NOTES:

Rod Ryan, Western Union representative at the Candlestick Park, gazed up at the cloudless skies yesterday and gushed, "Somebody up there likes me."

It was Rod's birthday and the biggest present he could wish for seemed impossible.

When the score was tied, a mysterious message to Rod tickered in on the teletype. It read: "Your birthday wish granted. Giants win; Dodgers lose." It was signed: "The Man Upstairs."

An hour later, when the impossible developed, Ryan had a dazed look on his face. "It couldn't happen but it did," he said, repeating, "Somebody up there likes me."

YESTERDAY ALSO was Johnny Podres' birthday. That was a nasty present the Cards gave him.

LUCK IS fickle. Harry Tassell of Antioch, Calif. will testify.

Harry with six friends showed up at Candlestick Park yesterday to see the Giants in their final game of the season.

Tassell, after driving 65 miles to see the game, decided he would see it. So he plunked down money enough to take care of seven tickets in STANDING ROOM ONLY.

When the tickets were drawn for an automobile, Tassell won it.

"Am I lucky!" he said, as he drove off in a new 1963 Ford.

WILLIE MAYS doesn't know it but the home run he hit yesterday, his 47th of the season, was reason for merriment he never could imagine.

When he walloped the game-winning homer in the eighth inning, to give the Giants a 2 to 1 advantage over the Houston Colts, the leftfield bleacherites decided to celebrate.

And what do you suppose they did?

"THE TWIST."

THE FIRST shakeup in the policy of the Giants was revealed today when word leaked out that no Giant player will be allowed to play winter ball in 1962.

Orlando Cepeda, Jose Pagan, Felipe Alou, Matty Alou and Juan Marichal are the players affected by Horace Stoneham's edict.

Pagan and Cepeda, stars with the Giants, have admitted they were exhausted this year and blamed it on the fact they had played too much winter ball in their own countries.

Houk: 'Want To Play Best Club'

NEW YORK (AP)—"We went to play the best club, and I guess we'll find out, pretty soon which club that is."

That was the reaction of Ralph Houk, manager of the New York Yankees, to the news that the Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants would have a best-of-three playoff starting today to determine his club's World Series opponent.

"The team that wins will come into the series loose. The winner will feel 'Well, we're in it and we're just happy to be here.' They should be in a terrific frame of mind."

The Yanks skipper said he would not announce his pitching plans or batting order until the day before the series. However, it was an open secret that Whitey Ford, who has not allowed a run in 32 consecutive innings for a series record, would open, followed by Ralph Terry and Bill Stafford.

Bardahl Wins Tahoe Races

STATELINE, Nev. (UPI)—Lon Musson, pilot of the victorious Miss Bardahl, was $3,700 richer today after steering his hydroplane to victory in the first $15,000 Harrah's Tahoe Regatta.

Miss Bardahl overcame a season-long victory drought and pesky mechanical trouble to edge $ Bill for first place. The two boats tied in total points but Miss Bardahl got the nod by taking less total elapsed time for its three heats.

Following the Seattle-based Miss Bardahl and second-place $ Bill were Hurricane VI of Lake Tahoe, Gale V of Detroit, Tahoe Miss, the pre-race favorite, and Notre Dame of Detroit.

Action Galore In Raiders Contest

OAKLAND (AP)—San Diego's Chargers beat the Oakland Raiders 42-33 yesterday in an American Football League game that churned up 10 touchdowns.

The 13,000 at Frank Youell Field saw plenty of action:

Builders Suffer Second Setback

The Billings - Hutchison Builders, after scoring five runs in the first three innings, lost their second straight game yesterday in the tough Alameda Winter Baseball League to the Milen's Jewelers nine, 9-6.

With their two pitching aces in bed with the flu, the Builders' other pitchers couldn't find the plate and walked 12 men.

The Builder hitting was led by Ed Vigno with two hits and two runs batted in, and Joe Anselmo with two singles and one RBI. Milen's Jewelers relief pitcher Joe Dorsi, coming in during the fifth inning, held the Builder batters to one hit the rest of the game.

DODGERS

'We Really Fouled It'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Having blown everything else, the Los Angeles Dodgers blew into San Francisco today to open their playoff series with a club that had beaten them in six of their last seven meetings.

Principally, they were in agony because they had just about overtaken Floyd Patterson in unofficial balloting for the biggest sports flop of the year.

The Dodgers, in the space of a week, had blown their seemingly unassailable four-game lead over the San Francisco Giants. Now, going into the playoffs, they had been shut out twice in a row by St. Louis and hadn't scored in 21 innings.

"We really fouled that one up," said Dodger Manager Walt Alston. "We had every opportunity in the world. Everybody tried to help us. We've got nobody to blame but ourselves."

Then, in a sudden burst of optimism, Alston added:

"But I think we're still all right. We didn't do it the easy way, but I still think we'll do it.

DUE TO BUST

"I would just as soon go into the playoffs like we are—in a horrible slump—than if we had just scored 15 runs. We're about due to bust out of it."

There was divided opinion on whether the Dodgers had choked.

"I think the players showed some tenseness earlier in the week," Alston said, "But I saw none of it Sunday. I don't think our losses can be traced to tightening up. It's just a matter of failing to hit."

The Dodgers made several base-running blunders — but committed no defensive errors —as they lost 1-0 to the Cardinals Sunday.

WORTH MORE NOW

MIAMI (AP) — Dick Williams was traded the second day of the 1961 baseball season. He went from Kansas City to Baltimore.

Two years age when Baltimore traded him to Kansas City he was regarded as a $50,000 player. He's worth more now, being the No. 1 utility player for Bill Hitchcock's Orioles. He plays third, first or the outfield.

49ers 'Old Fashioned' In 21-7 Win Over Vikings

Old-fashioned football ideas of "controlling the ball and hitting somebody" are credited by coach Red Hickey with finally putting his San Francisco 49ers into the win column as he looks ahead to a three-game road series against Baltimore, Chicago and Green Bay.

The 49ers climbed to fifth place in the National Football League Western Conference yesterday with a 21-7 victory over the luckless Minnesota Vikings at Kezar Stadium before 38,407 fans. They now have a 1-2 record while Minnesota has lost three straight.

"During the pre-season, our guys thought everything would come easy," Hickey declared after the game, "so today we changed and tried to meet somebody head-on.

"Our defense was good, but you have to get those breaks."

The breaks included two fumble recoveries that led to touchdowns and three pass interceptions, plus penalties which choked off Viking threats.

Halfback Bill Kilmer, who was awarded the game ball, scored the first touchdown on a three-yard smash, climaxing an 80-yard march in which he personally ran for 55 yards on three carries.

He scored again in the second period after Karl Rubke recovered a punt that Viking Bill Butler fumbled on the Minnesota 19.

KILMER PRAISED

"Kilmer is the type of guy who can make an average play really go," said Hickey. "He has great desire."

San Francisco picked up another touchdown in the third quarter after Jim Ridlon recovered a Minnesota fumble on the Viking 18. Five plays later quarterback John Brodie passed to end Clyde Conner from the 8 for the score.

Quarterback John Brodie actually had a miserable day—completing only 5 of 19 passes for 57 yards and one touchdown, with two interceptions.

"We practiced hardly at all on passing the whole week," Hickey said by way of implied excuse.

"We had a bad attitude at the start of the season. When a run wouldn't go before, the guys would say, 'Hell, we'll hit for 15 or 20 passes.' This time we went in with the attitude of winning the game.

"I'm not saying this was a great performance by our offense or defense, but it was a great improvement."

"We wide-spaced our line to see if we have somebody who can fire off and knock somebody out of there."

Terra Linda Junior Trojans End Giant Undefeated Skein

In other Warner contests, the San Rafael Junior Giants shut out the Mill Valley Junior Indians 13-0, and the Novato Junior Hornets outlasted the San Anselmo Junior Pirates 7-0. The triple-header was played yesterday at College of Marin stadium.

For Terra Linda, the touchdowns were scored by Steve Congdon on a short drive over center, Pat Carney on spectacular runs of 53 and 50 yards, and Chris Bowman on a quarterback sneak.

In the Mill Valley-San Rafael contest, the Mill Valley touchdowns were scored on passes of 18 and 40 yards.

The lone touchdown by Novato in its first victory was scored by Wayne Croissant who also blocked a kick which led to the tally.

Packers, Lions Top League

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Green Bay Packers and Detroit Lions will find out who's boss of the National Football League's Western Conference in a hurry, but who (and don't laugh) is going to figure out how to stop the Washington Redskins?

The Redskins lead the Eastern Conference today after their second straight upset victory, a 24-14 pasting of St. Louis Sunday, for a 2-0-1 record that includes a tie against Dallas. Los Angeles' winless Rams (0-3), get the next chance, but the Redskins must be favored (no snickers, please) after victories over the likes of the Cleveland Browns and Cards.

The Packers and Lions, both with 3-0 marks, play in Green Bay, Wis., next week. The defending champion Packers disposed of the Chicago Bears' first-place dreams in a 49-0 lacing yesterday, while Detroit did the same to Baltimore with a 29-20 victory. Both losers are now 2-1.

In other games, the New York Giants moved into second place in the Eastern Conference with a 31-27 victory over Pittsburgh (1-2); Cleveland (1-2) was upset for the second straight week, this time by Philadelphia's Eagles, 35-7; the Rams lost to Dallas, 27-17, and San Francisco won its first, 21-7, over Minnesota.

STRONG DEFENSE

Once more it was Norm Snead's passing and Bobby Mitchell's running and receiving that did the trick for the 'Skins. This time they had additional help from Washington's suddenly revitalized defense, which recovered four St. Louis fumbles and intercepted four passes, one being a TD shot by defense halfback Dale Hackbart.

Snead hit Mitchell with scoring tosses of 40 and 23 yards, giving the Cleveland castoff six TDs so far. He totaled 147 yards on seven receptions, while Snead completed 13 of 22 passes for 217 yards. John David Crow got both of St. Louis' scores.

Jim Taylor, Green Bay's bruising fullback, took over the NFL rushing lead from Cleveland's Jimmy Brown when he gained 126 yards in 17 carries for the Packers, scoring three times, The former LSU star now has 323 yards for Brown's 260. The latter got only 38 against the Eagles.

FIVE INTERCEPTIONS

Green Bay's defense was equally as strong as its offense, intercepting five Bears' passes, and allowing only 85 yards rushing. Paul Hornung, who sat out most of the game after pulling a leg muscle, converted after each of Green Bay's seven scores to run his league-leading point total to 46. Milt Plum ran 45 yards for a score on a quarterback sneak and passed for two touchdowns in the Lions victory. He completed 16 for 30 for 260 yards, but had four intercepted, the first against him this season.

Colts quarterback John Unitas completed 14 passes, one to Jimmy Orr for a TD, but the tough Detroit defense picked off three and tossed him for a safety in the final period.

Y. A. Tittle tied a Giants' club record with four touchdown passes, hitting Paul Dudley, Frank Gifford, Alex Webster and Del Shofner, as the Giants came from behind to win for the second straight week. Bobby Layne upped his NFL touchdown pass mark to 190 with a scoring pass to Bill Mack for the Steelers (1-2). Eagles' quarterback Sonny Jurgensen finally got his defense going, and had help from the Eagle defense, which limited Brown and Tom Wilson to only 71 yards combined rushing. Jurgy threw two touchdown passes and scored once, but the Eagles (1-2) may have lost end Pete Retzlass, who suffered a possible fracture of his left forearm.

Eddie Lebaron, the Cowboys' quarterback, threw two touchdown passes, one an 85-yard play to fullback Amos Marsh.

RANDOL

With all eyes and ears focused on "The Little Miracle of Candlestick Park" at the other end of town, "The Little Miracle of Kezar Stadium" went almost unnoticed. The San Francisco 49ers finally broke into the win column, downing the Minnesota Vikings by a score of 21 to 7.

There was little joy in the accomplishment. Both teams played like minor college elevens, and the 49ers won only because they got the major share of the breaks and were able to capitalize on them.

And there was little consolation in the up-coming three game road trip which will pit the 49ers against the Baltimore Colts, the Chicago Bears and the horrendous Green Bay Packers in that order. The Packers 49-0 win over the Bears yesterday makes them 65 points better than the 49ers on comparative scores. And this may not be too far off.

QUARTERBACK John Brodie had a horrible day against a team he should have riddled, completing five for 19 passes for a total of fifty-seven skimpy yards. Several throws were dropped, it's true, but Brodie was definitely off target on most attempts. It was hardly a professional performance.

Equally unimpressive was the ball carrying of J. D. Smith, who may have sung his swan song yesterday. To find the smallest kind of a glimmer of hope you have to turn to the performance of Wild Bill Kilmer and the newest 49er, Bobby Gaiters.

Kilmer did everything asked of him and was the catalyst for whatever success the 49ers could claim. Bill hit the middle of the line like a fullback, ran the open field like a scat back, and showed the form of an experienced end receiving passes. And he hung onto the ball. Any future 49er successes will hinge greatly on the young wild man with desire.

GAITERS MANAGED to break loose for some long gainers in spite of his obvious lack of familiarity with 49er formations and of the strengths and weaknesses of his teammates. When Bobby gets into high gear he will be the boy to make the fans forget the ghost of the departed R. C. Owens.

Putting the last two paragraphs together, it would seem that Coach Red Hickey has to find a way to get Kilmer and Gaiters into the same backfield at the same time. The combination of the two would go a long way to make up for the lack of a punishing fullback, for either one can take advantage of a quick-opener and be past the defensive linebackers. Around end, Gaiters is a breakaway threat, and Kilmer is always a threat to pass or run.

BOTH THE Viking and 49er defenses looked good in the statistics column because neither team had much to fear and was able to stack it's line. The 49er pass interceptions were the result of some atrocious throws by Fran Tarkenton.

And I wish Hugh McElhenny would retire, gracefully. It is sad to see the "King" dethroned and falling to direct tackles that once would have been arms full of empty air.

PLAY CALLED BACK

Forty-Niner halfback Bill Kilmer (17) caught this pass in the third quarter for a big gain against the Minnesota Vikings but the play was called back because of an illegal use of hands penalty against the 49ers. Defending against the pass is Viking's defensive linebacker J. Christopherson.

Drake Shows Title Power In 45-6 Rout

By RALPH CHATOIAN

They proved that with their 45-6 massacre over Analy High School of Sebastapol Saturday night in College of Marin Stadium.

Displaying a mighty offense that pushed the ball on the ground and in the air and a stubborn defense, it looked like an altogether different team which fell to Edison of Stockton, 14-0, only the week before.

Drake had been shut out the opening game also, 18-0, by tough Armijo, and the prep fans were beginning to wonder if the Pirates would ever learn the scoring secret. They sure did.

The big combination Saturday night was quarterback Hamish Tyler to end Mike Crabtree which accounted for three of the seven Drake touchdowns.

FIRST SCORE

The passing combination of Tyler to Grabtree hit for TDs of 17, nine and seven yards. The first Drake tally came early in the first quarter after center Don O'Brian picked up his first of two fumble recoveries on the Analy 14-yard line. After halfback Jim Duff advanced the ball to the 10, Tom Kolbe skirted around end for the six pointer.

Later in the same period, the first Tyler touchdown pass to Crabtree of 17 yards brought the fans to their feet. Then in the second stanza, the passing combination hit for the other two touchdowns, the first from the nine and the second from the seven.

After the intermission, the Pirates came storming back with their relentless attack. In the third quarter, halfback Tom Tanzi, who had been sidelined from the first two games because of an injury, made a dazzing run from the 24 around right end into the end zone.

The next two touchdowns came in the final period, the first on a keeper by quarterback Mike Kemp around right end from the 11, and the second on a plunge over right tackle by Russ Young, reserve halfback.

Score by quarters:

Drake	14	13	6	12	45
Analy	0	0	6	0	6

Drake scoring — Tom Kolbe over left end from six; Mike Kemp ran for extra point. Hamish Tyler 17-yard pass to Mike Crabtree; Tom Tanzi ran extra point. Tyler pass to Crabtree from nine; Terry Tadlock kicked extra point. Tyler pass to Crabtree from seven. Tanzi on 24-yard run over right end. Kemp run around right end from 11. Russ Young on one-yard plunge.

Tam Rallies To 13-6 Win

The Tamalpais Indians are awaiting the start of the Marin Athletic League next Saturday after an undefeated practice slate.

The Indians won their second practice game Saturday night in Santa Rosa when they scored two touchdowns in the second half to whip the Santa Rosa High gridders 14-6.

The bleak part of the game for Tam came when guard Greg Taylor suffered a broken leg in the second quarter of the hard-fought grid contest.

Tam tied its first practice game with Pacifica, 7-7, then clobbered Castlemont 32-6 in the second tilt.

Trailing 6-0 at halftime, the Indians scored in the third quarter after recovering a Santa Rosa fumble on the Panther 46-yard line. On the first play, fleet Tam halfback Warren Domino cut through left guard and scampered the 46 yards to the end zone.

Domino scored the second Tam touchdown and extra point, to give him 13 of the 14 Tam points. His second TD capped a 69-yard drive in 15 plays when he crashed over right guard for the six-pointer. He then smashed over for the extra point, making the score, 14-6.

The Santa Rosa touchdown came in the second quarter when fullback Gary Lindsay scored from the Tam 12. The extra point kick by Gene Pickrell failed when the ball hit the crossbar.

Injuns Rose Bowl Threat

By JACK STEVENSON

Stanford's surprising yet conclusive victory over Michigan State stamps the Indians a major West Coast Rose Bowl possibility along with Southern California and Washington.

Coach Jack Curtice's Big Red club proved it deserved a ranking with the favorites by winning its second victory of 1962 in a great weekend for collegiate football along the Pacific.

Not since the glory days of the now defunct Pacific Coast Conference have the clubs done so well in intersectional competition.

Stanford beat Michigan State 16-13 and Washington whipped Illinois 28-7 in games matching the Big Six with the Big 10—the conference whose champions meet in the Rose Bowl.

Southern California polished off Southern Methodist 33-3; Washington State beat Wyoming 21-15 and Oregon beat Utah 35-8.

In games matching clubs from the same areas, California defeated San Jose State 25-8. University of the Pacific defeated Santa Clara 28-6, and Idaho edged Idaho State 9-6.

FEATURE SLATE

Games between the Big Six and Big 10 feature the slate again Saturday. Southern California plays at Iowa and UCLA opens its schedule against Ohio State in a game matching the 1961 champions of the two conferences.

In other battles Pittsburgh plays at California, Oregon State at Stanford, Kansas State at Washington, Idaho at Montana, Washington State at Arizona State, and San Jose State at Oregon.

Stanford ran up a 16-7 advantage over Michigan State before the visiting Spartans scored in the final two minutes. Steve Thurlow completed six passes for 126 yards to lead the offense while linebacker Ed Cummings, a 207-pounder from Anaconda, Mont., was tremendous on defense.

Washington grabbed a 14-0 lead over Illinois on a two-yard run by Charlie Mitchell and a 31-yard pass from Willie Siler to Lee Bernhardi. The Illini tallied once to make the halftime score 14-7 but after the intermission the Huskies pulled away.

Southern California's Willie Brown ran 92 yards with the opening kickoff to start the Trojans on their romp over SMU. A pair of touchdown passes from Bill Nelson to Hal Bedsole covered 25 and 59 yards for the winners.

When a golfer's ball stops at the edge of a hole he is allowed only a few seconds to settle any doubt as to whether his ball is at rest.

Miss Hard Wins Third Straight Tennis Title

BERKELEY (AP) — Defending champion Darlene Hard of Los Angeles has won her third straight title in the 73rd annual Pacific Coast International Tennis Championships.

Miss Hard defeated third-seeded Renee Schuurman of South Africa, 6-3, 6-3, in the women's singles finals yesterday.

Third-seeded Jan Erik Lundquist of Sweden won the men's singles title by beating Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield 3-6, 6-1, 6-3, 6-4.

Runnels Wins American League Batting Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Runnels of the Boston Red Sox captured his second American League batting championship yesterday as Mickey Mantle's belated bid for his second title fell five points short.

Runnels, veteran first baseman, sat out both ends of the doubleheader against Washington because of the flu and finished with a .326 average. Mantle collected two hits in three tries in his final game and wound up at .321. The New York Yankees' star outfielder barely qualified for title consideration, finishing with the minimum 502 total appearances.

In the National League, Tommy Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers holds a five-point lead over the Cincinnati's Frank Robinson. The Reds outfielder collected two safeties in three at bats in his final game Sunday and lifted his average to .342.

Davis is batting .347. However, his performance in the best-of-three playoff against San Francisco will count in the regular season records.

Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins won the American League home run and runs batted in titles. He slammed 48 homers and drove in 126 runs.

Indians Looking For New Manager

CLEVELAND (AP) — General Manager Gabe Paul was looking for a new field boss for the Cleveland Indians today and said he had "a couple of choices in mind."

"I want the best available," Paul said yesterday after announcing that the contract of freshman manager Mel McGaha, 36, would not be renewed for 1963.

Paul has approached Leo Durocher, former manager of the Dodgers and Giants in the National League, about the Cleveland job. Durocher, now a coach for the Dodgers, must decide whether he prefers Los Angeles or another crack at managing.

WSC End Named Lineman Of Week

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Hugh Campbell, pass-snagging end from Washington State, was chosen today as the Big Six "lineman of the week."

Campbell picked off seven passes in leading the Cougars to a 21-16 win over Wyoming Saturday and while doing so set a new NCAA record for total yardage at 1,769; and tied the total number of catches at 131—the latter set 'way back in 1946-49 by Dick Beetsch of Iowa State Teachers.

KEZAR CROWD HAS EARS AT CANDLESTICK

When the San Francisco Giants tied for the National League baseball pennant yesterday the cheers at Candlestick Park were equalled if not bettered by the wild shouts at Kezar Stadium where the 49er-Viking NFL football crowd stayed 10 minutes after the final gun to hear the word.

The Giants beat Houston 2-1 shortly before the football game ended, and the public address system promptly carried the outcome, eliciting an approving roar.

Then, when the 49ers had finished disposing of Minnesota 21-7, most of the 38,000 spectators remained until Los Angeles' 1-0 loss to St. Louis was announced. Cushions sailed through the air like confetti and the din was audible for miles.

INTRODUCING THE 1963 DODGE

Now a complete new line of cars in the low-price field. The 1963 Dodge! People who see it just naturally get carried away. Reasons? 1. The looks: Great! 2. The price: Low! Wouldn't you rather own a Dodge than other low-priced cars? 3. The room: Big! Notice how the roofline sweeps straight back. That means ample headroom for the people in back, not just the ones in front. Seats? Your choice of models with sofa style, buckets or fold-down center arm rest. 4. The upkeep: Low! Dodge is rust-protected. The body unitized. The brakes self-adjusting. A major grease job lasts 32,000 miles, an oil change 4,000. 5. The feel behind the wheel: Like nothing else! Five strong engines to choose from. Smooth-going torsion-bar ride. Easy low-friction steering. Comfortable chair-high seats. Nylon, leather-grained vinyls. There are several hundred more reasons why you'll be carried away. Your Dodge Dealer has 'em all.

INTRODUCING COMPACT '63 DART

At last. A compact that doesn't give anyone the sardine treatment. The 1963 Dodge Dart! Now everybody gets a fair shake on room. Note the roofline. It goes straight back. Result: Even rear-seat hat wearers are treated with deference. And so are those who like some action for a change. Dart's standard Six leaves run-of-the-mill compacts waiting and wheezing. Its optional engine (just a few bucks more) is the same way, only more so. Economical? Like you'd expect a compact to be! That's the whole idea. Dart's too roomy to be a compact, too darned thrifty to be anything else.

Few compacts cost less than Dart. None offers the value. A unitized body, for example, that's rust-protected. 32,000 miles between major grease jobs. Road-smoothing torsion-bar ride. An alternator. A high-speed starter for fast starts. Two series. Nine models, including two converts. See your Dodge Dealer.

NEW 5-YEAR/50,000-MILE WARRANTY! Your authorized Dodge Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first: on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts; torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings—provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Dodge Certified Car Care schedules. Factory approved remanufactured parts may be used for replacement.

EXCHANGE TEACHER—Dr. Ursula Burgel is teaching French and German at College of Marin in an exchange with James L. Heig of Kentfield, teaching this year at her home school, the Helene Lange Schule in Frankfurt, Germany.

BUT LIVING APART

German Teacher, Son At College Of Marin

A German mother and son are teacher and student at College of Marin, thanks to a Fulbright teacher exchange.

They want it that way. "We agreed to live apart to get the most out of our experience in America," explained Mrs. Burgel.

In her home city of Frankfurt, Mrs. Burgel taught English and French at Helene Lange Schule. At College of Marin, she teaches first and second year French and first year German.

She came to Marin under the Fulbright program in an exchange with James L. Heig of San Anselmo, College of Marin English instructor, who was assigned to teach English, literature and history this year at Helene Lange Schule.

Mrs. Burgel seems to think she got the better of the deal.

"I am told that Mr. Heig is expected to sing 'Home on the Range' wherever he goes," she added. "I am not called upon to do such a thing here, but my son and I have plans to record German stories and songs to be used in the German classes."

Music (though neither "Home on the Range" nor German lieder) found son Wolfgang his home for the year in San Anselmo.

George B. Duncan, foreign language instructor and foriegn student adviser at College of Marin, met the Burgels at San Francisco Airport on their arrivals from Europe. Duncan took Wolfgang home to 58 Grove Hill Avenue, San Anselmo, to stay "until he finds a permanent place."

Young Brugel, a pianist and a music enthusiast, was enthralled when he saw the Duncans' piano and record collection.

"We both play the piano and love music, and I guess we decided right then to take him in for the year," said Duncan.

The youth had completed one semester at University of Frankfurt before coming here. His College of Marin courses are Spanish, English, United States history, intermediate piano—and social dancing, "to get better acquainted with the students."

Wolfgang said he finds life at the Kentfield school quite different from that at the University of Frankfurt.

"It is very stimulating because the students are so interested in clubs and self-government," he said. "You have your own student government, a young Republicans club, and even what you call a pep club. Students in German universities are not active like this."

Mrs. Burgel said the only difficulty she has found in teaching is the language laboratory.

"We don't have such laboratories at home. It is a wonderful device but some time is required to get used to it," she said.

THE YOUNG ELEGANTE

Mr. Mort creates a fashionable young flair of enchantment in this fluent basic black crepe that takes on new dimensions. Can be worn many ways — belted or unbelted, or as shown with one panel caught in butterfly bow.

ELEGANTES shift to the natural look with a skimmer shape that skips right past the waistline. Shaping comes with nuance via the controlled slope of the skirt, widened subtly with inverted side pleats. Ole Borden designs this contemporary silhouette in Celanese acetate and rayon. It's day-an-night news every inch of the way from demurely heightened neckline to long sheathy sleeves.

The Arty Set Is Shrinking As Real Knowledge Begins To Show

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

A couple of sisters who pioneered the renting of art find the "arty set" shrinking and the truly knowledgeable art set growing.

"When we started this business, we'd get customers who thought of art as nothing more than decoration. Women would come in and ask for a painting a certain size," said Mrs. George Butler. "Now, it's art for art's sake."

Her sister, Mrs. Henry Sadowsky, spoke up: "It is a most gratifying thing to see that people have learned to appreciate . . .

"WE NEVER HEAR these days, 'well, I don't know art, but I know what I like.'"

The sisters are proprietors of the circulating library of paintings. They believe the public relations job museums across the country have done is a major factor in the increase in art lovers.

"People who used to take the children to the movies now take them to the museums," said Mrs. Butler, president of the firm. "You can't get into the Metropolitan on Sundays . . . so many kids."

Ruth Butler and Eleanor Sadowsky also have helped in their way.

THE ORIGINAL AIM of their business started 16 years ago was to rent paintings. But it turns out circulating library is a misnomer, they said. They end up selling at least 75 per cent.

Their library grew from their own interest since childhood in art. They collected, and Mrs. Sadowsky studied art through high school and at the art students league. Both still take art courses.

Their father, H. Leonard Simmons, a prominent New York furrier, now retired at 82, added to their collection. He also is an amateur painter.

THE SISTERS POOLED their collections—1800 works in all—and opened shop in a basement in mid-town Manhattan. As the business expanded, so did their quarters. And this week they moved into their most elegant "gallery" yet—the main floor of a town house designed by Stanford White. (UPI)

Quilting Skills In Demand, Muir Temple Members Find

Sausalito's Pythian Sisters of Muir Temple 123 have two suggestions that they hope may be of considerable interest to some women's group in Marin County. They concern a quilt show and quilting as a means of fund raising.

Mrs. Verna Strittmatter, Muir Temple secretary, spoke for the group.

"As a result of the article and pictures on our quilting activities that appeared in the Independent-Journal on Aug. 24," she said, "we have been absolutely flooded with telephone calls, mostly from women wanting to have quilting done.

"Our most excellent chief, Mrs. Walter Whiting, and Mrs. Frank Oliveira, chairman of our quilting section, have been particularly busy answering calls.

"For instance," she went on, "there was one woman in Corte Madera who wanted a double wedding ring quilt made. Another said she had some quilt tops that had come to California in a covered wagon and she had not been able to find anyone to make them up into quilts.

"We are not interested in expanding our activities for several reasons," Mrs. Strittmatter explained, "but we thought what a wonderful way this would be for some women's organization to raise money by doing quilting.

SEW SIMPLE

Stitching Sequin Material Requires Very Fine Needle

By EUNICE FARMER

"I wish to use a material that is covered with sequins for the bodice of a dress. Since this is very expensive, could you please give me tips about sewing and handling it?"

Mrs. V.G.E.

Dear Mrs. V.G.E.:

This is an excellent question for this time of the year and, because the fabric with sequins is new, most women are not too familiar with it.

First, and most important, don't press it. Pressing makes sequins permanently dull. Second, use a very fine machine needle because you will be stitching over the sequins. Keep an extra supply of needles in case you break one.

Use silk thread for added strength, if possible, and use a smaller length machine stitch. You may catch-stitch the seam allowances to the inside of your garment. If you line the skirt, make the lining separate so that it will cover the seams and give a smoother skirt.

"I am lining a dressy suit with brocade fabric but it looks too stiff inside the sleeves. Would it be all right to use a plain lining in the sleeves or would it look home made?"

Mrs. R.R.E.

Dear Mrs. R.R.E.:

I am glad you noticed the stiff appearance of this type of lining. You will notice that most of your expensive suits have a soft silk lining in them. Any type of lining that is used must be less firm than the garment fabric. If you are using a heavy satin or brocade for lining your garment, use a crepe or china silk for the sleeve lining.

You can give your boys' pants extra length and many months of additional wear by making false cuffs. Unfold the present cuffs and press the legs flat, keeping the original hem. Lift (up and out) about ¼ inch of material on the outside of the trousers at the hemline.

This will form a cuff appearance and should be pressed flat to the trouser legs. Tack the top edge firmly to the two leg seams to keep the upper edge in place.

This fine money-saving idea is the tailor trix pressing board winner of the week for Mrs. Fern E. Wilson, Cumberland, Md.

"Some time ago it seems that you told us how to make a felt skirt so that it could be lengthened without a hem. I didn't save the copy and I'm wondering if you would repeat this?" Mrs. M.W.

Dear Mrs. M. W.:

Because there are so many mothers sewing for teen-age girls, I will be glad to repeat this question.

When cutting your felt skirt, allow several extra inches in length. Mark the hem-line on your child, using an accurate skirt marker. Carefully cut the skirt on these marks keeping the cutting line even. It would be helpful to make several colored marks on the wrong side to be used for matching later when you add to the length.

When the skirt becomes too short, place the excess part of the hem you cut off right on the edge of the skirt. They could be lapped slightly, or the two raw edges could be butted together, using a bias strip of firm fabric to stitch the two edges. This seam line could be covered with colored braid, rick rack, metallic edging or colored velvet ribbon. Try to coordinate the trim with the bodice and you will have a new, exciting and completely original skirt.

Please send your sewing tips and ideas for Christmas "fun clothes" or fun "things to make." I would like to share these with all of our readers.

Remember To Use Your P-TA For Better Aid To Children

Do you know how to use your P-TA? It is at your service in any cause which will help children. Don't hesitate to use it.

Do you have a dangerous intersection near your home? Maybe you've seen accidents occur there. Children risk their lives every time they cross it, but nobody seems to care. What should you do? Go to your P-TA safety chairman and have her committee investigate and report to your P-TA board. The board can encourage officials to take needed steps.

Or perhaps you're aware of a family without money? The children need shoes and winter clothes, but their parents can't get them. Since funds are available, go to your P-TA welfare chairman and tell her the situation. The help can be given quietly, without embarrassment.

Are your schools crowded? Do you need a bond election so new buildings can be created? If you tell your P-TA president, she can work with her district council to get things started. She can help with the election campaign. And she can arrange to have mothers transport voters to the polls on election day.

Maybe you believe that some of the state school laws are obsolete, and need changing? Take your ideas to your legislative chairman. She can forward them to the state P-TA board, for review. In most states the P-TA is the prime mover in school law reforms. The P-TA doesn't play politics, but politicians listen when it speaks.

Many schools are having their P-TA membership drives this week. Will you join? I hope so. And be sure to help in the work of this great organization all year long. Thank you, friends.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

There Are At Least Two Types Of Shoes That Don't Torture Foot

Van Dellen

There are at least two types of shoe that do not compress the foot or torture the toes. They are well ventilated, easy to keep clean, and cheap. The first is the thong toe type of sandal and the other is the Dutch wooden clog.

Both are comfortable and have been used for centuries in various parts of the world. The thong sandal does not press anywhere and the rubber strap keeps the big toe straight so that the development of bunions is minimized. The clog is said to be most comfortable and it gives metatarsal support, especially when orthopedically carved. It is not conducive to running but the shoe is not made for this purpose.

THE THONG of the oriental type sandal (zories or goaheads) is made of rubber and Dr. Harold Shellow of Chicago has reported several instances of allergic reactions to this substance. An eruption arises in sensitive individuals between the big and adjoining toe as well as along the top of the foot where the thong runs back into the sole of the sandal. The eruption clears when the zories are not worn.

Orthopedically modified wooden clogs are popular in Denmark and are said to give good support for those with flat feet. The best soles are made of alderwood and some have rubber heels, sponge insoles, or metatarsal supports. The tops usually are oxhide. There is plenty of wiggle room when these shoes are worn without laces.

THONG SANDALS offer no protection against the weather, falling bricks, or fellow passengers on a crowded bus. The old fashioned wooden shoe or modified clog offers more along this line. American shoe manufacturers get gray hair trying to design shoes that fit yet have style.

NOT FROM KISSING

I. C. writes: I'm a high school senior and last year I was in the hospital for five weeks with infectious mononucleosis. Ever since, my classmates have been teasing me about the "kissing disease." Please print in your column that the disease does not always come from kissing.

REPLY

Several years ago an army physician blamed the spread of this viral disease on kissing because so many West Point cadets developed it a few weeks after returning from vacation. This cause has not been substantiated and in all probability the disease is spread via the air, direct contact, or contaminated fingers. You should know whether it came from kissing but don't protest too much and your fellow students will stop teasing. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on infectious mononucleosis.

SPINAL CURVATURE

J. H. writes: Besides taking aspirin, can anything be done for backache due to curvature of the spine?

REPLY

Yes. Make a concentrated effort to improve your posture, even to the extent of wearing a brace or special corset. Meanwhile, strengthen the back muscles through exercise.

DISEASES FROM PIGEONS

H. L. M. writes: Do pigeons cause any other disease besides pneumonia?

REPLY

Yes. They have been blamed for many fungal and viral diseases.

ANTI-CANCER DRUGS

W. B. writes: How long do the new drugs arrest the growth of cancer?

REPLY

Some not at all; others, for years. It depends upon the type of cancer and the drug used.

BENDING AFTER SURGERY

L. A. writes: How soon after the gall bladder is removed can a person bend?

REPLY

In a few days, but it might hurt.

Today's Health Hint—If overweight, use smaller plates.

Former Pole Now U.S. Citizen

Kazimierz Janka of Mill Valley, stateless for 17 years, is now a United States citizen.

The civil engineer with Bechtel Inc. of San Francisco was born in Poznan, Poland. During World War II he did forced labor in Germany as a school boy.

In 1945 he returned to Poland to see his mother and was taken into the Polish Army, under Communist rule, and educated until he was 21.

"But he didn't like it," said his wife, Celia Joy Janka, "and he escaped."

As an army deserter, Mrs. Janka added, he made his way to Germany and then to Italy, where he joined General Anders of the Second Polish Corps. He served one year with the corps, which was affiliated with the British Army, and was discharged in England.

"The Polish Army was in exile in England. They set up schools in deserted army camps. Men were given scholarships by the British government through the corps of the exiled Polish government. "Kaz," as Mrs. Janka calls her husband, "won a four year scholarship and became an engineer. He was an alien in England, however.

"Thousands of Poles in Britain became citizens and married British girls," said Mrs. Janka. "We met in London in 1954 and were married in 1955."

In 1957 the Jankas came to the United States on Mrs. Janka's British passport. They live at 222 Meda Lane and are expecting their first child. "We have registered and plan to vote Nov. 6," Mrs. Janka said.

The Jankas like Mill Valley and Sausalito, the latter city reminding them very much of Devon and Cornwall, England.

Janka received his citizenship with 300 others in televised ceremonies at the Masonic Temple in San Francisco during the time of the American Bar Assn. meeting.

Also a new citizen in Mill Valley is Dr. Frank Henning Gotamo Bauer. From Hamburg, Germany, Bauer is a doctor of obstetrics and gynecology.

He and his wife, Lieselotte, and three sons, Walter, 4, Martin, 2, and Christopher, 17 months, live at 60 Linden Lane. The Bauer boys are American-born; Mrs. Bauer has taken out her papers to become a citizen.

Bauer, who was a doctor in Germany, has done specialty training in America. His office is in San Francisco.

Another new citizen who is but 16 months old is Nicola Flora Ebenau. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Ebenau, who were guests of Mrs. W. E. Van Dyke at 112 Edgewood Avenue at the time Nicola received her citizenship. The Ebenau's are Americans; Nicola is adopted. The family is now living in England.

Vehicle Proposal On Tap

Members of the Marin County Board of Education tonight will consider the proposed purchase of three station wagons to be added to an existing fleet of three used to transport physically handicapped children to Marindale School.

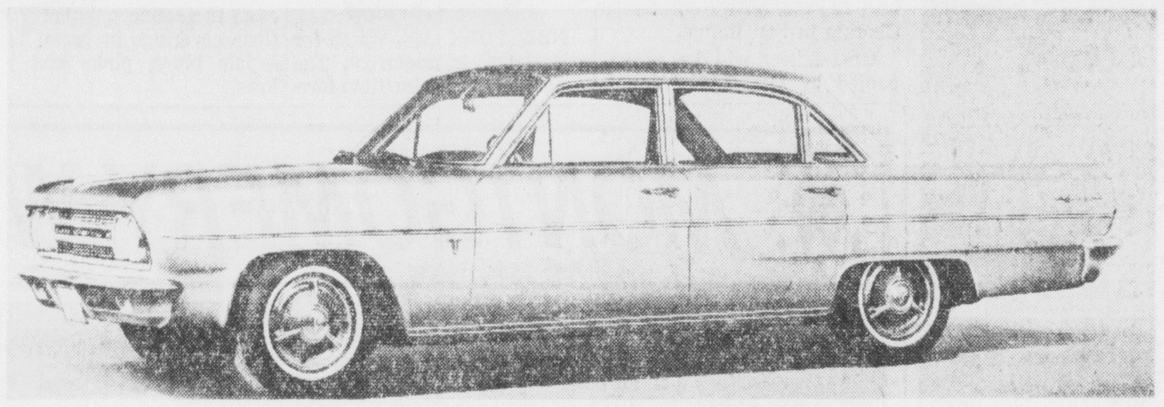
Dr. R. S. Kupfer, assistant superintendent of administrative services, explained that Marindale enrollment has increased by about 20 pupils to a total of 80 this year. He also said that the added station wagons would stop the present practice of having many large buses go out of their way to pick up the retarded pupils at their front doors as required.

Members of the county board will also consider the purchase of a new audio visual truck to replace one that was damaged in an accident on Highway 101 this summer. The panel truck was driven by William E. Morris, assistant in charge of distribution. He was not injured.

Dr. Kupfer said it would probably be better economics to buy a new truck than have the old one repaired. This decision will be up to the board.

Morris, 71, is retiring from his job. The board was to consider the possibility of additional retirement benefits for him that would be available because of previous employment with the schools office. However, the benefits would require an added contribution from him, and he decided not to seek it, Dr. Kupfer said.

The board will also get a report on Mrs. Lillian Anderson, teacher of severly mentally retarded children. She was sick last spring and has only been able to teach four days this fall. She may have to resign, Dr. Kupfer said.



OLDSMOBILE F-85 FOR 1963

All 1963 Oldsmobile F-85 models have been designed to look more like other members of the family. This deluxe sedan typifies the new styling. The F-85 retains its 112-inch wheelbase but has been increased four inches overall. Models will be shown Oct. 4 at Scripture Oldsmobile, San Rafael.

Bus Request Before Council

Six public hearings are scheduled for tonight's meeting of the San Rafael City Council, along with the proposal of Robert L. Peterson, Richard Smith and associates to operate a bus system on city streets.

The council will meet at 8 p.m. with Vice Mayor Charles W. Aby in the chair in the absence of Mayor John F. McInnis, who is in the Soviet Union as leader of a Marin tour.

Public hearings will be held on annexation of Patrick J. Tarrant lands to the city, a protest by Tarrant to conditions imposed by the city planning commission on a proposed new subdivision, amendments to the sign ordinance and subdivision ordinance, and rezoning of Porto Bello between Point San Pedro Road and the San Rafael Canal.

Annexation of Terra Linda Oaks 9, an area outside both the city and the Terra Linda Community Services District, will also be up for consideration. Residents petitioned about 20 months ago for annexation, but delay was necessitated when the area was lumped in with other Terra Linda areas which voted down annexation last year.

The council may act on appointment of successor on the planning commission to Elmer Wechsler, who submitted his resignation last week, and reappointment or replacement of Orlando Conti, whose term has expired.

Commands battalion

Engineer Battalion Gets CO

Robin, employed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Rafael as division sales supervisor, took over command of the California Army National Guard unit, with headquarters in Santa Rosa, on Sept. 17.

Robin is married and the father of three children. He began his military service in 1943 when he enlisted in the Army Air Corps as a private, gaining his commission in 1945 as a pilot.

He joined the 579th Engineer Battalion in 1949 as a second lieutenant and attended the Army Engineer School at Fort Belvoir, Va., three times.

Margaret Knows Her Own Money

A folded $1 bill was turned in to county fair officials.

"Sorry, that isn't mine," said Margaret. "I fold my dollar bills defferently."

Fixture Stolen

Clarence Eugene Cannedy told San Rafael police yesterday that while he and his children were at church and his wife upstairs watching television, someone walked into his home at 420 Prospect Drive and stole a $20 lighting fixture from his dining room ceiling. Nothing else was taken, he said.

Dog Eats Socks From Clothesline

"He just goes up in the air and takes alternate socks," Howard said in a baffled tone.

Several brands of dog repellent have been applied to the socks. Once they were even sprinkled with cayenne pepper.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Manager Of New Mill Valley Car Dealer Is San Rafael Resident

The newly opened Chrysler-Plymouth dealer in Mill Valley—James L. Walker, Inc., 505 Miller Avenue—will have San Rafael resident John M. Brusati as sales manager.

Brusati, for many years at Rossi Garage, San Rafael, has had an extensive background in Chrysler-made products. He'll start immediately, showing off the new models.

CHEDA'S GARAGE (Cheda Chevrolet), Point Reyes Station, has received an AAA award for outstanding service to the motoring public. The award was presented to Adolph Cheda by Joseph B. Rice, a vice president of the California State Automobile Assn.

The west Marin automotive firm has been operated by the Cheda family since 1923 and has been affiliated with CSAA and AAA since that time. A. R. Cheda owned and ran the business until his death in 1956, when his son Adolph took over.

LONGER WARRANTY PERIOD—Both General Motors and Ford Motor Co. have extended their warranty periods on new model passenger cars and trucks to 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first. All lines are covered. This doubles the previous 12-month, 12,000-mile warranties on most models.

ON THE CUFF—That's the way many people would like to buy stocks, according to the San Rafael office of Irving Lundborg and Co., which reports a sizable number of phone calls asking if it's possible to "charge it."

There was a time, many years ago, we understand, when it amounted to virtually just that. At least up to 1929. Not popular since then.

AND SPEAKING of credit, the American Hotel Assn. has settled its litigation against American Express Co. over a variety of technical questions and has agreed to endorse and promote the latter's credit cards among 5,600 member hotels and motels.

EDWARD J. MARTENS of San Rafael has been appointed cashier of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco. He joined the bank in 1928; was appointed assistant cashier in 1958 and assistant vice president in 1961.

HAROLD DE LUCCHI of Lagunitas has been promoted to regional manager of Field Enterprises Educational Corp. for Marin and Sonoma counties. He has been Marin district manager since July, 1961.

The firm publishes World Book Encyclopedia, Childcraft, Cyclo-teacher and World Book Encyclopedia Dictionary.

AWARD WINNERS: Dolly Marsh of the men's clothing department and Gerhard Zimmerman of the shoe department at Montgomery Ward and Co., Corte Madera.

DRESSMAKER Mrs. Millicent Storojev who's been doing her work at home on Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo, has increased business so much it meant larger quarters. She's now in downtown San Anselmo at 36 Magnolia Avenue—lives upstairs, works downstairs.

She has been in the county two years; formerly was associated with House of Charm and Robert Powers.

Bowling Lessons Set For Retarded Children

Bowling lessons for mentally retarded school children will be given from 3 to 4 p.m. each Thursday at Greenbrae Lanes, 101 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae.

Instructor will be Rose Paganini, a certified instructor with experience with the handicapped. A 75-cent fee covers use of the lanes, shoe rental and instruction. Classes are sponsored by Marin Aid to Retarded Children. Those interested may call Mrs. Ruth Ghilotti.

Business Pins Hope On Spending Season

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Now is the time for you to come to the aid of the economy.

And the nation's merchants and many of its industrialists are betting that you will, now that the spending season—known on the business calendar as the fourth quarter—is starting.

Troublesome as the summer quarter was for many industries (notably steel), its overall report card was a lot better than many had feared. With that as a fairly solid base, the October-November-December quarter should follow its seasonal pattern and send consumer spending to new highs.

What may happen in 1963 is something else again, but the signs today are for rising retail sales in the next few weeks and increasing production in many industries at least this month and next.

These widely held expectations are based both on seasonal patterns and on the sound base for much of the economy.

The latter includes high personal incomes and savings, record employment totals, and a fairly calm public acceptance of or resignation to the risks and uncertainties of world and domestic affairs.

Even the stock market breaks of May and June, which alarmed the pulse takers, failed to jolt the public much, beyond making it less inclined to speculate.

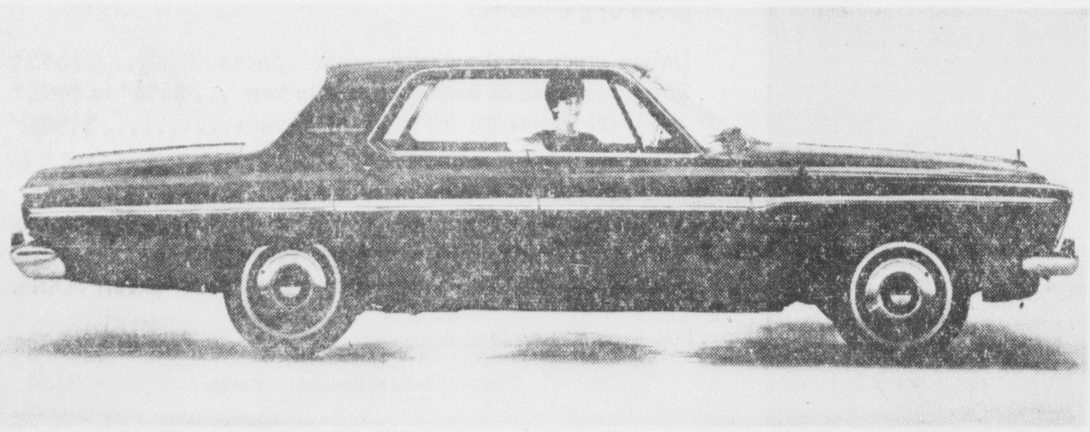
Many merchants count on the final eight to 12 weeks of the year to make the difference between a so-so year and a quite profitable one by providing up to 40 per cent of the year's total sales volume. The pattern is far from universal, however.

Good retail sales volume in coming weeks will put merchants in position to order again from manufacturers.



1963 PLYMOUTH FURY

Sharp new roof line and longer rear deck of the 1963 Plymouth are emphasized in this Fury four-door hardtop. The 1963 Plymouth is three inches longer and an inch wider than 1962 models, but retains its 116-inch wheelbase in all body types. Cars are expected to be available for showing Oct. 3 at Jack L. Hunt and Rossi Garage, San Rafael and at James L. Walker, Inc., Mill Valley.

Dear Maude:—

You said when you found a house of your dreams, it would have to be new, and yet have complete charm, and above all, PRIVACY and a view that went as far as Mt. Diablo, the Bay, and above all, Mt. Tamalpais.

You also made a specific request it must have a different fireplace . . . preferably a massive rock type . . . you said, it must have original design . . . like maybe an amber mullioned glass entry . . . that it had to have 3 large bedrooms with their own private deck . . . that the bathrooms must be elegant . . . that the kitchen must be perfection with every conceivable built-in . . . that it must have a fabulous living room with a gigantic deck and above all . . . NO GARDENING! You certainly asked for everything possible that would be in a perfect home . . . AND we finally found it . . . for only $26,500! Get over here quick and bring your check book!

P.S.—We didn't forget your low-down-payment request either —we have a most agreeable seller!

Wheels Stolen From Stalled Car

So she left her 1959 Rambler station wagon sitting on a fire trail overlooking North San Pedro Road for the night and walked home to 11 Roosevelt Avenue, Santa Venetia.

At 10 a.m. she went with her husband, Robert, to get the car and found two wheels and tires missing. They left to get a tire. On return at 1:30 p.m. the Owens discovered someone had returned and taken the remaining three tires — and attempted to remove the radio and radiator.

Sanitary Directors Will Be Seated

SUNNY HILLS BENEFIT

Much Work Goes Into Grape Fete

Among the first to arrive at the Sunny Hills Grape Festival site in San Anselmo Saturday morning—and among the last to leave that night — will be Mre. Helen Zweig of Kentfield.

When she and her 15-year-old son John arrive Saturday morning, they'll just be going back to work. Mrs. Zweig has been on the job at the festival site already for some days. For she is general chairman for the Grape Festival, a job she's held for nine years.

It is her responsibility to see that all is in readiness for smooth handling of the 7,000 adults and children who will throng through the Sunny Hills Presbyterian Home grounds within eight hours for the annual fund-raising carnival.

It's far from a one-man (or one-woman) job, however, Mrs. Zweig points out. The Grape Festival has help from many volunteers.

To control insect pests on the site where vast quantities of food are sold during the festival, Jack Phillips of Sohner Tree Service and Nathan Erb of Erb Tree Service are on the job early.

In addition to spraying all ant hills, Phillips and his workers haul in greenery to decorate the festival booths.

Erb is the festival's one-man bee controller. He started this nine years ago after a bee-infested Grape Festival at which 36 persons, including the chairman, were stung.

Erb starts his work a month ahead of the big day, to make sure there is no concentration of bees within a quarter mile of the festival grounds.

"Our most successful counterattack is fish," he says. "Markets donate slightly ripe fish heads and tails, and these are hung in the high branches of trees. They keep what bees are left busy up top, so they aren't so interested in the food down below. We use both cod and salmon, but my personal feeling is that the bees prefer the salmon."

A problem of a different nature for Mrs. Zweig is having a supply of electricity sufficient to keep the ice cream cold and the tamale pie hot.

Here she is helped by Pacific Gas and Electric Co., whose men this year have installed a second power pole with connections for the numerous refrigerators and stoves.

The city not only gives permission for the festival to operate, but puts its own manpower to work for the event.

Fire Chief Nello M. Marcucci makes sure that a manned fire truck is on the festival grounds throughout the day, in case of any outbreak of fire in the wooded, booth-filled area.

The San Anselmo Police Department, head by Chief Raymond R. Buchignani and Asst. Chief Sam N. Serio, keep the festival grounds manned from Friday through Sunday. Additional police are put to work to control the great amount of traffic generated on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard by the festival.

Saturday is our busiest day of the year," says Chief Buchignani, "and we have five men and a sergeant on duty all day long."

Even though the Grape Festival booths are readied the day before the event, "we've never lost anything," says Mrs. Zweig, "because of the fine cooperation of San Anselmo police in providing men on the field and radio patrol cars for overnight guard."

Another major chore is that of David Nichols of D. J. Nichols Construction Co. and Bernhard Foster, consultant and field director. Between them they oversee setting up of the whole grounds, from construction of booths and repair of tables to placing of refrigerators.

The team work pays off. "It's amazing how smoothly everything goes," says Mrs. Zweig, as she prepares to put in long and hard hours to make sure that it does.

County Farm Going Before Board Of Supervisors For Discussion

Future uses of the Marin County Convalescent Hospital and Farm may again be before the board of supervisors tomorrow for discussion.

Bracing of the hospital walls was completed last May, but the job was only to cover a two-year "emergency situation" until bed patients would be removed and the hospital would cease operation as a nursing home, according to a board resolution in February.

H. M. Engle, engineer in charge of the bracing project, has reminded the board of the temporary nature of the reconstruction and suggests a "complete project," estimated to cost $145,000.

County Administrator Alan Bruce has suggested that if the hospital buildings on Lucas Valley Road are to be used only for ambulatory residents and juvenile hall offices, further reconstruction may be unnecessary.

Bruce will submit information to the board on possible uses of the hospital, asking no action on Engle's proposal until a final decision is made as to the hospital's future.

Other items on the board's agenda, which opens at 9 a.m., include reports on installation of fixtures at the civic center and proposed "house rules" for the civic center.

Adult Classes Enrollment Down

Enrollment in the adult evening classes of the Tamalpais District is down from that of last year, but students are still being accepted for some courses, Principal Harry G. Russell has announced.

Total registration for classes at Sir Francis Drake High, Tamalpais High, and Marin City is 790. At the end of September last year the enrollment totaled 941. The previous year it was 821.

"Individual and Family Survival," scheduled at both Tam and Drake, a chorus class at Tam, and underwater safety at Drake have been discontinued. "Law for the Layman," may also be closed if enrollment does not increase, Russell said. It is taught on Tuesdays, 7:30 to 9:30, by Phillip W. Hoffmire at the Drake campus.

State Jr. College Conference Planned

Plans for the 34th conference of the California Junior College Student Government Assn., Nov. 15-17 at Asilomar, will be made by a committee of students of College of Marin, Napa Junior College and Santa Rosa Junior College tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. on the Kentfield campus.

The three colleges will jointly host the semi-annual conference. Marc Mezzetta, last spring's president of Associated Students of College of Marin, will be presiding officer.

Westmont Freshman

Linda Allison of Fairfax has enrolled as a freshman at Westmont College, Santa Barbara, it was announced today.

Tamalpais Union High School district trustees tonight may designate a site for a high school in the Tiburon area.

A'leen Runkle of the county planning staff has said results of a re-examination of four sites will be given to the district trustees in time for their meeting at 8 p.m. in district headquarters at Redwood High School, Larkspur.

Trustees will consider awarding a contract for a pump station on Lucky Drive and two 18-inch lines for drainage from the Redwood High School grounds.

The board will receive a new report from Corte Madera residents living east of Highway 101 who have requested bus transportation for students to Redwood High.

Winberry is the second Boy Scout since the formation of Troop 27 in 1942 to be awarded the highest rank in scouting. He is a member of the Order of the Arrow.

The Marin County Assn. of Lions Clubs, representing the 12 member clubs in the county, pledged cooperation at a meeting Friday night at the Ranch House in San Rafael. Mrs. Marcelle McCoy, coordinator of the dedication program, asked their assistance.

The Marin Civic Center Lions Club will be asked to coordinate the project, association members voted.
